Marin Bond Issue Proposed For Tax Relief To Elderly

Supervisors Studying Delayed Payment Idea

By FRANK FARRARA

The Marin County Board of Supervisors, seeking a way to provide tax relief for older property owners on limited incomes, may turn toward a bond issue.

A plan discussed yesterday would call for placing a general obligation bond issue on the November ballot to finance a tax-relief program for the oldsters.

Under this proposal, it could be possible to reduce property taxes for older residents at no expense to other taxpayers, supervisors reported.

In effect, the property owner's taxes would be paid after his death either by his heirs or through the sale of his property.

Such a system of tax relief could be a "forerunner for similar programs throughout the state," said Supervisor Peter H. Behr. "We can't forgive all taxes or we'd go broke," he said.

PAYMENT PLAN

Supervisors discussed a deferred payment plan whereby the homeowner would be allowed a reduction of $100 a year or more a year on his property tax. The amount of the reduction would then be paid to the county treasury from the proceeds of the bond issue.

The property owner would pay a 7 per cent interest charge on his accrued property tax until he sold his home or died. This would cover the interest on the bonds, and the cost of administering the program, and provide a small reserve for emergencies.

On the death of the property owner, all accrued property taxes would be paid by the heirs or through the sale of his property within six months. These funds would be used to pay off the bonds.

"This suggested method may not turn out to be the proper one, but it is a possible breakthrough," Behr said.

BEING PINCHED

Chairman William A. Gnoss said the plan is to provide tax relief to older persons who have lived in the county for years and want to stay here, but are being pinched by taxes beyond their capacity to pay.

In some cases a $10-a-month tax break may mean the difference between getting along and being forced on relief, Behr said.

There are 900 owner-occupied homes in Marin, headed by persons 60 years of age or older, where the total household income is $1,000 a year or less, Behr reported.

There are 800 homes in the same category with incomes between $1,000 and $2,000 and an additional 800 homes with incomes between $2,000 and $3,000, he said.

Behr suggested that a committee of experts from various occupational fields be formed to devise a workable tax relief plan.

Supervisors authorized County Administrator Alan Bruce, Auditor-Controller Michael Mitchell and Assessor Bert W. Broemmel to submit a list of occupational fields that should be represented on the committee by next Tuesday's meeting of the supervisors.

Supervisors also suggested that Broemmel take a trip to Oregon to study that state's system of providing tax relief.

Brown Signs Marin Rapid Transit Bill

Creation of a rapid transit district in Marin County is now up to the voters.

Enabling legislation, introduced by Assemblyman William T. Bagley (R-San Rafael) in the state Assembly and pushed in the Senate by Sen. John F. McCarthy (R-San Rafael), was signed into law yesterday by Gov. Edmund G. Brown.

The next step will be for the Marin County Board of Supervisors to pass a resolution or for a petition to be presented to the supervisors by at least 25 per cent of the total vote cast at the last general election.

Upon adoption of a resolution or a sufficient petition, the supervisors must hold a public hearing on the question. After the hearing or hearings, the supervisors may set an election.

A majority vote is required to create the Marin County Transit District.

Such a district may levy a tax up to five cents per $100 assessed valuation.

This was the third rapid transit bill signed this session. The others were for Los Angeles and San Mateo counties.

A similar bill for Marin was vetoed last year by the governor on grounds that he wanted a Bay Area-wide transit dis-

Hospital Hearing Witness Is Silent

The first witness called yesterday to testify in the hearing on Dr. Stanford W. Ascherman's request for surgical privileges at Marin General Hospital refused to take the stand.

As a result, Harold F. Riede, attorney for the Marin Hospital District, said he would seek a Marin superior court order to compel Dr. Leonard Rosenman to testify at a later hearing.

Rosenman's attorney, Robert R. Maclean of San Francisco, said he would not allow his client to testify without the guarantee of immunity which a witness is granted in regular court proceedings.

The hearing officer, John D. McDonough, said there was no statute giving the officer or the district board power to enforce a subpoena but there was a precedent established in a case ruled on by a district court of appeal.

MacLean indicated that he would allow Rosenman to testify, and that other doctors and hospital administrators named by Ascherman in two lawsuits in San Francisco would testify, if a court ruled that the board and the hearing officer had quasi-judicial powers.

Ascherman is seeking a reversal of the board's denial of surgical privileges at the hospital because of lack of evidence of his medical proficiency.

Riede filed a bill of particulars, which serves as a charge in the hearing, containing 22 counts. They include the operation on a young Air Force sergeant's wife which was "unnecessary radical surgery performed on the subject, resulting in severance of facial nerves and permanent facial paralysis."

The bill also states that while Ascherman was a doctor in the Air Force in 1956 and 1957 he showed up in an operating room in street clothes eating a sandwich and performed frequent minor surgeries without being gloved, which resulted in the patients being infected.

A number of surgical cases in San Francisco are cited, including one operation in which the senior resident doctor of a hospital allegedly had to step in after Ascherman made five unsuccessful attempts to close a Colles fracture (a kind of arm fracture).

Ascherman is also accused of lack of professional ethics in splitting fees with a San Francisco doctor and soliciting other doctors' patients.

Driver Looks For Address —Then Wham!

A Petaluma driver took his eyes off the road to look for a house number as he drove through a Novato residential section yesterday; moments later, his car crashed into another, sending it careening over the curb onto a lawn and putting both drivers in a hospital.

Jack A. Henderson, 54, of 4 Willow Avenue, Corte Madera, whose 1961 Ford station wagon was knocked onto the front lawn of the home of Sara V. Culley at 1378 Monte Maria Avenue, was reported in fair condition today in Novato General Hospital, with broken ribs and other injuries.

John Patrick McDonough, 19, of Petaluma, the driver who told police he was looking up for a house number, was treated at the same hospital for a bruised arm, then served with a police citation charging failure to yield the right of way.

Novato police said McDonough was eastbound on Monte Maria Avenue and Henderson was driving north on Cambridge Street at 4:40 p.m. when the former's car hit the left side of the latter's station wagon in the intersection of the two streets.

Henderson and the front seat of his car were thrown out, landing in the street. The driverless car skidded sideways over the curbing and broke down a small tree in the Culley yard.

U.S. May Send Troops To Threatened Thailand

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The United States today discussed the possibility of sending American troops to Thailand as the State Department took a tougher tone toward Communist aggression in neighboring Laos.

Thai Ambassador Sukich Nimmanheminda discussed the mounting Red peril in Southeast Asia with a top U.S. official and then told reporters that the United States is considering sending troops to that country. The envoy declared that his government has not requested such forces but said such a move was "good and possible."

There were other signs that the United States was viewing the Laos situation with increased concern.

Adlai E. Stevenson, U.S. ambassador to the United Nations, was ordered back from London by Secretary of State Dean Rusk to discuss the Laos situation tomorrow before the world organization.

In Southeast Asia, neutralist forces fought desperately to halt the Communist Pathet Lao advance in the strategic Plain of Jars area. Thailand, meanwhile, reinforced its border garrisons as a precautionary measure. The United States sent troops to Thailand in 1962 when it felt threatened by Communist forces in Laos.

The Thai ambassador said after a conference with U.S. Assistant Secretary of State William P. Bundy that the United States is taking a "very, very serious view" of the breakdown of the Laos neutrality accord.

San Rafael To Host Native Sons Parade

The Grand Parlor of the Native Sons of the Golden West will have its Admission Day parade and celebration in San Rafael Sept. 9, 1965.

San Rafael was selected for the parade at a Grand Parlor convention in Eureka today. The parade resolution was introduced by delegates of all Marin parlors, Mount Tamalpais, Sea Point, Nicasio and Fairfax, reported Raymond Shone of San Rafael, past grand president.

Fairfax Board Considering Double Session

The Fairfax School District board last night gave serious consideration to double sessions for first and second graders next school year.

The move was considered for next school year as a means of obtaining four needed classrooms. A fifth classroom could be obtained by converting the Central School library to a classroom, Supt. Homer Sisk said.

About 40 parents were present last night, participating in the discussion and suggesting other possibilities. These included lease of buildings in the community, rental or purchase of portable classrooms, and some type of construction program.

Trustees put off any decision until an adjourned meeting at 8 p.m. June 2 at Central School. Sometime during that meeting, the board hopes to know the results of the Tamalpais Unified School District to be voted on that day. Sisk said the election results will have a bearing on the Fairfax board's decision.

Skunk Found Rabid; 12th During Year

This year has become Marin's worst in the rabid skunk department, the Marin County Health Department reported today.

A skunk shot and killed by Sheriff's Sgt. Robert Bertrand near Fairfax Monday proved today, after health department tests, to be rabid. It was the 12th rabid skunk reported so far this year.

This tops the previous record set in 1955 when 11 cases of rabies were reported. Seven were skunks, three were foxes and one was a raccoon.

The worst year for rabies in Marin County was 1928 when 40 dogs, two calves and one cat were stricken by rabies.

Bertrand was on his way back to the sheriff's substation in Point Reyes Station Monday when the Fairfax police reported a skunk was acting strangely on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard near the Twin Oaks Apartments.

Two youths, Mike Stanley, 9, and Cris d'Orgeix, 13, both of Forest Knolls, had observed the skunk for about 40 minutes before reporting it to police. Bertrand said the skunk fell over while he watched it. It was having trouble breathing.

12-Story Retirement Residence Is Rejected

The Larkspur Planning Commission last night turned down the request for a 12-story retirement residence off Via Holon before an overflow crowd in the city council chambers.

The commission's unanimous vote came after it decided parking provisions were inadequate for the Tamalpais Retirement Residence, which would house 340 residents and have 40 employees.

The developers, headed by Dr. John C. Siemens of Valley Investment Co., were told they could appeal the denial of the use permit and variance for the 12-story structure to the city council.

About 80 persons crowded into the council chambers. Those who addressed the commission, about 30, were evenly divided on whether the retirement residence should be allowed, according to commission chairman Henry Taylor.

The use permit was denied on the basis that "the parking as planned is inadequate."

The city's planning consultant, John D. Erickson, pointed out in his report that the proposed building "would create a conspicuous hilltop landmark in the area."

Most of the arguments against the proposal from the audience were based on the height of the building, while most persons agreed there was a need for the facility in the area.

The commission agreed that the applicants had not shown sufficient proof of hardship in the demonstration of need for the 140-foot height variance.

U.S. Protests Microphones Found In Moscow Embassy

Searching For Others In Building

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. security agents have dug more than 40 secret microphones out of the walls of the American Embassy building in Moscow during the past month and are searching for others which may still be hidden in the building.

Officials are investigating to determine if any important secret information was obtained by the Soviets through the microphone network.

Ambassador Foy D. Kohler has made a formal protest to the Soviet government over the listening devices.

The story of the hidden microphones was disclosed by the State Department yesterday. A statement by the department's security chief, G. Marvin Gentile, said indications are the devices were "placed in the building prior to its occupancy by the United States" 11 years ago.

The building was assigned to the United States by the Soviet government for use as an embassy in 1952 and was occupied in the spring of 1953.

Officials said that not counting the newly found network, since 1949 more than 130 listening devices of various types were discovered and removed from U.S. Embassy buildings in Moscow and other Eastern European capitals.

They said any information losses which may have occurred through the microphone network were probably limited by "the measures taken for protection against such a possibility."

FOUND IN EMBASSIES—A State Department security man holds one of the more than 40 microphones which the department says were found in the American Embassy in Moscow. Below, on display in Washington are listening devices uncovered in other iron curtain U.S. embassies. (AP Wirephoto)

This apparently referred to the fact that all employees of embassies in Communist countries are warned frequently that their offices and residences may be bugged and are cautioned against discussing secret information where it might be picked up.

The microphones were dug out of the eighth, ninth and 10th floors of the Moscow embassy. It is on these floors that Kohler and his principal aides have their offices. Kohler's is on the ninth floor.

Officials said the Moscow embassy has been checked repeatedly for hidden microphones during the last 11 years. Recently it was decided to make a more exhaustive investigation, using demolition techniques — in other words, tearing up some of the walls. Official information did not make it clear why this decision was reached at this time.

Rocky Declares GOP Will Shun Barry's Stand

New Yorker Stumps California To Avert Goldwater Landslide

RIVERSIDE (AP) — Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller said today he doesn't believe a majority of his party's voters will regard Sen. Barry Goldwater's political philosophy as "responsible Republicanism."

The New York governor, with the campaign field all to himself until next Monday, stepped up his attacks on his lone opponent in California's presidential primary—a test he said could make or break their battle for the nomination.

"This is it, in my opinion," he said of the June 2 election in a radio program yesterday.

Earlier he said that if Goldwater wins the race for California's 86 delegate votes it might put him over the 655 needed for the nomination at the Republican National Convention in July.

FIRST VOTE OR NEVER

But, he added, if Goldwater doesn't cinch it on the first ballot, "then he won't get it at all." The Arizona senator expects to go into the San Francisco convention with more than 500 delegates. Rockefeller has 28, but is counting on all of New York's 92.

Opening his final swing in Southern California, Rockefeller repeatedly singled out instances where he said Goldwater differed with former President Dwight D. Eisenhower and other "responsible" party leaders.

He said his upset victory in Oregon, where he ran ahead of Henry Cabot Lodge and Goldwater in a six-way contest, indicated the direction the voters want the GOP to take.

'MINORITY VIEW'

"At stake is whether the Republican party shall remain a party of progress, moderation and responsibility, or whether it shall leave the mainstream of American political thought and action and represent the narrow doctrinaire views of a small minority," he said in a statewide television appearance from Los Angeles Tuesday night.

In a speech prepared for California Baptist College in Riverside today, Rockefeller said that Goldwater is out of step with his party and the times.

FISCAL CHARGES

He said:

Goldwater's advocacy of voluntary social security would bankrupt the system;

His proposal to abolish graduated features of income taxes amounts to "fiscal irresponsibility";

His demand to end foreign economic aid would play into the hands of the Communists.

Rockefeller cited, too, Goldwater's statements that he favors withdrawing recognition of Russia and quitting the United Nations if Red China gets in.

"Would these steps . . . help to preserve peace and extend human freedom in the world?" he asked.

KHRUSHCHEV CAPTIVATES WHITE DOVE

CAIRO (UPI)—A white dove which landed on Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's arm at the Aswan Dam site last week will end up in a cage at the Kremlin.

The dove was one of many released on the banks of the Nile while Khrushchev, with President Gamal Abdel Nasser at his side, stood on the deck of a steamer to watch the sealing of a cofferdam which completed the first stage of the Aswan Dam.

The dove flew straight to the steamer, touched down on Khrushchev's arm, inched upward to his shoulder and tickled his cheek with its beak. Khrushchev, beaming, handed it to Mrs. Nasser.

President Nasser ordered the dove to be fed, caged and shipped to the Kremlin.

Death Ship Survivors Back On Land

LONG BEACH (UPI)—Survivors from the fireswept Norwegian vessel Sandanger in which 10 persons died arrived last night, exhausted and pensive, recalling an experience that was "just like being in hell."

"It sounded like a boiler explosion," said Sandanger electrician Lars Helmbeck, 36. "It was like being in hell."

But facts about what happened aboard the 451-foot passenger-freighter remained obscure. Local Norwegian Consul Gustav Hieberg will investigate the fire.

Forty-five persons, including a mother and her three small children, were rescued. Ten persons died.

Sandanger skipper Capt. John Kellmer, two stewardesses and six paid passengers, all from California, still are missing.

Second Mate Rolz Kruger said the fire started "so fast it was like an explosion."

The passengers quarters were located beneath the bridge on the second desk. Observers said apparently they were trapped in their rooms and could not escape the intense heat and smoke.

Chief Mate Ranger Kruger gave the order to abandon ship after the crew tried for two hours to extinguish the blaze.

Two lifeboats were destroyed by the blaze. Survivors were lowered in the two remaining lifeboats and taken aboard a West German rescue ship almost immediately.

Governor Wallace Is A Winning Loser

BALTIMORE (UPI) — Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace, a 42 per cent showing in Maryland's presidential primary under his belt, left for his home state today insisting "if it had been a general election, we could have carried the state."

And yet the segregationist said he was honestly "surprised" at the number of votes he polled. Wallace said he had anticipated the support of only 25 per cent of the state's Democratic primary voters.

FIRST BALLOT

In his bid for the first ballot pledges of Maryland's 48 delegates to the party's convention this summer, Wallace lost out to U.S. Sen. Daniel Brewster who fronted for President Lyndon B. Johnson.

But Wallace, obviously elated with his drawing power in Maryland, last midnight looked upon the turnout as the greatest victory so far in his fight to three states outside of the deep South — Wisconsin, Indiana and Maryland.

In the latter, a border state, he has made the best showing. He polled 31 per cent of the total Democratic vote in Wisconsin and 34 per cent in Indiana.

SPEAKS TWICE

Wallace lost the election but defeat was hardly the impression he or any of his backers gave at election returns headquarters last night. The governor spoke twice before the crowd and each time was greeted with a combination of wild applause, rebel yells and uninhibited cheers that lasted fully four minutes.

The response prompted the segregationist to comment, as he had in Wisconsin and Indiana: "If I'm ever run out of Alabama, I know now another state I can come to."

The crowd answered in a loud, strong chant: Wallace for president, Wallace for president.

"You people of Maryland have done a great service to the nation," said Wallace.

"So have you, governor," one campaign worker shouted solo. She added, "at least you gave us a little bit of education on the civil rights bill."

Wallace resumed. "The people of this country owe a debt of gratitude to the people of this great sovereign state. You have shown there is a new trend against the use of federal force."

The crowd went wild. Confederate flags were raised and many youngsters sang their own brand of "Freedom Song."

Students, Police Fight

SEOUL, Korea (AP) — Students protesting the Japan-South Korea normalization talks clashed with police in demonstrations at Seoul and Tokyo today. About 1,000 left-wing Japanese students staged a sitdown and ignored blasts from fire hoses after police halted their march toward the Foreign Ministry.

Stage Teacher In Hot Water On 'Dirty' Play

UNDERWOOD, N.D. (UPI)—A high school drama teacher suspended when he tried to stage a Noel Coward play which irate parents claim is "dirty," said today he doesn't know how to get his job back.

Robert Gambs, 27, "can't decide what to do." The school board suspended Gambs when some parents objected to certain lines in the play, "Fumed Oak." The parents said the lines were "dirty."

The play is about a man who got bored with married life, saved his money and took off for a new life in the South Seas.

Gambs had distributed copies of the play to about 30 students. Parents got hold of the play, called for a special school board meeting and pressed for the teacher's suspension.

The North Dakota Education Association rushed to Gambs' defense, and said it would try to get him reinstated. An executive director said the board may have allowed itself to be stampeded into hasty action.

Arab Truce Hinted

ADEN (AP) — About 300 rebel tribesmen have gathered in the Radfan hills, prompting British speculation that they may be discussing peace overtures to the government of the Federation of South Arabia.

The main diet of most predatory animals consists of rats, mice, gophers and other small rodents.

WIRE NEWS BRIEFS From Everywhere

Lawmaker Would Retire Elders

WASHINGTON (AP)—A constitutional amendment that would prevent anyone over 70 from running for Congress is being proposed by a 67-year-old foe of the seniority system.

Rep. Everett G. Burkhalter, (D-Calif.), whose blast several weeks ago at the old-timers in control startled his colleagues, follows up today by introducing legislation to retire them.

His bill would limit senators to three 6-year terms, representatives to five 4-year terms, and declare that no one could be elected after reaching 70.

Lady Bird's Farm Profits Small

BILLINGSLEY, Ala. (AP)—Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson's farm in Alabama brought her a net profit of only $284.23 last year, Wallace Canterbury, her overseer, said yesterday. Income from the farm in 1963 was $2,463.41 and her expenses $2,179.18.

Canterbury said he once tried to persuade Mrs. Johnson to put the farm in the soil bank realizing as much as $5,000 annual profit that way.

She decided not to displace the tenants.

FBI Confiscates Private Armory

CLINTON, Ill. (AP)—U.S. Treasury agents have seized a stockpile of machine guns, flame throwers, mortars and explosives and arrested a one-time Illinois leader of "The Minutemen," a nationwide anti-Communist group.

The agents, who posed for weeks as middlemen for an unnamed foreign weapons buyers, said they paid $17,000 to Richard Lauchi, 37, for the arms in an abandoned barn. The agents also arrested Donald Sturgis, 36.

An inventory showed at least 100 submachine guns, five 50-caliber tripod-mounted machine guns, a flame thrower and several aerial bombs.

In addition, Treasury agents raided Lauchi's home and confiscated more submachine guns.

Dope Smuggling

YOKOHAMA, Japan (AP) — A Chinese cook on the American liner President Wilson and the Chinese owner of a Yokohama bar have been arrested on charges of smuggling $830,000 worth of heroin into Japan.

A recent Treasury Department request to mint more silver dollars was turned down by Congress because existing mint facilities are hard pressed to meet the demand for smaller coins.

Mall Gets Fancy Name

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The multimillion-dollar mall that will beautify Los Angeles' civic center now has an official name: El Paseo de los Pobledores de Los Angeles. Translation: The Walk of the First Settlers of Los Angeles.

Forty years ago, Washington had only one real suburb, Chevy Chase, Md.

Yank Is Killed By Viet Cong

SAIGON (UPI) — Another American was killed and a second wounded by Communist gunfire on a patrol against Viet Cong guerrillas, it was announced today.

A U. S. spokesman said an enlisted man died in the attack yesterday and his commanding officer was wounded. He said the machine gun fire came from a Communist ambush 45 miles northwest of Saigon.

The names of the Americans were withheld.

The spokesman said the two members of the U. S. Special Forces were on an "operational patrol."

State Highway Powers Ruled

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — The California Highway Commission has been given "sweeping powers" to alter or change highway locations and need not get approval from local planning commissions, the attorney general ruled yesterday.

But it is "the rule of the commission" to advise local bodies of its plans and to hold public hearings, the opinion said.

It was requested by Siskiyou County Dist. Atty. Albert H. Newton Jr., who asked if the highway commission wasn't required to abide by a master plan of the county planning commission.

"State highways are a matter of state-wide concern as distinguished from the authority over municipal affairs granted to cities by . . . the constitution," the opinion said.

Bus Employees Win Pay Hike

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A new two-year contract, including a cost of living clause, gives Greyhound employees in 11 Western states, an immediate 10-cents-an-hour raise.

The pact calls for eight more cents the second year, said Roger Cross, secretary of the AFL-CIO Council of Western Greyhound Amalgamated Divisions, as he announced approval yesterday.

It is retroactive to March 1.

Envoy's Estate Listed

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — James D. Zellerbach, former U.S. Ambassador to Italy, left a $5,659,342 fortune when he died at the age of 71 last Aug. 3. An appraisal of his estate disclosed yesterday that Zellerbach left about $850,000 to six charitable and cultural groups and half the remaining estate to his wife, Mrs. Hanna Fuld Zellerbach. The rest was divided equally between his two sons, James D. Jr. and Richard C. Zellerbach.

EDUCATION BOARD SEEK BUDGET CUT

Elimination Of Publications Officer Suggested As Way To Achieve Decrease

The San Rafael Board of Education is seeking further budget cuts to bolster reserve funds.

After a short budget session last night, board members asked Supt. Bert C. Corona to scan the budget again to see what can be cut, and report next Monday.

Corona reported reserves in both elementary and high school district budgets are below the minimum level.

Board Member Bella H. Aaron suggested the publications office be abolished and those funds used for educational purposes, particularly in a program for educationally handicapped children.

Mrs. Aaron said her request was "no reflection" on the work of Mrs. Lillian Seaver, publications officer, "but one of the things we have to give up to meet our commitments."

Before its open session, the board held a closed session for discussion of the job of publications officer.

Board Member John M. Bagshaw said he realized the need for communication, but felt the job could be done "less expensively," possibly with help from journalism students.

Board member Carl J. Brown said it is good to have communication between the schools and the public and this has been accomplished through the publications office.

Abolishing the publications budget would make about $11,000 available for transfer, but it would not bring the reserves up to the minimum, said Board Member Walter J. Doll.

Mrs. Seaver's salary is $7,440 a year and the remainder of the publications budget includes printing costs of bulletins and brochures and a part-time clerk.

Doll suggested there are other areas of the budget that could be adjusted. "I'm still unconvinced about extra-curricular salaries proposed in the budget," he said.

When he mentioned the possibility of increasing some class sizes, Mrs. Aaron and Bagshaw quickly objected.

Mrs. Aaron said she would never consider increasing classloads. Bagshaw said it was a struggle to reduce the classloads and would not be good planning to increase them now.

Corona reported that by increasing each class by one student, there would be a saving of $52,000. The current policy is one teacher for each 29 students.

Mrs. L. C. Jim Gilliland of 15 Robinhood Drive said communications had been poor in the district and the creation of a publications office had bridged the gap.

The board did not discuss proposed salary schedules, but members indicated they are considering granting a salary increase.

During the discussion about cutting items, Mrs. Aaron said, "I would like to see Bert (Corona) make some cuts so we can meet the salary increase." She said the board should make an effort to give salary increases that are not unreasonable.

The current salary schedule ranges from $5,100 to $10,030. The San Rafael chapter of the California Teachers Assn. has asked for a schedule ranging from $5,250 to $10,690, with a $150 a year bonus for anyone who has been at the top of his pay scale for five years or more. The board also is studying a salary schedule ranging from $5,200 to $10,500.

The board received a letter from Herbert E. Steinberg, owner of World Book News in downtown San Rafael, backing a teacher raise.

The board also received a letter from Mrs. Beverly Wormuth of the teachers' education, test and professional standards committee requesting that the board include funds in the budget for noon supervision, to relieve teachers from noon duty.

The 1964-65 budget for the high school district is $3,440,400 and for the elementary district $2,594,587.

The tentative budget will be adopted next month and a public hearing will be held Aug. 4.

Stolen Auto Found Before It's Missed

Fairfax police reported a stolen car yesterday, but there was a difference.

This time they reported it to the owner, George Morse of 148 Toyon Drive, Fairfax, who didn't know it was missing.

According to San Rafael police, Morse's car was discovered in Petaluma, and Petaluma police notified Fairfax police, who notified Morse.

Morse had taken his car in for repairs at Dave's Union Service Station, Second Street and Lincoln Avenue, San Rafael, last week, and believed it was still there, police reported.

David Munro, station manager, said he last saw the car Saturday and thought Morse had picked it up.

Munro was to go to Petaluma to get the car, police reported.

Sanitary District Hires Advisors

Tamalpais Valley Sanitary District directors last night hired their district engineer, Edward B. Beattie of Mill Valley, and a lawyer, Edwin N. Ness of Kentfield, as the first step toward setting up an assessment district to bring Tamalpais Woods into the district.

This culminates more than a year of work, said Director Bruce Gillette today. He said more than 50 per cent of Tamalpais Woods property owners have signed a petition requesting the district.

Sewer Board Approves New Subdivision Line

Richardson Bay Sanitary District directors last night authorized agreements for sewers for the Reedland Woods subdivision northeast of Bel Aire school and Hawthorne Garden apartments between Reed Boulevard and South Knoll Road.

The board adjourned to 8 p.m. Tuesday to further consider revisions to its ordinances, according to Secretary Samuel A. Fletcher.

Marinites On KPFA

Dr. Kurt Schlesinger, a psychiatrist, and Dr. Louis Wasserman, political science professor at San Francisco State College, both Mill Valleyans, will speak at 8:45 p.m. today on radio station KPFA on Robert Ardrey's book, "African Genesis." They will be joined by Dr. Lawrence Swan of the biology department at San Francisco State College.

203 File Suit Over Goheen Deal On Land

Two hundred and three plaintiffs are listed in a foreclosure suit filed yesterday in Marin Superior Court against George C. Goheen Sr. of Mill Valley, involving nearly 340 acres of Larkspur land.

Both attorneys for the plaintiffs and the Goheen Construction Co. said today, however, the suit is only a negotiated method for clearing titles to the property and out-of-court settlement is expected soon.

Plaintiffs in yesterday's action are asking a judgement of foreclosure in the amount of $320,000—plus 10 per cent interest from May 19, 1960 — from defendants George C. Goheen, Marin Capital Co., and Marin Title Guarantee Co., and that the property be sold as one unit to the highest bidder.

The property, almost all within the city limits of Larkspur excepting one parcel near Alto, was originally purchased for subdivision by a Goheen group from J. H. Scott, a Goheen spokesman said. Purchase was financed by Los Angeles trust deed and mortgage exchange, but Goheen claimed he received only about $300,000 of his scheduled $600,000 loan from the exchange.

Three foreclosure suits have since been filed in behalf of a portion of persons holding deeds resulting from the loan. Walter Atkinson, Los Angeles attorney for the plaintiffs in yesterday's suit, said it is only a "standby action" to protect rights of the plaintiffs against any possible statute of limitations default.

He said satisfactory negotiation is under way by Goheen for purchase of the trust deeds and under terms of the settlement, the property will "almost certainly" be purchased by Goheen and his group.

Drizzle Dampens Much Of Marin

The early morning dew turned into a drizzle in some areas of Marin today, but it was hardly enough to wet the dust.

Most rain was recorded at Woodacre where .03 of an inch fell. Point Reyes Station, Novato, Mill Valley and San Rafael reported a trace.

Anti-Right-Wing Bill Is Revived

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — A bill designed to stack the Republican State Central Committee against militant right-wingers was revived and approved today by the Senate rules committee.

It was killed a week ago by being tabled on a voice vote.

The bill was authored by Assemblyman Tom Bane (D-North Hollywood) and passed the Assembly 60-5. It would boost from five to eight the number of central committee members an incumbent legislator or congressman can appoint. Non-incumbent nominees would be limited to three.

Committee Approves LBJ Cash For Vietnam

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The house foreign affairs committee today approved intact president Lyndon B. Johnson's request for an extra 125 million dollars to press the war against the Communists in Vietnam.

The committee acted at a closed session as it pushed toward final approval of the president's new 3.4-billion-dollar foreign aid authorization bill. This would be aside from the extra Vietnam funds.

REFUSES

stand yesterday, said he enjoyed the "traumatic" aspects of surgery. He reviewed his medical experience and said he was certified by the American Board of Surgery and was a fellow of the International College of Surgeons.

He reviewed the dates of his being on staffs of six San Francisco hospitals and his dismissal from five of the hospitals. Included in the hospitals whose facilities he has used is Marin General Hospital, where he made one visit to a patient.

A Polyclinic Hospital, the one remaining hospital where Ascherman has privileges, he said he has performed 458 surgical operations. His dismissal from three San Francisco hospitals came within a two-month period, he said.

Ascherman contends in the lawsuits, totaling six million dollars, that a conspiracy existed against him at the San Francisco hospitals where his privileges were not renewed.

The hearing is scheduled to resume at 3 p.m., June 8. The schedule for the hearing runs through June and into July.

Chief Terzich Gives Support To New Library

Mill Valley's police chief today gave his support to the proposed new library, saying, "in a town this size, if the library gets bigger, our 'trouble sheet' gets smaller."

"I can think of no single better investment from a police point of view than the new library," Chief Dan Terzich added. "Few people stop to think about it but adequate library facilities are one of the basic tools in preventive police work."

A $325,000 bond issue, to be voted on by Mill Valleyans in the June 2 primary, would triple seating facilities, increase the number of books, programs and actual paying jobs available to teen-agers, according to Paul E. Rosenthal, chairman of the Citizens Committee for the Library.

Cuban Sabotage Rumors Growing

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Cuba observed the 62nd anniversary of its independence from Spain today amid reports of sabotage and threats of armed action against the Communist dictatorship of Fidel Castro.

This was the day on which Manuel Ray, Castro's first minister of public works, promised to be fighting in Cuba against his former chief.

From Havana it was reported that Cuban armed forces were placed on a state of alert and all military leaves were canceled.

Lawmakers Agree On School Aid Bill

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Senate and Assembly negotiators, prodded by Gov. Brown, today announced agreement on a compromise school aid bill which rewards small districts that agree to unify.

Members of a two-house conference committee signed a report recommending the measure.

The agreement still must be ratified by the Senate and Assembly.

Negro Author To Speak At Prison

Author Louis Lomax, scheduled to speak at College of Marin Friday night, will address student inmates and teachers at San Quentin Prison at 1 p.m. tomorrow in the prison's Protestant chapel.

The Georgia-born Negro, a free-lance writer, has written three well-known books on the civil rights movement. He is expected to speak to about 300 prisoners enrolled in the prison's academic program.

No topic has been announced for his prison talk. His talk at the college, set for 8 p.m. Friday in Olney Hall, will be titled "The Black Muslim and the Negro Revolt."

Dallas Citizen Admits Spitting On Stevenson

DALLAS (UPI) — A salesman freely admitted today that he spat on UN ambassador Adlai Stevenson after calling Stevenson a "traitor" during a United Nations Day demonstration last Oct. 24. But he denied spitting at a policeman.

The salesman, Robert Edward Hatfield, 22, took the stand in his own behalf in county criminal appeals court on misdemeanor charges of spitting at a police officer who was trying to protect Stevenson.

Thefts From Gas Station, Auto Reported

San Rafael police reported two thefts yesterday, one at a service station and the other from a car at a parking lot.

Jack Barnes of Hall and Barnes Service Station at Third and A Streets reported someone took $80 from an outside cash box while he was servicing a pickup truck yesterday afternoon.

Wayne E. Hitchcock of 534 Third Street reported coins valued at $75 and trading stamps were stolen from the glove compartment of his unlocked car while it was parked in the United Market parking lot along Third Street between 9 a.m. and 7:30 p.m. yesterday.

Mother Reports Exposure Case

A San Rafael mother reported to police yesterday that a man about 30 years of age exposed himself to her 3-year-old daughter at Lincoln and Paloma avenues shortly before 3:40 p.m.

She was seated in a parked car while her daughter was standing at the corner and the man walked by on Lincoln Avenue, police reported.

He was wearing a black sweater, black pants and dark glasses, the mother said.

Girl, 15, Runs Away From Novato Home

A 15-year-old Novato girl ran away from her home Monday and has not been seen since, Novato police reported today.

The police put out an all-points bulletin yesterday for Claudia Stella Hernandez, daughter of Louis Hernandez of 1333 Cambridge Street. Her father reported that when last seen Monday, she was wearing a red coat with fur collar, a white blouse and black skirt. She was described as five feet one inch tall, weighing 125 pounds, with brown eyes and black hair.

Two See Governor

James B. Soetaert, adult supervising probation officer for Marin County, and Marin County Sheriff Louis P. Mountanos today attended a meeting with Gov. Edmund G. Brown in Sacramento on progress in the work furlough program conducted for county prisoners.

Insurance — Asks Congress to exempt certain insurance company office holders and shareholders from proposed federal regulatory legislation, until state has chance to enact its own law; SJR 15, Burns.

Convict Fined For Witness Stand Silence

A San Quentin Prison inmate who refused to testify as witness during a recent trial in Marin Superior Court was fined $100 today by Judge N. Charles Brusatori for contempt of court.

Finel was Joseph Brown, 29, who as defense witness in the May 6 trial of Lawrence Scott Garrett, also a San Quentin inmate, declined to answer certain questions. Judge Brusatori said collection of the fine will be left to prison officials and may be taken from a small allowance prisoners are paid for labor.

However, at present Brown is in the adjustment center and has no such income, the court was informed. Brown is serving five years to life on burglary and arson convictions in San Bernardino County.

Garrett was acquitted during the trial of a charge of assault with a deadly weapon on Thomas R. Counts, 33, San Quentin inmate. Garrett defended himself.

Man Arrested With Runaway

A 28-year-old San Francisco man was arrested by Mill Valley police at 1:10 a.m. today and booked at county jail on charges of contributing to the delinquency of a minor.

Police arrested Richard Homer Kerr after receiving a call from Mrs. R. H. Powell of 800 Lovell Avenue, saying there was a car parked in her driveway. Checking on the car, Officer Ken Homen found Kerr seated in the front seat with a 15-year-old runaway girl from East Palo Alto. Two bottles of beer were on the floor and two empty bottles in the back of the car.

Kerr said he picked up the girl in San Francisco and ended up in Mill Valley while looking for a place to park.

The San Mateo County Sheriff's office told police they put out an all-points bulletin on the girl April 6 as a runaway.

Novato Seeking Queen Candidates

If you are between 16 and 26 years of age, have never been married, live in or around Novato and are not a professional model, you could be queen of the 1964 Novato Western Weekend.

Oh, yes, you have to be a girl, too.

There will be prizes for both the queen and her royal court. The queen and two princesses will be named on June 19.

More information is obtainable from Mrs. Karl O. Johnson, 770 Eucalyptus Avenue, Novato.

Larkspur Man Riding Cycle Breaks Ankle

Clifton David Belknap, 22, of 505 Cane Street, Larkspur, was in good condition today at Marin General Hospital with a broken left ankle after his motorcycle was struck by an auto yesterday at 6:10 p.m. in front of 441 Holcomb Street, Larkspur.

Belknap made a sudden left turn on his motorcycle toward a footpath and was struck by a car following him, driven by Elmo Angelo Sasseli, 21, of 80 Mohawk Avenue, Corte Madera, according to Larkspur police.

Cranston Charged In Job Trade

SACRAMENTO (AP) — A former state inheritance tax appraiser accused State Controller Alan Cranston today of trading the appraising jobs for campaign contributions.

Former appraiser John C. O'Keefe of Alhambra said he was appointed by Cranston after making contributions totalling $4,000 to Cranston's 1958 campaign.

O'Keefe and Sen. Jack Schrade (R-Del Mar), were to present the statement to the Senate rules committee, but the hearing was postponed and the statement was not read. Before the committee was a resolution by Schrade asking a study of "political patronage and its effect on campaign practices."

A Cranston spokesman called O'Keefe's allegation "an incredibly obvious political hoax."

trict, not little districts in each county.

Assemblyman Bagley's bill this year specifically states that the Marin Rapid Transit District will be incorporated into the Bay Area District when that becomes feasible.

Senator McCarthy has pushed through another bill calling for a $12,000 appropriation for study of rapid transit facilities over the Richmond-San Rafael Bridge. This bill has passed both houses of the Legislature and is on the governor's desk for signature.

If rapid transit is feasible over the Richmond Bridge, a Marin County Rapid Transit District could tie up with the Bay Area Rapid Transit system over the Richmond span.

TV Firm Truck Looted

Theft of a tire and rim and a spool of television antenna wire, valued at $125, from a pickup truck of Jim and Ken's TV at 1110 Grant Avenue, Novato, between midnight and 8 a.m. yesterday, was reported to Novato police by James M. Turner of 1121 Mirabella Avenue, co-owner of the shop. The window of the truck, parked in back of the store, was broken to gain entry, Turned said.

Condition Is Good

Harry M. Overly, Novato postmaster, who suffered a heart attack last Friday afternoon while working at the post-office, was reported in good condition today at Novato General Hospital. However, he is not allowed visitors, according to the hospital.

OBITUARIES

Elinor F. Evans, 43, Succumbs

Elinor Frances Evans, an active Mill Valley church and club member, died yesterday at her home at 191 Elinor Avenue after a long illness.

Mrs. Evans, 43, was the wife of Richard A. Evans, who is in the insurance business, and had lived in Marin County 15 years. She was a native of San Francisco.

Active in the Mill Valley Episcopal Church of Our Saviour, Mrs. Evans was also a member of the Mill Valley Outdoor Art Club and the Mill Valley Tennis Club.

She is survived by her husband; two daughters, Laura and Nancy; her mother, Mrs. Clifford H. Porter Sr. of San Francisco; a brother, Clifford H. Porter Jr., and a sister, Mrs. Charles Meagher, both of San Francisco.

Funeral will be Friday at 1 p.m. at Russell and Gooch Mortuary, Mill Valley. Burial will be in Golden Gate National Cemetery, San Bruno. The family requests that tributes be contributions to the American Cancer Society.

HENRY SCHWAB

Henry Paul Schwab of San Mateo, brother of Mrs. Bernice Olsen of Mill Valley, died yesterday in a Redwood City hospital.

Schwab, 53, was president of Teamster's Union Local 216 and was active in many San Mateo civic groups.

A native of San Francisco, he had lived in San Mateo for 12 years.

He was president of the Building and Construction Trades Council of San Mateo County.

Surviving are his wife, Angelina Schwab of San Mateo; his sister, Mrs. Olsen, a daughter, Mrs. Caroline Darbison of San Francisco, and one grandchild.

Requiem High Mass will be at 9:30 a.m. Friday at St. Bartholomew's Church, 600 Columbia Drive, San Mateo. Burial will be in Holy Cross Cemetery, Colma. Rosary will be said at 8 p.m. tomorrow at Patterson and O'Connell Chapel, 1311 South El Camino Real, San Mateo.

THERESA DYBAS

Mrs. Theresa Dybas, mother of Mrs. Florence Smith, formerly of San Rafael, died yesterday in a Gary, Ind., hospital after a long illness.

Mrs. Dybas, 57, was a victim of cancer. Her daughter left here about a year ago to be with her mother during her illness.

A native of Indiana, she lived there all her life, but had visited Mrs. Smith in San Rafael several times.

Surviving are a sister, Mrs. Josephine Roggo of Detroit; a son, Eugene Dybas of Gary, and two daughters, Mrs. Smith and Donna Dybas, both of Gary.

Funeral and burial will be Friday in Gary. Tributes may be in the form of donations to the American Cancer Society.

R. M. ESCHEN SR.

Private funeral for Robert Minor Eschen of Alameda, father of Robert M. Eschen Jr. of San Rafael, was held yesterday in Alameda.

Eschen recently retired as insurance manager of the California Stevedore and Ballast Co. He was a prominent Bay Area yachtsman.

A native of Alameda, he lived there all his life, and was graduated from the University of California about 1920. He served as a Naval officer during World War II and had held a commission since then in the Naval Reserve. He was promoted last year to captain.

Surviving are his wife, Carol Eschen of Alameda; his son, two daughters, Mrs. Carol L. Dullaghan of Alameda and Eleanor M. Stanton of Coronado, and six grandchildren.

Burial was in Mountain View Cemetery, Oakland.

A. F. LARRIVEE

Archie F. Larrivee, 68, of 315 First Street, San Rafael, a retired Army man, died last night at Letterman General Hospital in San Francisco.

A native of Canada, Larrivee had lived in Marin County for 20 years. He was a veteran of World War I.

Surviving are his wife, Martha of San Rafael, a stepdaughter, Mrs. Berdell Smith of Mill Valley, three sisters and a brother in Rhode Island.

Funeral arrangements are pending at Harry M. Williams Mortuary in San Rafael.

L. ROSELLINI

A Requiem Mass for Lorenzo Rosellini, 68, a retired San Francisco grocer, will be celebrated at Sts. Peter and Paul's Church in San Francisco at 9:45 a.m. Friday.

Rosellini, who died at a local hospital Monday, was the father of Mrs. Flora McLeod of Novato and Mrs. Norma Vannucci of Terra Linda.

A native of Italy, he had been a resident of San Francisco for 51 years.

Surviving are his wife, Quartina Rosellini of San Francisco, two daughters, Mrs. McLeod and Mrs. Vannucci, five brothers and sisters in San Francisco, and a sister in Italy, and five grandchildren.

Entombment will be in Holy Cross Mausoleum, Colma.

Rosary will be recited at 8 p.m. tomorrow at Valente, Marini, Perata and Co., 649 Green Street, San Francisco. Friends may call until 9 p.m.

Onetime School Janitor Now Maintenance Chief

John Thomson, who started with San Rafael city schools as a night janitor 15 years ago, was appointed director of maintenance, operations and transportation last night.

The San Rafael Board of Education named Thomson, now assistant director, to fill the top post at a salary of $730 a month. He will succeed Lewis G. McCall, who has resigned effective June 30 to take a similar job in San Luis Obispo.

Thomson started as a night janitor at the old E Street School, then advanced to custodian, head of custodial services and assistant director of maintenance, operations and transportation.

The board approved plans for demolition of the southwest corner of the E Street School and renovation of the building to accommodate administrative and special services offices.

Harold Engle, structural engineer, estimated the demolition and closing off the end of the building will cost $27,000. The City of San Rafael will chip in $6,300 to cover demolition of its portion, he said.

The school auditorium is slated to be used for board meetings, art shows and other activities, Supt. Bert C. Corona reported.

The board denied a request by Marin Aid to Retarded Children for a circus at the San Rafael High School football field July 5 and 6. The vote was 4-0, with board member Carl J. Brown abstaining.

Irene St. John, vice president of MARC, said the organization has contracted with the Ken Jensen Circus of Whittier to produce a circus for two days to raise money for the benefit of retarded children in Marin County. Board members said their policy has been against events involving animals at the field and they have never permitted a circus there.

The San Rafael Board of Education also:

1. Agreed to a June 6 tour of buildings designed by four architectural firms being considered for a district contract.

2. Awarded athletic equipment bids totaling $16,628 to the following firms: Aldrich and Aldrich, $1,837; Athletic Trainers Supply Co., $576; H. W. Baker Linen Co., $600; Champion Knitwear, $204; Fishstrom, $12; Fletcher Athletic Equipment, $93; Free-Minetti, $3,186; Herb's Sport Shop, $2,056; Stroh and Co., $2,815; Taveggia-Brusati, $5,876, and West Coast Netting, $11.

3. Hired Mrs. Edly L. Burke and William H. Thompson as elementary district teachers and Mrs. Marie H. Fontenrose as a foreign language teacher in the high school district for the 1964-65 school year.

4. Accepted regisnations of Vera Shevchuk, elementary district teacher; Maria Moya Del Pinto, adult education Spanish teacher, and Mrs. Lura Ross, teacher of English for foreign born in the adult education division, all effective June 30.

5. Approved assignment of Peter Paolino, high school teacher, as part-time counselor and transfer of Marilyn Greve, French teacher, from Davidson School to Terra Linda High School for the 1964-65 school year.

6. Accepted resignation of Mrs. Jean Pedroza, bus driver, effective June 30.

7. Received a letter from Mrs. John D. LeNoue of 92 Oakmont Avenue, San Rafael, commending Bernard Bloom, sixth grade teacher at West End School, for his teaching talents.

8. Canceled the scheduled board meetings July 14 and 23 with the condition that a special meeting would be called if needed.

9. Accepted the gift of an Ainsworth Laboratory balance scale from Shell Development Co. to Terra Linda High School.

Senate Seeks To Head Off Lottery

SACRAMENTO (CNS) —The Senate has approved a proposed amendment to the state constitution designed to head off an initiative setting up a state lottery to be operated by a private firm.

The measure, by Assemblyman Nicholas Petris (D-Oakland), was returned to the Assembly for approval of minor changes made by the Senate.

The amendment would prohibit the naming of any private firm or corporation in the constitution. The lottery initiative provides the lottery would be operated by the American Sweepstakes Corp., supporters of the lottery.

If the bill receives more votes than the initiative, it would take precedence, and visa versa.

Truck Spews Nails; 25 Cars Disabled

SAN JOSE (AP) — A truck spewing nails along Highway 101 from San Jose to Redwood City today disabled more than 25 cars.

Officer Dale Taliaferro of the California Hiyhway Patrol said some motorists reported three and four tires punctured.

Taliaferro said the truck was spotted shortly after midnight but nobody got a license number.

Vietnam Wants Cambodia Talks

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) — A South Vietnamese spokesman at the United Nations says his government wants border talks with Cambodia and would welcome U. N. help to arrange them.

Pham Khac Rau, charge d'affaires of the South Vietnamese Embassy in Washington, stated this position in an interview last night after the Security Council opened debate on a charge by Cambodia that South Vietnamese raids across its borders constituted aggression by South Vietnam and the United States.

Rau denied the aggression charge.

Sausalito Chamber Wants To Put Life Back Into 'Gazebo'

Sausalito's "Gazebo," a bus depot and cigarette and magazine stand at Bridgeway and Bay Street, may become a downtown business bureau and informational center.

Sausalito Chamber of Commerce directors resolved yesterday to try to obtain the now-untenanted structure for such purpose.

A. Leonard Bjorkland, chamber president, said the decision was made "because of the long vacancy of the Gazebo and the inability of the city to run it. We voted to pay one year's rent in advance," he said, "if our offer is accepted."

Bjorkland said the chamber believes the kiosk might be manned during summer by college of Marin students and on weekends by merchants, for displays and to disperse information. Civic groups such as the Sausalito Women's Club, he said, might use it for purposes such as flower displays.

The board set up a committee to investigate obtaining a downtown public landing for the embarking and debarking of passengers. Luther W. Conover and Trav Duro were named to the committee.

Halsey Lyon, William E. McDonnell and Bjorkland were appointed to a committee to inquire into the recent reappraisal of Sausalito properties by the county assessor's office.

'Artist And Critic' Topic For Panel

A panel discussion titled "The Artist and the Critic" will be held by the Marin Society of Artists at 8 p.m. May 28 in the Frances Young Gallery, Marin Art and Garden Center, Ross.

The discussion will be followed by a wine-tasting hour.

Moderator of the panel will be Howard Slatoff of California State College at Hayward. Panelists will include Alexander Fried of the San Francisco Examiner, Arthur Bloomfield of the San Francisco News Call-Bulletin, Raymond Pisarek of Westart, Elizabeth Polley of Artform, Clayton Pinkerton of the California College of Arts and Crafts and Wesley Chamberlin of the University of California at Los Angeles.

San Francisco Officials Delay Atom Plant Vote

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — A committee of San Francisco supervisors heard pro and con testimony yesterday on the possible danger of a nuclear plant at Bodega Head, but withheld taking a stand pending further study of the evidence.

Dr. James E. McDonald, senior physicist at the University of Arizona warned that an explosion at the proposed plant could endanger San Francisco on summer nights. He said that on summer days winds would veer to the east, sparing San Francisco but blowing dangerous radiation on Petaluma and Santa Rosa.

L. H. McEwen, manager of nuclear safety engineering at General Electric's atomic power equipment department at San Jose, disagreed.

"These facilities cannot explode like an atomic bomb," he said.

Protests that the small increase in radioactive material near the plant might be absorbed by shellfish and later be consumed by humans, were denied by McEwen.

Bodega's proximity to the San Andreas fault does not pose a threat to the plant in the event of earthquakes, because of its design, according to Dr. George W. Housner, California Institute of Technology.

Tiburon City Booster Warns Of Opposition

A spirit of genial camaraderie pervaded last night's Tiburon incorporation committee dinner at Tiburon Tommie's, with 16 city council candidates as guests among the crowd of more than 100.

A warning note was sounded by candidate John S. Hoffmire when he said that a meeting of the anti-incorporation committee organized by Irving Moulin had been held Monday night and this committee was prepared to make a last-minute stand against incorporation.

Candidate Fred C. Hannahs said the "campaign will be based on a distortion of the county report on Tiburon's finances."

The candidates were introduced by Merritt K. Ruddock, new mayor of Belvedere, who repeatedly urged Tiburon to incorporate, saying he felt he spoke for the majority of Belvedere residents.

Ruddock was asked by candidate Edwin A. Gratonik as to the possibility of contracting such services as police protection and road maintenance from Belvedere rather than the county. "We will look forward to meeting you on June 3 to discuss joint services after you incorporate on June 2," said Ruddock.

Questions to the candidates were limited. Hoffmire was asked about high-rise apartments and said, "as a builder, I have withdrawn plans for a five-story building so I will feel free to take part in council decisions on buildings over three stories."

Candidate Jacqueline Parnell was asked, "what role do you see for the railroad yard?" She said, "it is the key to Tiburon's future and there should be rules so it will not grow into a commercial claptrap. A portion of the land can be set aside for public use leaving a commercial base so the rest of Tiburon can remain residential."

A question about recreational facilities and how they might be financed brought a quick retort from Gratonik: "we already have the school facilities and Paradise Park. Further access to the waterways is prohibitive . . . the whole Tiburon Peninsula is a playground."

Candidate Rodney F. Friedman said the state highway division should be petitioned to make the Tiburon Highway a scenic route from Bel Aire to downtown Tiburon, with no commercial enterprises in that stretch.

Candidate Leo Souza said the budget developed by the finance committee was "plausible" and "no one need fear that we cannot run the city on this budget."

A question about a county variance for a "monster six-plex" near Stone Tower drew the comment from Hannahs that "it couldn't happen with local planning control."

Fred Mantegani closed the evening, saying he was "not a candidate, but after incorporation the Southern Marin Recreation Center could be taken into the city as a recreation district."

The first mint in North America was in Mexico. Established by a special charter of the Spanish crown in 1536, the mint in Mexico City still produces coins.

Two Marin College Clubs Face Status Loss For Hooky

The International Relations Club at College of Marin, one of the biggest clubs on the campus, was thrown out of the Inter-Club Council at the college Monday.

However, George Duncan, faculty adviser to the club, plans to protest. He said the International Relations Club has cooperated with council projects but the girl who represents the club at council meetings forgot to go to Monday's meeting.

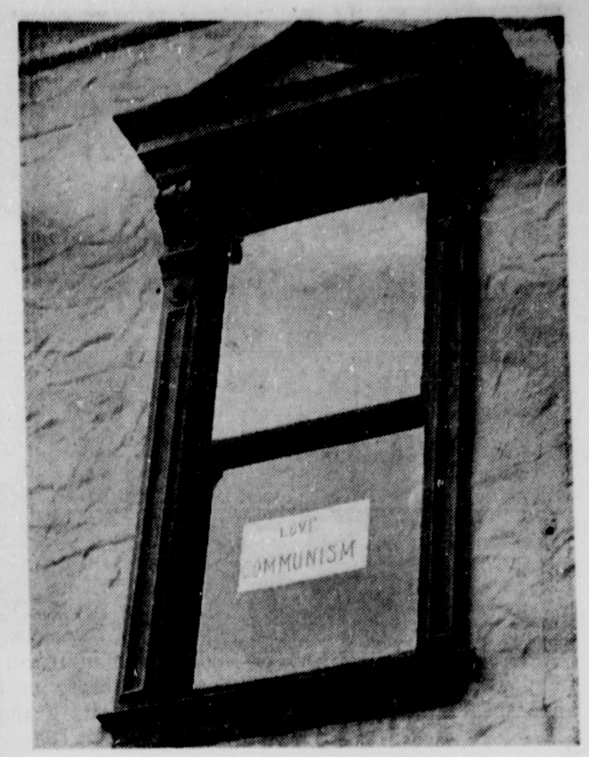
A club can be dismissed from the council if its representatives miss three meetings. Duncan said the council president, Rick Skinner, did not issue written warning which is required before a club is dropped.

The college Young Republican Club faces similar action if its representative does not show up at next Monday's meeting. The council delayed dropping the Young Republicans this week because it learned that a written warning was not issued.

Lone Parents' Topic

Juvenile officer Lanny Berry of the Marin County Probation Office will discuss "The Jungle Our Children Must Face," at 7:45 p.m. tomorrow in the kindergarten room of West End School, San Rafael.

He will appear at a meeting of Parents Without Partners, a group made up of parents who have become single through death or divorce.



ALTERNATIVE?

A "Love Communism" sign has been placed in empty apartment window above the No Name bar at 757 Bridgeway in Sausalito. Bar owner Neil E. Davis said he put up the sign as a tongue-in-cheek takeoff on a sign referring to communism which a sheriff's deputy tore off the ferry boat home of H. Kenneth and Mary Ellen McCurdy at Waldo Point April 23. The McCurdys face jury trial June 29 in Marin Municipal Court for outraging public decency, disorderly conduct, and resisting arrest.

LIKE LOCH NESS

Racoon Straits Produces Its Very Own Monster

Move over, Loch Ness; San Francisco Bay now has its own sea monster.

Moreover, the monster swims in Marin waters, in Racoon Strait between Sausalito and Angel Island.

Two East Bay sport fishermen attest to it. Both say they saw the creature undulating through the waves there while fishing 11 days back.

Stephen A. Bakalyar, 74, of El Cerrito, a substitute teacher in Richmond schools, was one of the sighters. In keeping with his status as an educator, he adopted the scientific approach. He didn't call it the Racoon Straits Monster, but a sea serpent.

"I have no doubt," said Bakalyar, "that what we saw was an unknown species that is rarely seen."

His fishing companion, Edgar O. Francisco of Berkeley, a Bechtel Corp. engineer, was more down to earth (or water).

"I saw a head, and at first glance, I thought it was a female seal," said Francisco. "Then the head disappeared and the back slowly arose."

Bakalyar added that both head and back then were seen at once. "There was water between the head and back, but it was definitely one animal, about 10 feet long, not a couple of seals or porpoises," he insisted.

The bluish-gray creature submerged after about 10 seconds, the pair reported.

Thtt was at 11 a.m. on May 9. Bakalyar and Francisco took their time about reporting the sighting — hopeful, no doubt, that soemone else would also sight the serpent.

No one did. But after all, it takes time to establish a thing like that. The Scots have worked for centuries at the Loch Ness legend. And their monster is land-locked. Bakalyar and Francisco's can swim out to sea any time it's so minded.

New Pesticide Law Praised

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Rep. Harlan Hagen (D-Calif.) said today a new law which tightens registration requirements for pesticide chemicals will provide increased protection for the public.

The new statute amends the federal insecticide, fungicide and rodenticide act to eliminate the practice of protest registration.

Under the old law, a pesticide manufacturer could market his product despite doubts on its effectiveness or safety by the Department of Agriculture.

SHAKESPEARE DISPLAY — Books filled with the treasures of William Shakespeare, make up bulk of exhibit featured in central hall of the library at Dominican College. Students Francesca Guheen and Marianne Geiger admired the exhibits.

IT TELLS TIME — Students Ann Clark and Virginia Druliner examine "astrolabe" on display as part of the Shakespeare exhibit at Dominican College Library. It is a replica of rings used in the 16th Century to tell time, and has two small holes through which the sun is allowed to shine. The spot of light falls on the appropriate hour, engraved inside. (Independent-Journal photos)

Brass Ring Told Time In Shakespeare's Day

At first glance, one might have trouble understanding why an exhibit on William Shakespeare might include a small brass ring.

But the display this week at Dominican College's Bishop Alemany Library includes just such an item. And its owner, Associate Prof. Sarah Wingate Taylor, insists it is a most fitting piece for a display to honor the 400th anniversary of the playwright's birth.

The half-inch ring is a modern replica of a 16th century timepiece called an "astrolabe." It is one of 40 which have been made by George E. Reynolds, a Connecticut astronomer who is considered an expert on ancient navigational aids and timepieces.

Reading about Reynolds' unusual interests in a recent issue of Yankee Magazine, Miss Taylor, the college's expert on Shakespeare, was intrigued by a reference to the rings. She recognized them as a tool discussed by many of the characters in the Bard's plays.

She wrote Reynolds for further information, and he responded by sending her one of the rings, timing the package so it would arrive here on April 23, which was not only Shakespeare's 400th "birthday" but the 348th anniversary of his death as well.

Books on display at the exhibit include the library's own large stock of Shakespeare material, plus books loaned by Miss Taylor and others. Also included is a shield bearing the Shakespeare coat of arms, made by Professor Etel Adnan and Magda Battha of the college art department.

Reference librarian Thelma Percy assembled the display.

San Rafael Police Officer Joins DA As Investigator

Leland Ahern, 35-year-old San Rafael police officer, has been named a civil investigator with the Marin County district attorney's office, Dist. Atty. Bruce B. Bales announced today.

Ahern replaces William Bemiss, who resigned April 23 because of ill health. Starting date for Ahern was not immediately determined, but Bales said it would be prior to June 1.

Ahern, a patrolman, has been with the San Rafael Police Department since December of 1957. Earlier, he worked six years for the San Rafael Post Office. Before that he was in the Navy.

He is married, has two children, and resides at 615-A Street, San Rafael.

MAJORITY HAVE NO VOTE ON TAX

70 Loma Verde Residents 'Advise' Five-Cent Increase For Area Which Includes 550 Homes

A five-cent increase in the Loma Verde County Services Area tax rate has been approved by 70-to-10 vote in an election, but most residents of the area were precluded from voting.

The election was called by the Loma Verde Homeowners Assn. Only members of the association were permitted to vote. Balloting was Monday night, with results announced late yesterday.

John E. Frederick, president of the association, said the election was advisory and its result would be reported to the county board of supervisors, which operates the services area, with a request for the tax hike.

Tax rate for the Loma Verde County Services Area, set up to provide and maintain landscaping in the unincorporated portion of Loma Verde, was 19 cents this year.

Frederick said the 80 ballots case in the election represented a large majority of the 100-plus members of the association.

However, there were 550 homes in the unincorporated portion of Loma Verde as of last July 1, according to Edward Inskeep of the Marin County Planning Department. All would be subect to the proposed tax hike from 19 to 24 cents.

Frederick said prior to the election that the home owners association "has been selected by the board of supervisors as the voice of the people of the area."

Residents of the portion of Loma Verde within the City of Novato would not be subject to the tax.

Novato Park Meet

The Novato Parks and Recreation Advisory Commission will meet at 8 a.m. Friday in the offices of Edmund Mahany, director, in the Novato City Hall. The meeting was set after the commission failed to have a quorum for its regular meeting Monday night, Hahany said.

West Marin Contest Has Four Entries

In Supervisorial District 4 (West Marin) incumbent Supervisor George H. Ludy is challenged by three men in the June 2 primary.

They are James Dougan of Bolinas, John T. Keilty of Woodacre, and Thomas T. Storer of Inverness Park.

Development of Point Reyes National Seashore is the big project in their area, and all four have expressed concern over the expected onrush of visitors and the resultant traffic problems.

Here are brief background sketches on the candidates:

GEORGE H. LUDY

JAMES DOUGAN

JOHN T. KEILTY

THOMAS T. STORER

GEORGE HERMAN LUDY, 59, longtime country store owner in Inverness, defeated James Marshall for supervisor in 1960. He is seeking his second four-year term.

Born in Petaluma, he came to Marin at the age of one year and has lived most of his life here since. He attended Marin schools, Lowell High School in San Francisco, and three years at University of Santa Clara.

He disrupted his college studies to go to sea, then returned to operate a dairy on a Point Reyes ranch now owned by Leland S. Murphy.

Ludy then went into the mercantile business and operated a store in Inverness for 28 years, selling out in 1961 after his election as supervisor.

He also served five years as county planning commissioner and was chairman of the Inverness School District board for 12 years. He has served as chairman of the Inverness Public Utility District and president of the Inverness Improvement Club and West Marin Lions Club.

He voted to abolish the office of county administrator in 1961 but has stressed he has nothing against Administrator Alan Bruce personally. He was opposed to construction of the Civic Center, designed by Frank Lloyd Wright. He wants to keep taxes down, perhaps through light industry or a one-cent additional sales tax.

Ludy puts heavy emphasis on the need for better roads, which he describes as "losing ground for 20 years." The only solution will be a bond issues, in Ludy's opinion.

He lives with his wife in Inverness.

JAMES A. DOUGAN, 42, Bolinas insurance man, was born on a ranch on the Point Reyes peninsula.

He operated Dougan's Garage for 16 years. He still owns the garage but has leased it and is an agent for State Farm Insurance Co. with offices in Bolinas and San Rafael.

He was a Bolinas School District trustee for 12 years before its merger with Stinson Beach School District. He is chairman of the Bolinas Fire Protection District board and a Bolinas Public Utility District director.

He has lived all his life in West Marin except for a three-year hitch in the Army during World War II.

Dougan promises public advertised office hours in each community so that citizens can reach him with complaints or comments. He urges more night meetings of the supervisors to give working people a chance to be heard.

He wants to see growth and progress but predicts the character of West Marin will remain basically residential, with more recreation facilities and more and better schools.

Dougan, too, wants to see property taxes held down, by bringing light industry or perhaps a one-cent additional sales tax. He criticized the recent reappraisals, which jumped the property values in West Marin.

He suggested paying better salaries to key county employees so that good men will not move on to other jobs as soon as they get experience.

JOHN THORNTON KEILTY, 36, is a Woodacre building contractor and former manager of the Household Finance Corp. office in San Rafael.

A native of Grand Rapids, Mich., he lived in North Dakota and Washington, then joined the Navy for three and one-half years, serving as motor machinist on a gunboat in the South Pacific and Far East.

He was graduated from University of San Francisco with a degree in business administration in 1953. He has lived in Woodacre since 1956. He is past president of the Woodacre Improvement Club and a director since 1958, charter member and past president of the San Geronimo Valley Lions Club, and a director of the Marin Council of Community Services.

Keilty says "foresight rather than political expediency" is needed to plan for the expected population explosion in the Fourth District.

He favors better planning and more study on improving county roads. He urges enlargement of the planning staff, consolidation of many small agencies, a study of some form of rapid transit, and better zoning. He believes a bond issue is needed for road improvement.

He has suggested that Fairfax eventually be added to the Fourth District (West Marin) and Tomales to the Fifth District (North Marin).

Keilty would also try to keep property taxes down by bringing light industry, or perhaps a one-cent additional sales tax.

He lives with his wife and their two children in Woodacre.

THOMAS TONE STORER, 35, deputy district attorney, is a native of Merced. He is a member of a pioneer California ranching family that settled in Stanislaus County just about the time of the 1849 gold rush.

Storer attended St. Mary's College, was graduated from University of California in 1951 and joined the Marine Corps. He was twice wounded and decorated during the Korean War. He came to Point Reyes in 1959 and joined the district attorney's staff in January, 1961.

Storer believes adequate roads and access to Point Reyes Seashore should be provided before the seashore is opened to the public.

He wants to initiate supervisorial office hours in his district, and work for closer relation with the people. He favors occasional night meetings for public convenience.

Storer would preserve the present character of the community, keyed to the National Seashore, and wants to see the west parkway traffic route developed, primarily with state and federal funds. He, too, calls for keeping taxes within reason, with light industry as possible revenue source.

Storer thinks Marin has a real bargaining point with the federal government on an east-west route to the seashore. Since it is the only national seashore within two hours drive of four million people, Storer thinks the county should not have to carry the whole burden of providing access.

He is against further enlargement of District Four, but favors election of supervisors at large. This would require a county charter, he points out.

Storer is against uncontrolled filling of the bay and prefers some type of rapid transit between Marin and San Francisco rather than a second crossing.

He was prosecutor in the court battle to keep the Seadrift portion of Stinson Beach open to the public.

Storer lives with his wife and four children at Inverness Park.

Student Artists Will Show Work

Student artists from San Rafael city schools will exhibit their work at the third annual creative arts festival at San Rafael High School from 1 to 4 p.m. Sunday.

As an innovation, everyone attending the festival will have a chance to try his hand at painting an 18-foot mural on the fence by the cafeteria.

There will be demonstrations of art-in-action as well as student displays of ceramics, jewelry, sculpture, drawing and painting, according to Charles Maurice of the San Rafael High School art department.

The festival also will include exhibits of projects completed by the industrial arts department, plays presented by the drama and foreign language departments, music and films in the cafeteria on Michelangelo, experimental art, design and color.

Bank Of America Hits CORE For Distortion

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Bank of America—the world's largest privately owned bank—accused the Congress of Racial Equality yesterday of bad faith and deliberate distortion in efforts to get more Negroes hired by the bank. A CORE spokesman said bank picketing would start Friday.

An attorney for the bank said CORE's San Francisco chairman deliberately demanded in a radio interview recently that the bank say how many Negro employees work as janitors while aware the bank has no janitors. The bank contracts with a janitorial service.

Tense Nerves Block Bowels

Your colon has nerves that control regularity. When you are tense or nervous, normal bowel impulses may be blocked—and you become constipated. New COLONAID tablets relieve this misery with a new principle—a unique colonic nerve stimulant plus special bulking action as recommended by many doctors. Result? Meets Set On Housing For Marin Elderly

The newly organized Citizens' Committee for Housing of Marin's Elderly last night set two meetings June 4 and June 11 to hear proposals on housing from private interests.

A third meeting was set June 18 to learn about governmental assistance through the Federal Housing Administration, Community Facilities Administration and Public Housing Administration.

Committee chairman Roger P. Garety said any private developer wishing to appear before the committee should write Box 394, San Rafael. He said he hopes the committee can serve as a clearing house, collecting names of all individuals and organizations and helping them to get together.

At last night's meeting, members learned that $450 has been given by the San Francisco Foundation to aid the committee's work. Members agreed to solicit further contributions by mail.

Total budget for the committee is slightly less than $4,000. Members expect their work to be over and the committee disbanded by December. Most of the budget is for mailing and printing costs.

Members last night requested that County Planning Director B. D. Dobbs serve as consultant.

The committee was organized as a result of an April 29 meeting at the Civic Center on housing for older persons in Marin. It was created by the Citizens' Advisory Committee, but will act independently of it.

Those already invited to the June 4 meeting include State Sen. Samuel R. Geddes (D-Napa), and David F. Lyon of Los Angeles, who will talk about trailer homes.

Senator McCarthy Speech Canceled

Scheduled appearance of State Sen. John F. McCarthy (R-San Rafael) tonight in Sausalito has been cancelled, according to Mrs. Hilton J. Simon, president of the Tamalpais Federated Republican Women.

The talk was planned for 8 p.m. at the Alta Mira Hotel. Mrs. Simon said McCarthy would be unable to leave Sacramento, because of pressing business there.

Supervisors Adopt Budget Timetable

The Marin County board of supervisors yesterday approved a budget hearing schedule which will start June 17 and hold the board in session all day every weekday until June 29.

The time will be used to review the budgets of all departments with department heads.

Actually, budget consideration is expected to start earlier than that, with the board considering a major salary increase for county employees probably on June 15.

CURTAIN RAISER

On June 17 the session will start with the budget message by County Administrator Alan Bruce, followed by revenue evaluation, report on assessed valuation and fund balance carryovers by Auditor-Controller Michael Mitchell.

The board that day will consider budgets for the superintendent of schools, miscellaneous education, road projects with the city of San Rafael, welfare, municipal court, and civil defense.

The next day budgets for the county counsel, miscellaneous projects, fire department, board of supervisors, communications, county administrator, purchasing, central services and mailing, personnel, weights and measures, auditor-controller, revenue bureau, data processing, northwest judicial district court, and San Quentin trial expenses will be gone over.

MORE DEPARTMENTS

On June 19 consideration is set for probation, juvenile hall, family rehabilitation center, court wards, farm adviser, grand jury, court trial expenses, medical department, sheriff, and district attorney.

The following Monday, June 22, will see action on the health department, assessor, fish and game, county clerk, superior court, elections, coroner, public defender, and pound.

The next day will be a regular board meeting day, with no budget hearings set, but on June 24 action is set for the department of public works, garage, county buildings, engineering, flood control, building inspection, road, county fair, and airport.

On June 25 budgets for planning, parks and recreation, veterans service officer, agricultural commissioner, treasurer-tax collector and insurance will come up.

The next day budgets for state institutional care, observation for the insane, inebriate and addict, mental health, county library, employee benefits, reserve funds and capital improvements will be acted upon.

On June 29 the budgets of the recorder and money for promotion and development will be considered, after which the board will officially adopt, although possibly not that day, the preliminary budget, to be refined before Aug. 31, by which time the final budget must be adopted.

Orchard Says Seashore Roads Need U.S. Funds

The federal government should help bear the cost of access roads to Point Reyes National Seashore, congressional aspirant Merle Orchard of Ukiah declared Monday night in a speech before the San Geronimo Valley Assn.

More than 50 members of the association gathered at Lagunitas School to hear Orchard. A former district attorney of Mendocino County, Orchard seeks the Democratic nomination for Congress.

He estimated that two million visitors will use the seashore facilities annually within the next few years. "It follows, therefore, that Marin should not bear the full burden of the development of access roads," said Orchard.

He also re-iterated his strong stand on civil and human rights for all citizens. Samuel W. Gardiner Jr., Marin co-chairman for Orchard, introduced the speaker.

England's King James 1, an unremitting opponent of smoking, once wrote anonymously: "A custom loathsome to the eye, hateful to the nose, harmful to the brain, dangerous to the lungs, and in the black stinking fume thereof nearest resembling the horrible Stygian smoke of the pit that is bottomless."

Mental Health Aide Meet Set

The Marin County Mental Health Advisory Board will meet in executive session tonight to consider which applicant for the post of mental health director of the county should be recommended to the county board of supervisors.

The post, with a salary of $17,600 a year, has been the subject of a nation-wide recruiting effort.

The procedure agreed upon by the supervisors was that the advisory board should review and interview applicants and then recommend one name for supervisors' approval.

Neighbor Finds Sausalito Man In Gas-Filled Kitchen

Lyle A. Meyers, owner of the Top Drawer shop at 791 Bridgeway, Sausalito, was reported in "fair condition" today at Marin General Hospital after he took a sleeping pill, then turned on the gas stove in his kitchen.

Police said that Meyers, about 70, was believed to be despondent over the death of his wife last year.

Meyers' gardener, working outside the Meyers home at 10 Josephine Street at 2:40 p.m. yesterday, smelled the gas and advised a neighbor, Lonner Ralston at 12 Josephine.

Ralston told police he found Meyers sitting in a chair in the kitchen, his head on the table. The gas was turned on and Meyers had evidently sealed the kitchen by placing masking tape around door cracks and towels at the bottom of the door.

Sausalito firemen administered oxygen and took Meyers to the hospital in the city ambulance.

Lagunitas Vote Supports Tam Unification Plan

The Lagunitas School District board last night voted unanimously in favor of the Tamalpais unification measure to be voted on June 2.

Previous discussion of unification had found one dissenter on the board, Mrs. Georgette Vilas. She was replaced last night by William G. McBride, who was sworn into office at the start of the meeting.

The change was the result of a recall election May 5. Results of the election canvassed last night showed that 649 cast ballots, two were spoiled, 336 voted for recall and 331 against it.

The board learned that a tentative budget for next fiscal year will be presented at the next meeting June 2. Budget total was earlier estimated at $205,301. Current budget total is $184,056.

The board will meet at 8 p.m. next Wednesday at the school with members of the site selection committee to review its recommendations.

Leprocy is believed to have originated in Egypt.

Welfare Agency Post Goes To Ex-Marinite

L. Warde Laidman, former member of the casework staff of the Family Service Agency of Marin County, has been named director of casework for the Family Service Agency of San Francisco.

Executive Director Richard B. Rodgers, who made the announcement yesterday, said that Laidman will also serve as director of casework for the San Mateo County Family Service Agency under a contract with that group.

Identical Asphalt Products Bids Startle Supervisors

Four bids to supply the Marin County Public Works Department with liquid asphalt and asphaltic emulsion came in exactly the same, County Purchasing Agent John F. Hettrich told the board of supervisors yesterday.

"That's incredible," commented Supervisor Byron W. Leydecker. "We ought to send a letter to the Attorney General."

Supervisor Peter H. Behr said it was the only time he could remember where the bids had come in all the same, but Hettrich said that over the years bids on these items have always been identical. The board agreed to award the contract for supply to all four bidders.

Unit prices ranging from $22.50 to $25.75 a ton were requested, along with delivery charges, set by the state, ranging from $2.35 to $3.70 a ton, depending on delivery point for the material.

Last year, Hettrich said, the county drew straws and awarded the contract to Douglas Oil Co. Annual expenditure for these items is about $24,000, according to the public works department.

The four bidders were American Bitumuls and Asphalt Co., Union Oil Co., Douglas Oil Co., and Shell Oil Co.

Laverne Robinson, head of the public works accounting section, said the federal government studied the bid procedure of the companies several years ago. She said it was found that salaries paid were controlled by identical union contracts, that delivery costs were set by the state, and that processes of manufacture were identical.

In another contract, the supervisors turned down the low bidder, Texaco, Inc., on purchase of the year's gasoline and motor oil supplies to stick with Standard Oil Co. of California.

Texaco was low at 19.19 cents a gallon for regular gas, but Standard was low at 21.69 cents a gallon for ethyl. Texaco made no bid at all for supplying diesel oil, while Standard was low at 10.85 cents.

Hettrich said splitting the bid would mean increased accounting costs which would wipe out savings in the price of the items. He added that the supplier for Standard is located in San Rafael, thus cutting possible delays in delivery.

He estimated the county's expenditure for these items in the 1964-65 fiscal year at $53,629, just $65 over the Texaco costs.

One African tribe calls Mt. Kilimanjaro "The House of God" in the belief that the deity Rayli roams the high pastures in the form of a giant cow.

Belvedere Dentist Keeps State Post

Belvedere dentist William B. Ryder Jr., has been reappointed to the State Board of Dental Examiners.

Gov. Edmund G. Brown yesterday announced Doctor Ryder's reappointment in Sacramento.

Doctor Ryder took his dental education at the University of California School of Dentistry and the Royal College of Surgeons in London. He teaches dental medicine in San Francisco.

Reservoir Purity Ranks Above Recreation Need

The North Marin Water District board last night agreed the quality of its water must be protected before any recreational use can be considered for Stafford Lake, according to Jerome B. Gilbert, district manager.

"The board expressed a willingness to hear any plans for recreation provided they were worked out jointly with the county recreation department, the county and state health departments, and the water district staff," Gilbert said.

The board approved remarks by William L. Desmond, county sanitation director, as reported in the Independent-Journal yesterday, Gilbert said. Desmond was quoted as telling the Marin Federation of Improvement Clubs that it was "not realistic to expect to keep water clean if boating is allowed on reservoirs."

Gilbert reported the use of water in April was double that of April last year, because of the dry spring. He said that there was no danger of any shortage because Stafford Lake almost reached its water storage capacity this year.

Work on warehouse and yard facilities at the district's corporation yard will begin this week, Gilbert reported.

The board approved the extension agreement with Stonecastle Development Co. for the Castle Wood subdivision of 30 units off Vineyard Road.

It set a special meeting for next Tuesday night to consider the preliminary budget.

Teen Code Is Backed By Parents

Forty-one more Tiburon Peninsula parents interested in developing a code of social conduct for their young people participated in last night's discussion at Westminster Presbyterian Church.

Concensus of the group was that a code should be established as soon as possible.

This was the fourth meeting held in two days in a community project on social behavior and character development.

Members of the subcommittee on intermediate school standards — Robert B. Gaw, principal, Del Mar School; Donald C. Mitchell, Raymond P. Delrich and Mrs. Charles J. Lennihan III—will meet next week to review results of the meetings. Project co-chairmen are Rev. L. E. White, rector of St. Stephen's Episcopal Church, and Supt. Edward C. Pino of the Reed District.

Sinatra Kidnap Sentencing Due

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Two young men convicted of kidnaping singer Frank Sinatra Jr. will appear for final sentencing next July 7, according to the U. S. Attorney's office.

The life-plus-75 years sentences imposed earlier on Joseph Amsler and Barry Worthington Keenan, both 23, may be cut by Federal Judge William G. East after reviewing results of their psychiatric tests.

A third man convicted in connection with the kidnaping—but not of actually participating in the abduction—was John Irwin, 42. He was sentenced to 16 years and eight months in prison plus five years probation.

POLITICAL BRIEFS

McCabe Cavalcade, Dinner Series Due

George McCabe, who seeks the Democratic nomination for Congress, will spend the weekend in Marin with a cavalcade tour Saturday and a dinner in his honor in Tiburon on Sunday.

The cavalcade will assemble in Marin City at 9:30 a.m. Saturday and will proceed to the following shopping centers: Corte Madera, Montecito in San Rafael, Terra Linda about noon; then Marinwood at 1 p.m., Nave Center, Lee Brothers, and Safeway in Novato.

Two buffet dinners are planned that night, with the George De Tunqs of 82 Grove Lane and William Lufts of 1287 Leafwood Drive as hosts.

Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. Brian Heath will host a fund raising dinner for McCabe at 3310 Paradise Drive, Tiburon, where a jazz trio will entertain. The dinner is from 3:30 to 8 p.m.

CRANSTON FETE

A delegation of Marin women will meet Alan Cranston at a free reception tomorrow from 4 to 6 p.m. at Mark Hopkins Hotel in San Francisco.

Gov. Edmund G. Brown and Mayor John F. Shelley and their wives are honored guests. Among prominent Democrats from Marin will be Mrs. Vera Schultz, Mrs. George Culler, Mrs. Ruth Lederman and Mrs. John McRee.

Cranston seeks the Democratic nomination for U.S. Senate. Cranston for Senate headquarters in San Rafael has more information on the reception.

BOOST FOR PIERRE

Robert D. Carrow, Marin chairman for Pierre Salinger in the Democratic senatorial race, expressed "great satisfaction" today over what he called "the encouraging new position adopted by Governor Brown in this campaign."

The Governor stated in a press conference that he thought Salinger had entered the campaign on his own.

Carrow pointed out that Salinger has repeatedly emphasized this, saying he owes nothing in the way of political debts. "I consider this one of the most encouraging developments in the campaign," Carrow said.

Teachers Back On Job In Utah's Schools

SALT LAKE CITY (UPI) — Utah's 274,500 public school children found their teachers back in the classrooms today as the educators ended a two-day protest strike with the threat of a possible walkout next fall.

The state's 11,000 teachers replaced the substitutes and volunteers who had manned the majority of schools during the strike.

Ninety-six of the islands and atolls of Micronesia in the Pacific are inhabited. Administrative districts are centered in Rota, Yap, Truk, Ponape, Koro and Majuro. The Saipan District is run by the U.S. Navy.

Recount, Runoff Mark Junior College Election

Lloyd Stasiowski of Fairfax yesterday won election as next fall's student body president of College of Marin in an election in which 42 per cent of the students voted.

Stasiowski polled 529 votes to 129 for Paul Nagel of Corte Madera.

There will be a run-off election Monday and Tuesday from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. between vice president candidates Warren Glass of Sausalito and Gerald Johnson of Lagunitas. Glass polled 233 votes, Johnson 202, and Thomas Combs of Mill Valley, 61, none of the three getting a majority of votes cast.

Mohammed Hassan of Ross, the college's exchange student from Tanganyika, won the contest for treasurer, polling 371 votes to 139 for David Williams of San Rafaael.

Carol Wells of San Rafael has demanded and will receive today a recount of votes cast for secretary. Miss Wells, in the initial vote count, got 244 votes to 250 for Kathleen Carter of San Rafael.

The yell leader group headed by Thomas Crouteau of Fairfax polled 308 votes to 189 for the group headed by David Miller.

Unopposed candidates were William Parfitt of San Rafael, public relations commissioner, and Bruce Federspiel of Larkspur, rallies and assemblies commissioner. Parfitt got 462 votes and Federspiel, 446. The unopposed song leading group headed by Francine Lento of San Rafael got 408 votes.

The United States Antarctic Research Program will place heavy emphasis during the next two years in upper atmosphere and solar studies in connection with the International Years of the Quiet Sun.

PROUD FATHER WILL BE ON HAND TO SALUTE SON

Maj. Gen. Stuart D. Menist of 690 Goodhill Road, Kentfield, should be a proud man tomorrow.

The general, a reserve Army officer, is commanding general of the 91st Division (training) at the Presidio of San Francisco.

Tomorrow he will go to the University of California campus at Berkeley where he will see a son, Robert L. Menist, receive the staff officer award for his ROTC achievement at the university. The younger Menist is a cadet lieutenant colonel.

Meeting Postponed

The San Anselmo School District board meeting, scheduled for last night, was postponed until next Tuesday at 8 p.m. at Isabel Cook, because of the lack of a quorum, Supt. Stephen Parodi reported.

Hollywood Film To Be Premiered

A Hollywood feature film will have its premiere next Wednesday at the Tamalpais Theater in San Anselmo, complete with live appearances of its stars, one of whom is a German Shepherd dog.

What's more, movie fans will be able to get in free.

The picture, "Bearheart of the Great Northwest," will be premiered here to publicize a campaign by the Marin County Humane Society's development fund, which hopes to raise $250,000 to build a "humane education center," according to Paul R. Leahy, the fund's public relations chairman.

The color film, set in the year 1880, tells of a father and two children who leave Sacramento after the death of the mother, traveling to Oregon to open a trading post.

Cast of the film includes the dog, Bearheart, as well as Marshall Reed and Barbara Knudson. All three will appear on stage at the theater, as will Bearheart's trainer, Frank Barnes, and producer-director Rand Brooks.

Barnes is known for training the canine star of the "Rin-Tin-Tin" television program.

Leahy said all performances of the film will be free. He stressed that there wil be no solicitation of funds at the showings.

The planned education center will be the first of its kind in the nation, he said, and the plan "has been acclaimed by experts as one of the most forward looking in the field of animal welfare."

Board Finds Welfare Cash Without Raiding Reserves

The Marin County Board of Supervisors yesterday pumped almost $102,000 into the county welfare budget to finish the current fiscal year, but did not have to dip into reserves this time to do it.

Last December, when the welfare and medical departments learned they would not have enough money to furnish the 1963-64 year, the county reserves were depleted, funds were borrowed from those being saved for the second unit of the civic center, and an austerity program was put into effect in other county departments.

This time, however, money was found in some county-supported welfare programs and aid programs where the state and federal governments share costs with the county.

Auditor-Controller Michael Mitchell said his office went over the budget changes item by item and he thinks no further changes will be needed before June 30.

On the $101,702 added to the budget, $73,071 will be new subventions from the United States and California governments, and most of the rest, $21,680, will come from funds which will not be spent in the new program to aid families with dependent children where parents are unemployed.

The infusion includes $26,574 for old age security, $24,177 for aid to families with dependent children where a parent is disabled or absent from the home, $6,951 for care in boarding homes and institutions and $44,000, all from outside sources, for the aid to needy children counselling program.

County Administrator Alan Bruce was ordered to make a study on how the county should use newspapers for legal notices. The board accepted the Pacific Sun, Stinson Beach, as an official county newspaper.

Supervisor Peter H. Behr raised the question of adequate notice, since the Sun circulation was reported to be about 1,000. The county now uses six official newspapers, one at a time for three-month periods.

Behr asked whether notices of hearings concerning Tiburon, for instance, should be published in a paper which circulates only in West Marin, but added that he had heard many small newspapers depend heavily on income from legal advertisements.

The Marin County Board of Supervisors also:

1. Received an inventory report from Mitchell on county equipment and furniture, stating the value at $2,020,180, of which $741,776 pertained to the county garage operation. The board agreed to write off $131 worth of lost furniture.

2. Denied a request by the San Joaquin County Hospital for a reciprocal arrangement whereby Marin and San Joaquin counties would care for each other's patients who became ill or injured in the other county, but not bill the home county for the care as is now done. Medical director Dr. Michael Scholl said the effect would be to cost Marin money.

3. Approved a small annexation of land on Morningsun Avenue, Tamalpais Valley, to the Almonte Sanitary District.

4. Agreed to allow members of the American Legion Auxiliary to sell poppies near, but not inside, the civic center building.

5. Invited members of the Sausalito School District Board to a meeting of the supervisors and the Marin County Housing Authority June 17, and agreed to use part of the time of that meeting to discuss landscaping at Marin City.

6. Approved an animal control ordinance contract with Sausalito.

7. Agreed to pay Danna Garner $5,000 for .128 of an acre for the Coyote Creek widening.

8. Heard a preliminary report from public works director Donald R. Frost that adding space to the Street would cost $3,500 but would not endanger any trees. Frost was told to check on the possibilities of adding to the lot on the opposite side of the building too.

9. Approved an agreement whereby the county will participate with the Marin County Soil Conservation District in a $9,375 contract with the George S. Nolte Co. for engineering on a master drainage plan for the Lagunitas Creek and Walker Creek watersheds.

10. Continued to next Tuesday formal approval of the change in the county electrical code requirements for new construction.

11. Approved rezoning of the Kaehler-Farrar property south of the Lucas Valley interchange and west of Highway 101 from general commercial to planned residential and 10 acres of planned commercial.

12. Approved precise development plans for Red Hill Unit 1 apartments.

13. Set hearing for June 16 on an appeal by Bennie Ratto, 20 South Knoll Road, Alto, from planning commission denial of rezoning for apartments of his property.

14. Appointed Edward W. Walsh as junior civil engineer, public works department.

15. Tabled a request from the Marin Ambulance Service for a franchise for exclusive operation in parts of the county, on recommendation of John F. Barrows, assistant county administrator, who said such a franchise would be of "questionable validity."

16. Authorized the County Library to allow Mill Valley Library users to use the county library without fee since both libraries are members of the North Bay Cooperative Library System.

17. Authorized a letter to Rep. Donald H. Clausen urging him to support the federal urban mass transportation bill pending in Congress, which would provide federal funds for capital improvements if a Marin Transit District is formed.

18. Authorized rental of the County Library bookmobile to the San Rafael City Library three days a week during July and August at a rate of $30 a week.

Bullet Hole Is Found In Plane Panel

MARTINEZ (AP) — Investigators have reported tangible evidence that a revolver was fired inside a Pacific Air Lines plane that crashed May 7.

Dr. L. H. Fracer, Contra Costa County coroner, said yesterday a bullet hole has been found in the instrument panel of the plane which carried 44 persons to their deaths when it nose-dived into a rural hillside.

Fraser said X-rays had not determined if a bullet struck anyone aboard the plane. But he emphasized that only some of the remains could be studied.

Investigators have theorized that either the pilot or co-pilot or possibly both—were shot just before the plane crashed.

A revolver found in the wreckage and the crew's last radio message, in which the word "shot" was heard, are the basis for the theory.

The revolver was traced to Frank Gonzalez, 27, a passenger on the plane.

Concert Drive Results Due

Final outcome of the Marin Music Chest's current subscription drive will be announced when volunteers meet at 2 p.m. next Tuesday at the home of Milton H. Esberg, 51 Glenwood Avenue; Ross.

Eleven areas in the county and three outside Marin have increased subscriptions over last year, according to Mrs. Samuel Archibald, Music Chest president.

The 1964 concert series opens June 28 with the appearance of pianist John Browning. Other performances will be by violinist Jacob Krachmalnick July 12, soprano Mary Costa Aug. 9, and the Korean Song and dance company called "Arirang" Sept. 20.

Teachers' Pay Measure Passes

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — The State Senate has given final passage to a bill increasing the minimum salary for California school teachers from $4,500 to $5,000 a year.

The bill, by Assemblyman Edward M. Gaffney (D-San Francisco), went to the governor for his signature.

Sen. Fred S. Farr (D-Carmel), who presented the bill in the Senate said only 1549 teachers out of the 131,000 in the state presently were receiving less than the $5,000 minimum provided under the bill. Farr said the average raise required by the bill would be $141 and the total cost would be $219,756.

Heath will have its real estate offices on the second floor—and Marin Title Guaranty Co., moving from across the street, will occupy two-thirds of the ground floor. Other space will be leased. Completion is expected in four or five months.

SAN RAFAEL ATTORNEY Pendergrass and McKenney have moved from 1040 B Street to the Kaehler-Farrar Building at Fourth and C Streets, occupying the penthouse.

Robert W. Pendergrass, will be guest speaker Thursday night at the investment class conducted by Jess J. France Jr. at Sir Francis Drake High School. His subject will be "Tax and Estate Planning." This is the last in an investment series.

RONALD A. GONSALVES of San Rafael has joined the recently opened Sequoia Title Co. of Paul R. Leahy in the Montecito Shopping Center, and has been elected a vice president.

Gonsalves formerly with Cal-Marin Title Co., is a graduate of San Rafael High School. He majored in engineering at the University of California in Berkeley.

TWO MARIN RESIDENTS—Dale C. Heiman of Greenbrae and Philip L. Jones of San Rafael have been named vice presidents of Manning's, Inc., west coast food service corporation. Heiman, who started with the company in 1936, was elected to the board of directors to be in charge of all restaurant operations throughout the western states. Jones is in charge of the institutional division. He joined Manning's as a trainee in 1955.

JERRY HANNAN of Shamrock Dodge, San Rafael and Shamrock Motors, Mill Valley has been elected a director of the newly organized San Francisco region Dodge Advertising Assn. of Northern California and Northern Nevada.

LLOYD M. KAHN of Belvedere has been elected vice president of the National Assn. of Insurance Brokers. He is past president of the Insurance Brokers Assn. of California, and president of the Lloyd M. Kahn Co., an insurance brokerage firm in San Francisco.

ANDREW M. GILLESPIE, San Rafael, has been appointed an agent for the Farmers Insurance Group. He was formerly a representative for Alitalia Airlines.

Three-year awards were received by George Barda, Jesse Adkins, George Styman and Peter Montoya. Two-year awards: Tom Cardoza and Warren Blake. One year awards: Vernon Coker, Allen McClure, Ray McClure, Frank Gardner, Robert Young, Don Pressley and Leroy Potter.

Rail Gain Paces Market During Active Trading

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market closed higher today with rails making big gains. Final dealings were active.

The rails set the pace all day. Wall Streeters said word got around about a reported agreement between New York Central and Pennsylvania Railroad and their labor unions removing a major opposition to their proposed merger.

Volume for the day was estimated at 4.8 million shares compared with 4.38 million yesterday.

Gains of fractions to 1 or 2 points prevailed among key stocks. There was a minority of losers.

Airlines, motors, retails, chemicals, tobaccos, drugs and building materials joined in the advance.

After two days of sharp decline the market met buying support. Rails were in favor after their recent achievement of making new highs on average in the midst of a falling market.

Up more than 2 points were Pennsylvania Railroad and New York Central.

Texas Gulf Sulphur, up about a point, was leading in volume with Pennsylvania Railroad second and Chrysler, up a fraction, third.

Also up about 2 were General Cigar, Occidental Petroleum, Woolworth and Xerex. IBM added 4.

Prices on the American Stock Exchange advanced.

Corporate bonds were mixed. U.S. government bonds were mostly unchanged.

Airline Offers Courtesy To Credit Card Patrons

SAN FRANCISCO — More than 1 million American Express credit card holders may now charge travel on American Airlines flights and pay for them in installments, and the airline has reported that more than 100 sales were made during the first four days the policy was in effect.

The plan, approved by the Civil Aeronautics Board, extends "instant credit" to Amex card holders and gives them an option of repaying the cost of tickets in three, six, nine or 12 months.

Business Award Winner To Teach

Mrs. Loretta Nedrow, 21, of Berkeley, recent recipient of an award of Merit from the National Business Education Assn., will teach at College of Marin next fall.

A graduate of San Francisco State College, she also received the college's business education department award as outstanding scholar.

Revenues Increase

WILMINGTON, Del. — Revenues increased 9.5 per cent in the first three months of 1964 and traffic in the first two weeks of May was 14 per cent ahead of the same period of last year, stockholders of American Airlines, Inc., have been told.

Airline To Extend

SAN FRANCISCO — Trans World Airlines will extend its California to Europe cargo jet schedules June 1, inaugurating through service to Geneva and Zurich, it has been announced by Daniel P. Reid Sr., director of sales.

National Airlines Hits New Record For April

MIAMI — Establishing new records for the month of April, National Airlines had net income of $1,304,000 on revenues of 11.8 million dollars, E. F. Dolansky, vice president of finance, has reported.

The net income for the month equalled 73 cents a share on 1,784,000 shares outstanding. This compares with net income of $700,000 or 35 cents a share, an revenues of $9,785,000 for April 1963 when 1,985,000 shares were outstanding.

5,098 Natural Gas Well Is Completed

OAKLAND (AP) — Buttes Gas and Oil Co. has announced completion of a 5,098-foot natural gas well 12 miles west of Marysville, the 45th completion on the firm's Sutter Buttes lease.

The initial completion rate is 3.25 million cubic feet a day flowing through a ⅜-inch choke at a pressure of 875 pounds per square inch, the firm said.

Value Is Placed On Public Utilities

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The state thinks California's privately owned public utilities are worth 4.224 billion dollars.

That's the tag the Board of Equalization put on them for tax assessment purposes. Pacific Telephone led the list with a 1.3-billion-dollar valuation, with Pacific Gas and Electric Co. second at 1.2-billion-dollars.

San Francisco Firm Moving To Peninsula

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The Simmons Mattress Co. will move its 800-employee operation next year from San Francisco's Bay Street, its location for 43 years, to San Leandro.

Manager Gifford Christenson said it was leaving the four-story building in favor of a plant where all operations could be on one floor.

Dividend Declared

OAKLAND — Directors of Longs Drug Stores, Oakland based retail drug chain operating 25 stores in California and Hawaii, has declared a quarterly dividend of 15 cents, payable on each share of common stock. The dividend was declared payable June 19 to stockholders of record June 5.

IRKSOME PROBLEM

Outflow Of Dollars Is Due To Pick Up

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—The outflow of American dollars is due to pick up again. It barely topped the return flow from abroad in the first three months of the year. This was the best showing since the third quarter of 1957 when the Suez Canal crisis gave U. S. exports a big temporary boost.

In April the unfavorable gap between incoming dollars and outgoing ones widened again. The prospects are for an increasing spread to keep the deficit in U. S. international finances an irksome problem.

The reasons:

1. The farm exports that helped trim the balance of payments deficit in early 1964 are likely to slow down. The barriers that other nations impose against American farm products are likely to be raised as lowered, judging by rumblings from the European Common Market.

2. The tourist season is starting. Prosperous American citizens are expected to spend record sums abroad this summer.

3. As industrial production picks up here, and as Americans spend more for consumer goods, both domestic and foreign, imports seem sure to increase. While U. S. exports doubtless will continue to top imports by a good margin, the gap will narrow.

4. Outflow of U. S. investment funds picked up again in April. They had poured back into the United States in March, possibly so that corporations could meet income tax payments due March 15. It was this inflow of earnings on foreign investments that got much of the credit for cutting the seasonally adjusted deficit in the balance of payments to 136 million dollars in the first quarter of 1964.

The deficit arises because dollars sent abroad for foreign grants and loans, military bases, travel, investments and to pay for imports exceed the dollars returned in payment for exports, investments by foreigners here, and yields on American investments abroad.

Government spending abroad gets much of the publicity. But there are other kinds of outflowing dollars.

American tourists last year spent about 1.6 billion dollars more abroad than foreigners spent here. The deficit is expected to increase this year.

Bank Increases Capitalization

SAN FRANCISCO — Expansion of the Sumitomo Bank of California has necessitated another 3-million-dollar increase in capitalization, the sixth since the bank was incorporated in 1953, it is announced by Makoto Sasaki, president.

The new move will increase the bank's capital and paid-in surplus by some 3 millilon dollars and bring its capital and paid-in surplus to approximately 10 million dollars, Sasaki said.

The capital increase offers Sumitomo's 1,500 stockholders a total of 77,500 shares of the bank's stock at $33 per share. Par value of the stock is $20 and paid-in surplus is $13. In addition, 20,000 shares will be offered directly to the public. The offering will be underwritten by Dean Witter and Co. and Associates.

Bank Of America Opens 24th Foreign Branch

SAN FRANCISCO—Bank of America opened its 24th foreign branch today in Bombay. It will employ 46 Indians and four Americans.

Bank of America is the first American bank to enter India since Indian independence. It has maintained a representative office in New Delhi for 11 years.

Chrysler International April Sales At 11,166

GENEVA, Switzerland — Sales of Chrysler International and its subsidiaries and associated companies during April reached a total of 11,166 cars and trucks.

This is the highest sales figure registered for any month since Chrysler International was formed in September 1958. Total sales during the first four months of this year reached 42,032 units exceeding sales for the same period of 1963 by nearly 54 per cent.

Board Chairman Is Announced

SAN FRANCISCO — The board of directors of Walston and Co., Inc., has announced the appointment of Daniel J. Cullen as chairman of the board and chairman of the executive committee.

The announcement resulted from the death of Vernon C. Walston, former president.

Cullen, of San Mateo, was executive vice president of the organization and headquartered in San Francisco in charge of West Coast operations.

Earnings Ahead

SAN FRANCISCO—Consolidated Freightways, Inc., has reported record sales and earnings for the first four months of 1964. President William G. White said April figures reached new highs for that month, boosting year to date earnings $1,377,000 ahead of the same period last year.

School Aid Initiative Endorsed

Fairfax School District trustees voted 4-to-1 last night to endorse a state initiative, being pushed by the California Teachers Assn., which would amend the California constitution to increase the basic state aid for school districts.

Board president Laurence G. Hermann voted against the endorsement.

The initiative, which the teachers association hopes to put on the November ballot, would raise the basic aid from $125 to $135 per pupil in average daily attendance. This basic aid represents only a part of the state's aid to school districts, which is granted under a complicated formula.

The board discussed and heard comments from the audience on the proposed 82-acre Oak Manor Highlands to be built outside Fairfax but within the school district.

The board has already protested the apartment type development proposed for a portion of the land.

Fairfax trustees also:

1. Accepted the resignation of Carmela Jurgens, second grade teacher at Deer Park School. She will leave at the end of the school year for Santa Barbara, where her husband has taken a job.

2. Hired Carol Pursglove as the district's third kindergarten teacher. She will begin next school fall. Supt. Homer Sisk reported that having three kindergarten teachers will mean that the district will not have to turn down any enrollments.

$11,500 In Furs Stolen From Home

Burglars who apparently kicked open a locked kitchen door in broad daylight yesterday made off with $11,500 worth of furs from the home of Mr. and Mrs. Enrico F. Introini at 319 Point San Pedro Road, San Rafael, Marin County sheriff's officer reported today.

Mrs. Introini said she, her husband, who is a 68-year-old retired wine and beer wholesaler, and her mother, Mrs. Alba Lafranconi, who resides with them, were all away from noon until 4:30 p.m. yesterday.

On returning, she said, they discovered the southwest kitchen door had been broken and the two bedrooms ransacked.

She said two full-length mink fur coats, valued at $4,000 each, were taken, along with an ermine stole valued at $2,000 and an ermine jacket worth $1,500.

One full-length coat and the jacket are owned by her mother, she said. She owns the others.

All closets were ransacked, but nothing else of value was taken. Deputies said the furs apparently were carried out in a pillow case. A second case was thrown on a bed, possibly after being used to wipe fingerprints, deputies added.

Manager Against Tree Ordinance

The Larkspur City Council will hear a recommendation from its city manager today at its 8 p.m. meeting that a proposed tree ordinance, which has been protested by residents of Madrone Canyon, not be adopted.

Ronald E. Piper has recommended that the ordinance not be adopted because little would be gained over present control of trees growing in the city's rights of way. The proposed ordinance would give Piper control over what trees should be cut.

The council will discuss the proposed budget and consider adoption of a proposed subdivision ordinance.

Daylight Train Quits Run Until June 10

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The Southern Pacific's Shasta Daylight passenger train, operating between Oakland and Portland, Ore., was discontinued today until June 10 in accordance with an Interstate Commerce Commission decision.

The ICC yesterday granted the railroad permission to drop the trains except during the period from June 10 to the first Tuesday after Labor Day each year.

ALONG MARIN'S SPORTS TRAIL

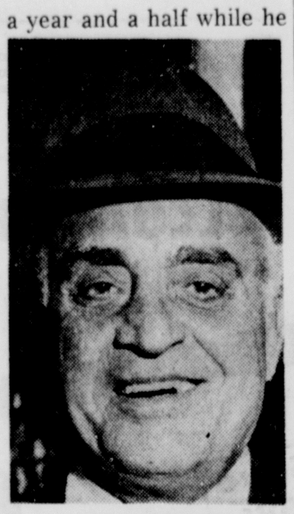
Benny Ford Back In Fight Game, Promises Big-Time Bouts For S.F.

Bantam Bennie Ford, who has promoted more good fights than a Nevada justice of the peace, is back in the boxing business and San Francisco's starved Cauliflower Corps can look forward to an occasional feast if Ford's dreams materialize.

Out of fistiana for about a year and a half while he tended to his restaurant interests, Ford was re-issued his California matchmaker's license last Friday and already he's cooking up some big attractions.



BENNIE FORD

"I'm sick and tired of hearing how dead boxing is," the fiery little paisano starts off in his inimitable roar, "I'll prove San Francisco can draw. Nothing small for me. I'm going to put on nothing but great shows."

For a starter, Ford is negotiating with world middleweight king Joey Giardello for a possible non-title go. The matchmaker also has feelers out to heavyweight contender Doug Jones.

He hopes to land one of those attractions for a June 22 date at the Cow Palace under the banner of Civic Enterprises, Inc., Leo Minskoff promoter.

FORD, WHOSE real name is Batiste Forte, has visions of returning to the top of the boxing promotional ladder. Though he's never fought a lick, Ford has been involved in the fight game for close to 48 years, working up from a towel boy to promoter-matchmaker, managing and training in between.

His greatest promotion was the Fullmer-Basilio middleweight title brawl in 1959 which drew a $140,535 gate. His 1954 Bobo Olson-Rocky Castellani middleweight title go rang the till to the sweet tune of $123,000. Those were his only hunnert granders, but 10 other world title bouts and countless other good brawls under Ford's promotion have kept the little guy in the silks, white linen and serge suits he loves and wears so well.

Ford, who lives at 55 Winship Avenue, Ross, goes first class or not at all. As he says, "If you give fight fans old fish that smells, they'll stay away. But I'm going to give them big names, good matches. You'll see; boxing is far from dead. I'll prove it."

SAN ANSELMO'S Johnny Boccabella, laboring for Salt Lake City Bees in the Pacific Coast League, has found a long lost cousin in Ken MacKenzie, the Giant pitcher now with Tacoma.

Boc has faced the offerings of MacKenzie only three times this year — twice in spring training and again last Sunday —and each time hit a home run!

Incidentally, Boc's parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Boccabella of 317 Greenfield Avenue, San Anselmo, plan to vacation in Salt Lake City in July. I imagine they'll see a game or two while there.

SUSPENSE: Last week we noted here that a former Terra Linda High athlete won his block letter in freshman baseball at Fresno State College, neglecting to mention the lad's name. It's Jerry Daniele.

JOE ANSELMO of San Rafael (or is it Joe Rafael of San Anselmo?) saw the recent Modesto-Fresno series in the State League and says Marin's Jerry Ard (shortstop) and Ron Cole (pitcher) are going great guns for Modesto.

"Jerry is playing regularly at short and making some unbelieveable plays, is hitting around the .280 mark and is well liked by the fans," says Anselmo. "Cole has been especially impressive with his control and low earned run average, although his record is now two wins against three losses. I saw him lose a heartbreaker to Fresno, even though he had a no-hitter for five innings and allowed a total of five hits in the seven innings he worked. In the start prior to the Fresno game, he won a four-hit shutout."

Anselmo, a scout for the Houston Colts and manager of the semi-pro Billings-Hutchison Builders of local fame, also came back with raves for Masanori Murakami, the teenaged Japanese southpaw mound ace signed by the S.F. Giants and assigned to Fresno. "He is about the best I have seen in the State League in many years," says Joe. "He possesses the finest minor league curve ball I've ever seen and to date is still unscored upon, taking a regular starting turn and relieving between starts as well.

"Larry Smoot, former Builder catcher now catching for Fresno, says he is great and that the only trouble he has is in learning to give him the signals in Japanese."

CHIPS OFF the old block, dept.: Bob Ramsey, the San Rafael High School golf star, is son of Dr. Doug Ramsey, one of the Meadow Club's better shot-makers.

On Monday young Bob beat Redwood's Buzz Beattie Jr., son of another prominent Meadow Clubber.

Can't you see it, the Doc needling Buzz Sr., "Yaa, my kid can beat your kid."

No Hitting, But Giant Pitching Shines

The hitting still doesn't amount to much, but manager Alvin Dark of the San Francisco Giants had to admit today that the pitching is mighty fine.

The Giants' hurling staff, under the astute direction of coach Larry Jansen, recorded its third shut-out in its last four games last night when Jack Sanford blanked the Philadelphia Phils, 3-0.

With the victory the Giants moved into first place in the tight National League pennant race.

And they had Juan Marichal, the winningest pitcher in the majors with a 6-0 record, going for them today. Hurling for the Phils was the talented Art Mahaffey (2-2).

Ron Herbel and Bob Hendley blanked the New York Mets in a twin bill on Sunday. Monday, the Giants lost a 4-2 decision to the Mets—and then Sanford came back with his masterpiece last night before 16,936 fans at Candlestick Park.

"Our pitching has been pretty good," Dark opined. "And you have to give Del Crandall credit for calling a fine game. It was an outstanding job."

Dark still is worried about the hitting. San Francisco got eight blows last night — but rookie Jimmy Hart collected half of them.

"Before the season started, we thought we had so much hitting power that it frightened me," said a Giants' official after the game. It still frightens me. But in another way."

Last night it was the veteran Crandall who broke up the game. After Hart had led off with a single in the seventh, he was sacrificed to second. Crandall then singled to center to knock in the go-ahead run.

Enroute to the victory, his fourth against three losses this year, Sanford struck out six and walked only two.

Short Shots: Tomorrow's hurlers will be Bob Hendley (3-3) for the Giants against Ray Culp (1-4) for the Phils . . . Dark shook up his lineup last night in an attempt to break up the hitting doldrums. He benched Jose Pagan and played Jimmy Davenport at short . . . And he had Willie McCovey batting second . . . McCovey failed to get the ball out of the infield in four tries and struck out twice . . . San Francisco has scored only 20 runs in its six home games this stand — an average of a little more than three per tilt . . . losing hurler Dennis Bennett decided discretion was the better part of valor and walked Mays three times . . . Duke Snider, batting only .200 as a regular, is hitting at a .429 clip as a pinch-hitter with three safeties in seven attempts . . . Giants hurlers have tossed six shut-outs so far this year . . . Phil's manager Gene Mauch sat out the second day of his two-day suspension last night and will be back on the bench managing today.

"But I can't do the hitting," he sadly observed. "I tried changing seats three times last night to break up that shut-out. But it didn't work."

Terra Linda, Drake Tied For Loop Lead

Trojans Fall To Novato Baseballers

David met Goliath yesterday on the baseball fields of the Marin Athletic League.

The sixth-place Novato High School nine met the league-leading Terra Linda team and stung the mighty Trojans with an eight-inning, 6-4 defeat.

Terra Linda's loss dropped them into a tie for the MAL top with Drake High, after the Trojans had dominated the standings for many a week.

The contest yesterday was one where Novato would score, and then Terra Linda, in their half of the inning, would match the Hornet tallies. Finally, after identical scoring through seven innings, the winners came up with two in the first extra inning that Terra Linda couldn't cover, and the upset of the MAL baseball season was history.

After the Trojans had scored two in the bottom of the seventh to mirror the pair Novato had managed just before, the Hornets came up with some smart and timely baseball to gain the win.

Charles Larsen led off the eighth with a single and Gene Helbing followed him on the basepaths with a walk. Joe Wright sacrificed both runners along, and then George Scherba drove a clutch single to the outfield to bring both runners home.

John Dolinsek went the route on the mound for Novato for the first time this year, and Bill Lee, pitching his fourth straight game, wobbled for seven weary frames before giving the ball to teammate Ed Beckley in the eighth.

Redwood Frosh Baseballers Win

Redwood High School's frosh baseball team, behind some strong pitching by Kevin Wilson and Bill Poole, nipped Tamalpais' freshmen yesterday 5-4.

Wilson won his fourth game without a defeat this year and picked up two hits to raise his batting mark to .579. Poole struck out 12 batters in four innings and Wilson whiffed 6 more for a total of 18 strikeouts.

Tam Thumps Redwood In MAL Action

Led by Cedric Collett's three-run homer, the Tamalpais High School nine scored five runs in the opening inning yesterday to down Redwood, 5-4, in a Marin Athletic League contest.

After the Giants had scored two in their half of the first, the Indians decided to find their own warpath. Luckless Jim Garrett was on the mound for Redwood when the Indians attacked, and before he knew it, Tamalpais had collected enough runs to win the game.

John Hammond made it to first on an error, and Rick Miller singled him into scoring position. Alex Robertson came up with another single to put Hammond across, but on the same play, Miller was picked off at third. The Redwood team was far from out of the woods, however, as Robertson stole secnd while Greg Tellis was drawing a base on balls. Tam hurler Dick Daniels then took a third strike, but Robin Prosch came through with a single to score Robertson. And up came Cedric.

Collett, who normally plays shortstop for the Indians, started his first game of 1964 at the left field position. It did wonders for his batting eye. Cedric smashed one of Garrett's hummers far out into the centerfield gloom, and three happy Tam runners came across the plate.

Redwood managed single runs in the third and sixth innings, but fell one short of a tie when they made their final out in the seventh.

Sugar Ray Wins

PORTLAND, Maine (AP) — Sugar Ray Robinson, the former world middleweight champion, won an unanimous 10-round decision last night over Gaylord Barnes of Trenton, N.J.

Robinson, at 44, showed little of his old time prowess. He weighed 162 and Barnes 157.

Big Inning: Pirates Nip Marin 'Cats

Nipping Marin Catholic 4-3 yesterday with a one-inning uprising, the Drake High School baseball team moved into a tie for first in the Marin Athletic League.

The Pirates cashed in on their big opportunity, scoring all their tallies in the third frame.

Down 2-0 going into the bottom of the third, Drake got a break when Don Humphrey, leading off, was safe on an error. Charles Simontacchi, Pirate hurler, worked his Wildcat counterpart, Ben Burch, for a base on balls. Terry Tadlock also got a free pass to load the sacks, and then Loren Galassi forced Humphrey at the plate.

But with just one out and the bases still jammed, the Pirates were far from through. Larry Gerughty lined a single scoring Charles Simontacchi; then Russ Damos connected for another, driving in Tadlock and Galassi. Lon Gallagher hit into a fielder's choice to put Gerughty across for the final and winning tally.

Marin Catholic missed a chance to take home a victory in the last inning. Jim Langbehn was hit by Simontacchi's last pitch to start the seventh, and then Charles Locati came in to mop up—but it was almost the reverse. After Phil Ferris whiffed, Dave Beswick singled. When Bob Lombardi popped up to the infield, it looked like the game was over. But up came George King, the power-hitting first sacker for Marin.

King lashed a single to score Langbehn, and when Dan Aballo managed a walk, the Wildcats had the bases loaded. With the stage set for another Marin Catholic cliff-hanging victory, Bob Redding hit a sad-looking grounder to first base to end the inning and the game.

Sohner Treemen Win Twin Bill

Sohner Tree Service swept both ends of a softball doubleheader from Valley Furniture of Santa Rosa at Albert Park in San Rafael last night, 5-4 and 12-5.

Jay Leatherwood hurled four strong innings in relief in the opener to gain credit for the victory. Sohner made it easy for pitcher Earl Loew in the nightcap by scoring eight times in the first inning.

Tam Jumper Sets North Coast Mark

Topped by a record smashing leap from Tamalpais High School broad jumper Mike Holloway, track and field stars from the Marin Atheltic League made a fine showing at the North Coast Section Division III meet yesterday in Santa Rosa.

Holloway jumped 22 feet, 9¾ inches to win the broad jump and snap a seven-year-old meet record. Vallejo High School's Jim Swindle jumped 22-5 in 1957 and no one has done better, that is until Holloway came along.

And if Holloway had not jumped, a Tam athlete would have the record anyway. Mike's teammate, Ellis Williams, jumped 22-5½ yesterday to better the old record, but had to be satisfied with second place. That's quite a jumping one-two punch.

Two other Marin performers ran off with first places in the meet. Tamalpais' Keith Krieger won the mile in 4:23.4, just ahead of second place finisher Steve Brown of San Rafael High. Redwood's Bill Dimpfl won the pole vault with a 12-6 mark. His teammate Collie Janda had the same height but had to settle for third because of more misses.

Redwood's Tom Strathairn had a big day, placing second in both the 120-yard high hurdles and the 180 lows.

It was a warm day with slight breezes at Bailey Field in Santa Rosa and it must have been ideal, along with the highly-touted rubberized cinder track, as six varsity records were broken and four Class B marks smashed.

Teamwise, Marin County schools did quite well. In the varsity, Redwood was second with 34 points and Tamalpais finished third with 25. Vallejo won the whole thing with 46 points.

Vallejo, just as strong in the Class B events, won that with 52 points. Drake was fourth with 18 points, Redwood was fifth with 14, and San Rafael was sixth with 13, and Tam tied for ninth with 8 points.

Lone Marin County first place winner in the Class B events was Redwood's Tim Wardell who won the 120 low hurdles with a sparkling 13.8 clocking.

First five places in all the events qualified for the big North Coast Section track and field meet slated for next Saturday at Leigh High School in San Jose. That will start at 9:30 a.m.

Marin County qualifiers and their results yesterday:

Duffalo Out For 2 Weeks

San Francisco pitcher Jim Duffalo was declared out of the Giant line-up indefinitely after a medical examination yesterday showed the right-hander had suffered a cracked ninth rib and a strained muscle below his 12th rib.

Duffalo pitched three scoreless innings Monday against the New York Mets before leaving with a 1-1 count on the first batter in the fourth.

Doctors said Duffalo would be unable to throw for two to three weeks.

Operation On Podres?

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Los Angeles Dodgers' doctor Robert Kerlin will make a decision within 10 days on whether an operation is needed to repair damage to veteran pitcher Johnny Podres' left arm.

Podres "may go on the inactive list," E. J. (Buzzie) Bavasi, the club's general manager and vice president, said yesterday.

Podres, who has started only twice this year, was hit on the elbow by Warren Spahn at Milwaukee and sidelined for several weeks. He was belted from the mound in his last appearance Sunday at Dodger Stadium.

Easy Tennis Wins For Prep Teams

With the Marin Athletic League tennis championship already tucked away, the Redwood High School netmen easily disposed of winless Novato yesterday, 5-0.

In the fierce battle for second place in the MAL, San Rafael and Tamalpais continued to match wins as the Bulldogs mauled Terra Linda, 4-1, while Tam downed Drake 4½-½. The winners of these two matches hold down identical loop marks of six wins and three losses with one game remaining for each. A loss by either team, which is highly unlikely, would give the second spot to the other.

Complete results:

Redwood 5, Novato 0

Sam Mercer d. Jim Myers, 7-5, 6-3; John Swieg d. Chuck Piper, 6-1, 6-1; Ward Johnson d. Ralph Korstad, 6-1, 6-2; Hillard Witt and Ron Thiesen d. Mike Hinrichs and Gene Abbott, 6-0, 6-2; Lance Russell and Mitch Fink d. Greg Hales and Rich McQueen, 6-0, 6-0.

San Rafael 4, Terra Linda

Gregg Parkerson (S.R.) d. Bob Roman (T.L.), 6-1, 6-0; Ron Klyce (S.R.) d. Gary Nider (T.L.), 6-0, 6-1; Hilary Hawken (S.R.) d. Mike Whitten (T.L.), 6-1, 7-5; Fred Vinson and Graham Massey (T.L.) d. Two HAFB Boxers In Olympic Trial Finals

Two Hamilton Air Force Base boxers will be shooting for a berth on the Olympic boxing team tonight in the finals of the Olympic Trials being held at the New York World's Fair.

In semi-final action last night, middleweight Martin Berzewski of HAFB outpointed Bob McMilliam of Maumee, Ohio, and light heavyweight Bob Christopherson of HAFB decisioned Willis Johnson, Navy boxer from Akron, Ohio.

Bantamweight Arthur Jones, also of Hamilton, made it to the semi-finals but lost a decision to Lou Johnson of Bolling Air Force Base last night.

Berzewski will be fighting Jimmy Rosette of Ream Air Field in San Diego in the finals tonight and Christopherson will be battling Harley Cooper of Offutt AFB, Nebraska.

Winners of tonight's matches will make up the Olympic team that represents the U.S. in the Tokyo Olympics Oct. 10 through 24.

Marin Cyclist Triumphs Again

Ed Meagor of San Rafael, on his Norton, took his third consecutive first place in the unlimited class of the American Federation of Motorcyclists third National Championship Points race of 1964, this one at the Vaca Valley Raceway Sunday.

Bill Dunne of San Rafael finished sixth in the 350cc Class on his Honda Super Hawk. Eric Dahlstrom of Sausalito was forced to retire from this class due to mechanical troubles.

Judo, The Gentle Art, Taught In Marin

By THERON NEWELL

A visitor to the Novato Judo Dojo (practice hall) on any afternoon would find approximately 30 boys and girls throwing each other to the floor, and then getting up, bowing to each other.

Instead of being angry, they are extremely polite to each other. Back they go again, one or the other throwing the other person to the floor.

These young people are learning judo, which is fairly new to this country, but is growing in popularity.

Judo is called "the gentle art," but as I watched a room full of young people throwing each other to the floor with seemingly no effort, it didn't seem so gentle to me.

The sound of their hands hitting the mats as they broke their falls didn't add to the illusion of gentleness. But the boys and girls got right back on their feet and were at it again.

There were all ages of young people in the group—from six years old up to those in high school.

Nor was this "gentle art" being confined to boys. There were girls also throwing each other to the floor.

All this was taking place in the Novato Judo Dajo or judo practice hall at 955 Front Street, Novato.

More than 100 persons use the practice hall in Novato and a second one in Marinwood, owned by the Northern California School of Judo. They come from as far away as Sonora and Sonoma. They use the hall after school, evenings and on Saturdays.

The sport is not confined to young people. Some parents who have children in the school suddenly decide to take up judo both as a pastime and a means of exercise. At the present time, there are 29 parents taking judo lessons with their children at the school.

"The idea of judo is to instill confidence in youngsters," said Clark G. Henry, technical director of the school. It helps draw out the slower child so that he begins to realize his own potential, not only in physical courage, but also moral courage, Henry said.

"We teach rigid discipline in the school," he said. If the student's cannot meet this, they cannot stay in the school, according to Henry.

Judo as a physical art is about 85 years old. It was developed by Dr. Jirogo Kano of Japan, who was president of the University of Tokyo, the dean of five colleges and a medical doctor. He was also the founder of the Kadokan Institute in Tokyo, which is the world headquarters of judo.

When Dr. Kano started developing judo, he had only six pupils. Today there are more than 100,000 practicing it daily in Tokyo.

"Because the Oriental people are small people, they were at a disadvantage in combat with the Caucasian race," Henry said. That was what inspired Dr. Kano to devise the system of balance and leverage known as judo, or the gentle art of handling an opponent.

"There are 40 basic holds in judo, and 1,000 variations of them," he said.

In judo, there is a system of degrees, or mastering the art. There are 14 possible degrees in international judo, signified by "belts." In the Novato school, these depend on ages.

In the 5 to 12-year-old group, there are yellow, blue and orange belts for proficiency. From 13 to 16 years, there is a green belt and three shades of violet.

From 17 years on, there are three grades of brown. The black belt is for exceptional ability.

In world wide judo, only seven men have ever received the 10th of the 14 possible belts or Dan as it is called. Only three Caucasian men in the world have received the sixth degree. One of them is Anton Geesek of Holland who was the teacher of Djordie van den Hof, owner of the school in Novato.

This year, for the first time, judo will be one of the physical contests in the Olympics in Tokyo.

"The United States will enter a team and I look for California to dominate the judo team from this country," Henry said. But he doesn't hold any hope for his young students to make the team.

"The members of that team will all come from colleges," he said.

HELPLESS—John Brumer lies prone after being thrown by diminutive judo pupil Mike Kwan as instructor Clark Henry looks on.

THUMP—Weight can be a disadvantage against a judo expert as demonstrated here by Cynthia Curtin, a 145-pound 16-year-old, as she dumps instructor Clark Henry, a husky 180-pounder. Throws like this one are taught in Captain Henry's judo classes at the Novato Judo Dojo (practice hall) in Novato. (Independent-Journal photos by Jim Kean)

Invitational Golf Tourney Scheduled At Indian Valley

The third annual "Invitational" golf tournament will be held at the Indian Valley Golf Course, Novato, on May 30 and 31, announced the managers of the course.

The tournament is open to men and women with established handicaps. Players without handicaps will play scratch scores. Prizes will be awarded for individual low-net, low-gross, and team best ball scores.

Entrants may obtain applications to the match by calling Al Leach or writing him at P. O. Box 351, Novato. There will be a $10 entry fee to cover the two days of play and one practice round, the latter to be held any week day preceding the tournament. Entries close at 5 p.m. Friday.

Novato Golfers Blast Drake In League Match

Coming off Monday's 4-2 win over Marin Catholic, the Novato High School golf team made it two quick ones by trouncing Drake, 5½-½, yesterday at Indian Valley.

The big man for the Hornets was former I-J Prep-of-the-Week Barry Hachmyer, who blasted a 2-under par 34 against the Wildcats and then came up with a par 36 yesterday to lead the Novatan golfers in their drive toward second place in the Marin Athletic League.

Complete results of yesterday's match:

Novato 5½, Drake ½

Hachmyer (N) d. Mike Neherin (D), 5 and 4; Gerry Schaefer (N) d. Bob Brackett (D), 3 and 2; Terry Young (N) tied Bob Richeda (D); Bob Bonner (N) d. Phil Baiocchi (D), 1 up; Charley Hughes (N) d. Gordy Nelson (D), 2 and 1; George Martinoli (N) d. Pete Hetener (D), 1 up.

Mrs. Colley Wins At Peacock Gap

Mrs. Robert Colley shot a 108-31—77 yesterday to win trophy day play at Peacock Gap Golf and Country Club. Winners were:

MORE TROUT FOR MARIN

The Bon Tempe and Lagunitas reservoirs in Marin County were scheduled to be restocked with catchable-size rainbow trout this week, it was announced by the California Department of Fish and Game.

Fishermen were reminded by the DFG that the stocking is tentative and subject to change, depending on water conditions and other unpredictable factors.

Junior Pirates Slate Signups

Sign-ups for the Drake Junior Pirates of the Marin Pop Warner Football League will be held Thursday at 8 p.m. at Isabell Cook School, it was announced by head coach Tony Barberra.

Boys must live in the San Anselmo and Fairfax area and must be at least 10, but not older than 13 on June 1. They cannot weigh more than 123 pounds.

The boys must be accompanied by at least one parent or guardian at the sign-ups and should have proof of their birth date.

Fans Pay To See The Best, Feel Cheated When Dark Rests Mays

CONNOLLY

Last Monday afternoon there were 4,860 persons at Candlestick Park to watch the Giants fumble, tumble and bumble a ball game to the New York Mets. If those people had known before hand that Willie Mays wasn't to be in the lineup, 4,000 of them might have stayed away.

All of which prompts me to ask: Is baseball "show biz" or what is it?

Imagine, if you can, an Al Jolson show without Al Jolson performing? Or a Danny Kay show and no Danny?

That is what happens to the Giants without Willie Mays. There ought to be a rule against concealing the fact that Willie Mays isn't going to play. He's the whole show; has been for years.

Manager Al Dark, whenever he decides to pitch Juan Marichal, is pretty certain to let the newspapers know in advance.

Yet, last Monday the Giants scheduled a game and didn't give any notice that Willie Mays was to cool his heels in the dugout. Willie wasn't hurt; he wasn't sick. He was able and eager and willing to play. And he did play when it became evident his loss was to cost the Giants a victory and their league leadership.

SAN FRANCISCO has become more and more a tourist's haven. The visitors here, looking for amusement, seek solace and entertainment at the ball park. And when they go there they are entitled to the best possible show of strength the San Francisco Giants can offer. They were denied it for no good reason. Why should any $110,000 a year ball player be kept on the bench to "rest" after 30 ball games? To me it is next to picking the pockets of baseball fans, who are entitled to a full measure of entertainment any time they lay their money on the line.

It is getting so the Giants disregard the one element of "show biz" that has made it great. They don't give any consideration to whether the cash customer is entitled to the best. And without Willie Mays in the lineup the Giants are not at their best.

IT SEEMS a long time since "General" Alvin Dark strutted, but in the final game of the Met series he really did an old fashioned tango. He kept Willie McCovey in the lineup when it is evident McCovey can't see any better than Tom Drum the blind man. He kept Orlando Cepeda in the first base job when the guy can hardly walk, much less run. And yet, when the whim or fancy strikes him, "Antsy" Alvin trots out all his front line performers just to prove he's the boss and running the show.

Without attempting to second guess the "General" we'd say his judgment in removing Bob Bolin when he did, and his panic in replacing Bob Shaw when he did COST the Giants a ball game. Maybe one of these days he'll give Willie McCovey a rest and maybe he'll decide to play his best lineup everyday not because he wants to, but because the baseball public demands and is entitled to the best the Giants have at ALL TIMES.

Women's Tennis Tourney Slated

The Belvedere Tennis Club will hold a Ladies' Doubles Championship Tournament during the two weeks beginning May 25 and ending June 6. The finals for the matches will be played on June 7, according to the tennis committee director, Mrs. Berton Jacobson.

Managers Needed In S.R. League

The Junior Baseball League of the San Rafael Youth Program, sponsored by the San Rafael Recreation Department, needs two managers, it was announced today by Joseph D. Rodota, head of the department.

Persons interested in managing teams in the 13 and 14 age group should get in touch with Rodota at Albert Field in San Rafael.

Both the junior and senior leagues will start the 1964 season on June 8. Each team will play a total of 15 games.

Softball Hurler Tosses No-Hitter

Bob Brown pitched a no-hitter Monday night to lead the Fairchild softball team to its fourth win of the season, this one over Jameson Trucking of Petaluma, 8-0.

In pitching his masterpiece, Brown struck out eight and gave up only two walks.

Leading the Fairchild batting attack were Nolan Wilson with a double and two singles, John Brookman with a homer and double and Ed Schulze and Jim Phillips, each with a double.

ARTISTS TO AID MENTAL HEALTH

Rev. David C. Jacobsen, pastor of the Sausalito Presbyterian Church, reviews the brush technique of Mrs. Henry H. Benjes, one of some 100 artists whose works will be auctioned from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturday and Sunday at the former Ernie's Waterfront Restaurant in Sausalito, to benefit the Marin Assn. for Mental Health. Looking on is Mrs. Kathryn De Tyrtoff, auction chairman. Rev. Jacobsen will be one of three auctioneers at the event.

Two Men Injured In Highway Crash

Two Petaluma men were injured in a two-car accident on Highway 101, just north of Atherton Avenue in Novato, at 12:25 a.m. yesterday.

Paul Coe, 39, was examined at Novato General Hospital for minor injuries. A passenger in Coe's car, Allen B. Edwards, 27, was taken to Kaiser Hospital in San Francisco where he underwent surgery for a broken arm.

The car driven by Coe north on the highway hit a car being driven across the highway by Charles William McCall, 20, of Santa Rosa, according to the California Highway Patrol.

Mumps, Measles Top List Of Disease For County

Mumps and measles topped the list of communicable diseases reported in Marin County during the week ending Saturday, according to Dr. Carolyn B. Albrecht, county health officer.

There were 63 cases of mumps. Highest number of these in any city was the 19 reported in Sausalito. San Rafael had 16, San Anselmo 11, and from three to five cases were reported in Mill Valley, Kentfield, Novato and the Belvedere-Tiburon area.

More than half of the 55 measles cases were in San Rafael, which reported 28. Kentfield had eight cases, Sausalito had six, while Novato and San Anselmo each had five. Other cases were reported in Larkspur, Fairfax and unincorporated parts of the county.

Streptococcic infections were the only other diseases reported in any number. There were 33 of these, with 18 in San Rafael. From one to five cases were reported in Novato, San Anselmo, Mill Valley, Sausalito and Corte Madera.

Two cases of tuberculosis were reported in Marin City, and there was one case of infectious hepatitis in San Rafael.

Licorice grows wild along roadsides of Aleppo, Syria's largest city. The dried roots of the perennial plant are processed into extracts for the black candy sticks and for industrial uses.

Marketing Research New Style Means A Consumer Check First

By GAY PAULEY

NEW YORK (UPI) — Once upon a time marketing was something the housewife went out to do. Today, marketing is something the business world works at daily, frequently with the housewife in mind.

It is to this new style marketing that Dr. Shoi Balaban Dickinson, a sociologist, has turned her skills and inquiring mind. Her company is the go-between for the manufacturer and consumer.

As a market research expert, it is her job to determine through consumer questioning whether a product a company is considering developing, or has developed, will sell; how a product once introduced can best be sold; if a product is not selling, why not; or check the image a company is projecting to its customers.

"RESEARCH IN effect is to tell management what a woman thinks is true," said Mrs. Dickinson. "It used to be that research would be done after a company had developed and put a new product into the test market.

"But the costs of doing this are fantastic. So they're turning to idea research—to find whether there's a consumer 'need' . . . to avoid market errors."

She cited examples of products which never were brought to market. Scientists for American Cyanamid developed a chemical compound to restore color brightness when sprayed on faded fabric. Is sounded like a natural. Would women buy it?

MRS. DICKINSON'S research interviewed a large number of middle-income housewives, explained the product, asked the reaction. Most of them rejected it. The answer to color fading, in their minds, was not a spray-on disguise but new clothes.

One manufacturer was considering introduction of a two-in-one product aimed for the teen-aged market—a combination skin treatment and sun tanning lotion. Her researching took to the beaches of southern California and along the New Jersey shore to ask teen-ager opinion.

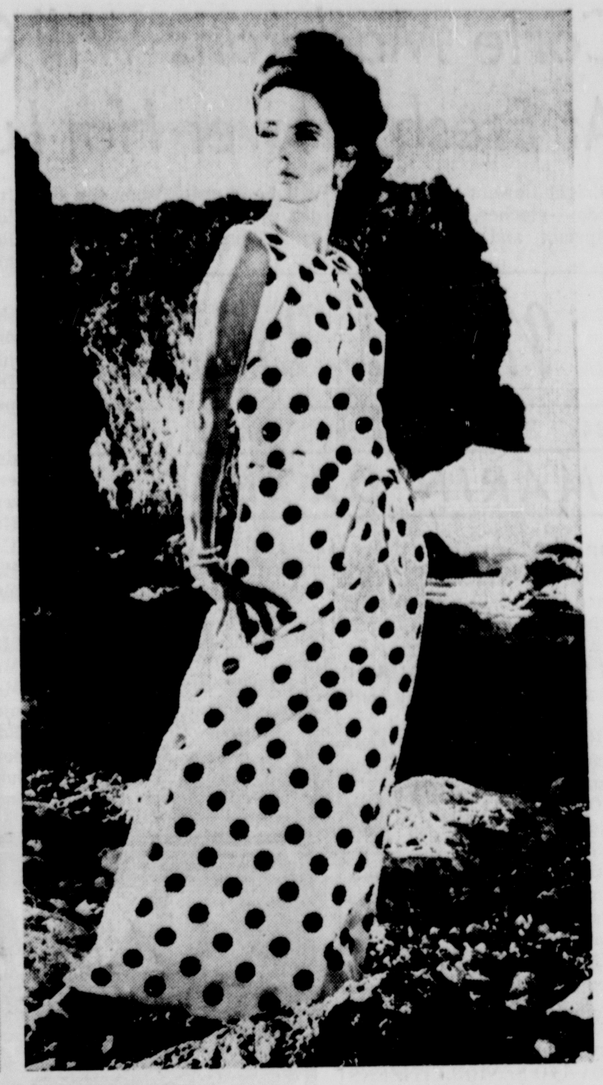
Again rejection, she said, because "the kids thought of the sun as a healing agent and of a tanning lotion as a greasy product, although this one was not, which would only aggravate any skin problems."

Dr. Dickinson, a tall handsome woman of 39, is president of Market Insights, Inc., New York, which she founded a year ago after running her own firm on the west coast for several years.

THE MARKET SPECIALIST holds a doctor's degree from the University of California and taught at her alma mater before she formed her own business.

Her firm checks in assorted ways the reception of consumers, usually women because women do the bulk of family buying. It uses questionnaires to individuals, tape recorded interviews individually, and by tape-recorded group sessions where dozens of housewives gather to discuss a product.

"IT'S AMAZING how easy it is to get women to try a product," she said. "They like to be asked their opinion. I think it's because the company is treating them as part of its operation, not just someone to manipulate."



SET FOR THE BEACH SCENE

A checked pullover with draw-string hood is teamed up with slim-jim pants of wrinkle-resistant yarn dyed poplin of polyester and cotton, at left. The big pockets and long shirt sleeves make this gay top a favorite on a boat or on a beach. At right the perennial polka dot reaches new heights of style in this sculpted lithe and languid looking patio-by-the-sea fashion by Stella Sloat. For lounging or simply leading the full life, it stays cool and crisp in sharkskin of triacetate. It's low belted and styled with Peter Pan collar.

MARIN'S SOCIAL WHIRL

Carolyn Pelto To Be Honored At Bridal Shower, Luncheon

By FLORENCE DONNELLY

Carolyn Pelto, who will be married to Raymond Dietlin July 19 will be honored at a luncheon and bridal shower Saturday at Sabella's. Hostesses will be Mrs. Rudolph Vogel of Sleepy Hollow and her daughter, Nancy. Among the guests will be the bride's mother, Mrs. Walfred Pelto of Sleepy Hollow, and Ray's mother, Mrs. Carol Dietlin of San Francisco.

CONGRATULATIONS are being received by Lt. Mark Stephen Holbrook of San Rafael and his wife on the arrival of a son. The baby, born May 9 at Letterman Hospital in San Francisco, is named Michael Stephen. He weighed eight pounds, eight ounces at birth. Lt. and Mrs. Holbrook have a small daughter, Michele Lynn Holbrook. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Donald B. Anderson, formerly of Belvedere, who now live in Honolulu, Hawaii and Mr. and Mrs. Earl W. Holbrook, former Marin residents, who have been living in Sacramento but are returning to Marin soon. Great grandmothers are Mrs. Oscar Anderson of Kingsburg, Calif. and Mrs. Elizabeth Botrall of Sacramento. Lt. Holbrook is stationed by the Army on Mt. Tamalpais.

A large group of Marinites will attend the Symphony Ball and champagne supper Saturday at the new Hilton Hotel in San Francisco. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Trieber of Belvedere, who will serve cocktails and hors d'oeuvres at their home before going with their guests to the ball have engaged a noted pianist to play at their party, starting the evening on a musical note. Their guests will be Messrs. and Mesdames Ernest Peterson, Henry Eder, Frederic Speier, Peter Mantegani, Jerry Hoytt, C. A. Stevens, Ted Schoonmaker, L. E. Weisenburg, Charles M. Watt, Charles Feder and Fred Pavlow.

Guests will be seated at tables for ten and one waiter will be assigned to each table. The Triebers have decided on a novel way to seat their guests. Each will be given a miniature musical instrument with the name of his or her partner inside.

In another group at the ball will be Dr. and Mrs. John Lesoine, Judge and Mrs. Jordan Martinelli, Dr. and Mrs. Leo Stanley, Messrs. and Mesdames George Goheen, David A. Gregg, Theodore Kolb, Andrew Scatina, Roy A. Bronson and Henry A. White. They will go to the Woman's Athletic Club in San Francisco for cocktails and a buffet supper before the ball. The Lesoines will stay at the Sheraton-Palace Hotel for the weekend as he is attending a convention.

RETURNED to their home on the Belvedere Lagoon are Mr. and Mrs. George Bitter. They went first to New York, saw the World Fair and went on to Nassau for several days. They boarded the Pacific Orient liner, Oronsay, for a cruise of the Caribbean. After that the ship sailed through the Panama Canal, stopping at several ports including Acapulco, and came back along the west coast.

GREEK LETTER DAY

'Magic Gate' Drama To Be Held Saturday

Fifty youngsters who are participants in "The Magic Circle" dramatics program of Marion Hayes Cain in Kentfield will present "Through the Magic Gate," an original dramatization for children, on Saturday at 3 p.m. at the Marin Art and Garden Center in Ross.

Original costumes and scenery will be used for the outdoor performance at the Northgate stage area of the Center.

The Story Lady (Debbie Zeller), locks her story land people behind the gate when she goes off for a story hour, but the elves find her key. These include Shawn Richardson, Debbie Farb, Laurie Antonioli, Gail Urquehart, Katie Harrison, Ellen Farb, Amy Thompson, Lynn Williams and Dennie Mehocich.

In a dramatization of "The Golden Goose" actors are Jack Jenkins, Karen Ginsberg, Diane Winsor, Debbie DeVore, Tracy Griffinger, David Saxton, Holly Watts, Tad Smith, Judy Aylwin, and Mike Tessin, Mark Smith, Robie Setrakian, Sara Arndt, Susie Lehnkering, Wayne and Caroline Linsey, Paul Albritton, Michael Blumberg, and Lucy McCoy.

Marin Women Continue Course In Grooming For Napa Patients

A three-month course in good grooming now in its third year has proved to be of therapeutic value to women patients at Napa State Hospital. Originated and conducted by three Marin volunteers, class sessions for the patients are held on alternate Friday mornings. The group includes Muriel Martin of San Anselmo, chairman, Cornelia Franklin of San Rafael and Louise Jadot of Mill Valley. Also contributing their services are two professional hair stylists, Sally Mead and Glenda Smith, both of Novato.

Enrolled in each three-month training program are 10 to 12 patients referred by the ward physician. The time limit is not mandatory for those who require more individual instruction.

The course includes instruction in good grooming, the art of applying cosmetics, skin and hair care, personal hygiene, hair styling and exercises to promote good posture.

On enrollment each patient is given a cosmetic kit containing personalized cosmetics for facial make-up, cleansing and night creams, nail polish and remover, talcum, hand lotion, shampoo and hair spray. The bags made by the three volunteers are fashioned of drapery material in harmonizing shades.

Until recently the volunteers received their beauty supplies by soliciting cosmetic firms which responded generously. Similar contributions are now being provided by the San Francisco Assn. for Mental Health from proceeds of the recent fashion luncheon presented by the San Francisco Fashion Group, Inc. and including many Marinites. Further assistance has been promised in the way of foundation garments and dress materials for the patients enrolled in the Vanity program.

AN OCTOBER wedding is planned by Sharon Keegan and Ronald Baker at St. Rita's Church in Fairfax. (Les Walsh photo)

Sharon Keegan To Be Bride

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Laufenberger of San Anselmo are announcing the engagement of her daughter, Sharon Keegan, to Ronald Baker of Fairfax.

Sharon is the sister of Corinne Keegan of San Rafael and Robert Keegan of Rohnert Park and the granddaughter of Mrs. A. N. Clerc of San Anselmo. She was graduated from Sir Francis Drake High School and attends Marinello School.

Ronald is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Baker of Fairfax and the brother of Mrs. Tommy Boyd of Stephens, Ark., and Linda and Betty Baker of Fairfax.

He was graduated from Drake High School and is employed with a hardware and building supply company.

An Oct. 3 wedding is planned at St. Rita's Church in Fairfax.

Colombian Wedding Ceremony For R. L. Breyer Of Kentfield

The Union Presbyterian Church in Bogota, Colombia was the setting for the May 1 nuptials of Pamela Jean Peterson and Richard L. Breyer of Kentfield.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley G. Breyer of Kent Woodlands. He is acting manager of a new educational television project in Colombia sponsored by the Peace Corps.

The bride, whose parents are Mrs. Dorothy Peterson of Newport Beach and Loyl Peterson of Los Angeles, recited her vows in a white linen gown with Spanish lace mantilla.

Virginia Nash of Oakland was maid of honor and serving as best man was Kip Durrin of West Virginia.

The couple took a wedding trip to Barranquilla and Santa Marta and in June will tour Rio deJaniero, Caracas, Lima and Buenos Aires. The newlyweds are now living in Bogota.

A Redwood High School graduate, the bridegroom was graduated also from University of California, where his fraternity was Zeta Psi. The bride was graduated from U.C., where she was affiliated with Kappa Alpha Theta sorority. She is teaching English at the Centro Colombo-Americano, an English instruction school sponsored by the U. S. Information Agency.

Charm Authority Set As Section Speaker

Nerice Fugate Moore will speak on "Instant Charm" Tuesday at the luncheon meeting of the Home and Garden Section of the San Rafael Improvement Club at noon.

Owner and director of the House of Charm, Mrs. Moore is fashion coordinator for the San Francisco Fashion Industries, regional director of the International Fashion Group and producer and director of the semi-annual Market Week shows for buyers.

In addition, she directs the July style show in Union Square, organized the fashion therapy show for the benefit of the Mental Health Society and has been working on a day-long fashion seminar.

Mrs. Cletus Fitzharris, chairman of the Home and Garden Section, is chairman of the day. Luncheon chairmen are Mrs. Joseph Fischer and Mrs. Robert Logan. Mrs. Louis Yuvan is reservations chairman, with Mrs. W. C. Cornwell, 614 Belle Ave., San Rafael.

San Jose School Fling Set

San Jose Intermediate School in Novato will hold its annual "Scorpion Fling" May 28.

Sponsored jointly by the Parent-Teacher Assn. and the student council, a family picnic dinner at 6 p.m. will be followed by a talent show staged by San Jose students at 7 p.m.

Mrs. Rita Laherty, faculty adviser for this year's fling, has assembled a cast of singers, dancers and comedians. Included in the group are Laurel Edwards, Barbara Wedge, Martha Tobin, Stephen Porter, Lovetta Smith, Glenna Grewe, Janice Wallaert, Joyce Cheney, Mary Weems, Teresa Creech, Nancy Dugan, Sarah Field, Barbara Evans, Trina Hudon, R. J. Davis, Johnie Kitchen, John Stack, Jay Walker, Dirk and Bob Waltrip.

The school band will perform under the direction of Richard Silvers.

PAMELA BERRY, daughter of Mrs. Dorothy Berry of Mill Valley and is graduating from Tamalpais High School, received the Alice Brewer Wells award from the Business and Professional Women's Club of Marin County. She has a high scholastic record and is interested in biological sciences.

PAMELA ST. JOHNSON, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David St. Johnson of San Rafael, is graduating from San Rafael High School with high scholastic honors, received the Alice Brewer Wells scholarship from the BPWC. She plans to attend University of California and major in physical education and history.

BETTY BAYSINGER, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Baysinger of San Rafael, member of the graduating class of Marin Catholic High School, received the Margaret Keaton scholarship from the BPWC. She is a life member of the California Scholarship Federation and will be a history major at the University of San Francisco.

Officers Elected By Church Women

The Women's Fellowship of the Community Congregational Church of Belvedere-Tiburon has elected officers for the coming year. Mrs. Merritt Mason is the new president; Mrs. George E. Butts, vice president; Minnie Calkins, secretary; Mrs. Ehrer, treasurer, and Mrs. Elmo DeMartini, publicity chairman.

P-TA Workshop

Fourteenth District of California Congress of Parents and Teachers will have a workshop for council and out-of-council officers and chairmen tomorrow at St. John Episcopal Church in Petaluma. Registration will begin at 9:30 a.m.

Luncheon Is Held By Kappa Alumnae

A swimming party and luncheon to conclude the activities for the year of Kappa Kappa Gamma Alumnae of Marin was given today at the home of Mrs. Elmer S. Albritton in Kentfield. Mrs. Rule E. Olson of Mill Valley was the co-chairman with the hostess.

Education Workshop For Parents

"The Church and Family Life: the church's job in sex education, moral values, attitudes and emotions" will be the topic for a workshop on Tuesday from 9:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. at Whitaker Hall, St. Stephen's Parish, Belvedere.

Idea for the session came from a University of California conference on youth, when young people reported that although they look to parents, schools and churches for moral values, they actually hear little to help them build meaningful relationships.

The staff for the workshop includes a panel of women who will raise questions about some of the problems involved, followed by a resume of questions given by the program department of the Diocese of California and the Diocesan Division of Women's Work. The workshop is for women of the church and other Marin parents.

The Church's stand on sex education, marriage and moral values will be discussed by the Rev. A. J. Colton, former vicedean of Grace Cathedral, now rector of St. Francis Church, San Francisco. Acting as consultant on the program is the Rev. Richard Shackell, an associate in the family life division of the department of social relations with the National Council.

Druids Have New Officers

Mrs. Carlotta Thomas of Larkspur has been installed arch druidess of Larkspur Circle 166, United Ancient Order of Druids, for the year.

Other officers who will serve are Mesdames Pearl Redlin, junior past arch druidess; Esther Warrington, first bard; Margaret Powell, second bard; Donald Denton, recording secretary; Agnes Simon, financial secretary; Walter Frizzi, treasurer; Sue McClure, conductress; Pearl Rose, assistant conductress; Mildred Sadbois and Constance Minden, guardians; Miss Mildred Young, chaplain; Mesdames Leland Little, chaplain, and Mesdames William Young, Fred Lagier, William Seeley, trustees.

Others are Miss Carma Clapp, Magdalene McDevitt and Edith Miller, auditors; Jeretta Russell, flagbearer; Evelyn Brauze and Marie Seeley, escorts; Edith Miller and Helen Lagier, supporters to the first bard.

BEAUTY TIPS FROM ME TO YOU
By Dorothy Chapman

Statistics on an insurance-actuary study recently made of the average weight and life expectancy of American men and women reveal that there is a definite relationship between overweight and premature death. It has also been discovered that, as a rule, the women today weigh considerably less than their mothers did. With the men it's a different matter entirely, but we'll avoid that painful subject. These facts to the contrary notwithstanding, there are a large number of women whose glamor quotient suffers considerably simply because of an overweight problem. Somehow, beautiful features, fine intelligence, and attractive personality are subdued in a woman who is too heavy. The remedy, of course, is diet for weight control and use of body spot reducing. Streamline your figure—firm and tone muscles the scientific way.

Board Approves Sale Of Rat Island

The Marin County Board of Supervisors yesterday approved an agreement whereby Draper Companies will buy Rat Island, near China Camp, on the condition that there be no development on the island.

The island, about .08 of an acre, was offered for sale for about 20 cents by the federal government. The agreement provides that if there is any development, the island reverts to the county.

Supervisor Peter H. Behr commented that the agreement with Peacock Gap, Inc., one of the Draper companies, resulted from his suggestion and that he is not "tied in with anyone."

His fellow board member, Byron W. Leydecker has been criticized for "approaching conflict of interest" in the Rat Island agreement by San Rafael Mayor John F. McInnis, who is opposing Leydecker for the District 1 supervisorial seat. McInnis noted that the manager of Peacock Gap is a director of Redwood National Bank of which Leydecker is president.

Part Of Carson Estate Goes To Nature Groups

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Two of the nation's most active conservation organizations will share half of the estate of the late Rachel Carson.

The Sierra Club and the Nature Conservancy announced yesterday that they had been named beneficiaries under terms of her will.

Miss Carson, a biologist and noted author of several books dealing with nature, died April 15—two years after her book, "Silent Spring," caused a major controversy across the nation with its warning that chemical pesticides were poisoning the environment for man and animal as well as insects.

Miss Carson's will set up two trusts—one for family obligations, and one to be shared by the two nature organizations. Each amounts to about half her estate.

The purpose of the Sierra Club is to explore, enjoy and preserve scenic resources of the United States and educate the public about them.

The Nature Conservancy, with headquarters in Washington, has as its primary purpose the preservation of natural areas through their actual acquisition.

College Of Marin Band Concert Set

The College of Marin Community Band, directed by John H. Myers, will present its 1964 spring concert on Saturday evening at 8:30 p.m. at Marin Catholic High School. Admission is free.

The program will include original band compositions and music from other sources arranged for band. Major work will be the three-movement "Second Symphony for Band" by Frank Erickson. Also included is an arrangement of Richard Wagner's stirring overture, Rienzi. In addition, the band will perform works by Prokofieff, Morton Gould, Kenneth Alford and John Philip Sousa. Morton Gould is represented by "American Salute," his ever-popular arrangement of "When Johnny Comes Marching Home Again."

The membership of the 50-piece community band comprises college students, adults from the community, and high school students.

Bjorklund Again To Lead Chamber

A. Leonard Bjorklund, an attorney with offices in Sausalito, was re-elected president of the Sausalito Chamber of Commerce yesterday.

Clifford C. Christison was re-elected secretary-treasurer and Victor E. Hecht was reappointed executive secretary.

Four new directors were declared elected: Gerry Eastman, co-owner of Eastman-Ravizza Agency; Halsey Lyon, vice president of A. G. Schoonmaker, Inc.; William E. McDonnell, co-owner of the Spinnaker Restaurant, and Mrs. Marsha Owen, owner of the Valhalla Inn.

Other directors who have one year to serve on their terms are Luther W. Conover, Russell H. Papenhausen, Trav Duro, Christison and Bjorklund.

Baha'is Will Mark 120th Anniversary

Baha'is of Marin County will observe the 120th anniversary of the declaration of the Bab, prophet-herald of the Baha'i faith, at 8:15 p.m. Saturday at the San Rafael Improvement Club, Fifth Avenue and H Street, San Rafael.

The meeting is open to the public and refreshments will be served, according to Roderic Haake, chairman of the group.

School Radio Transmitter Is Licensed

The Terra Linda High School Electronics Club's radio transmitter has been licensed by the Federal Communications Commission with call letters WB6KFU.

The science wing at the school is now being remodeled and will contain an electronics laboratory and permanent station facilities. The club has received some surplus radio equipment from the military amateur radio service station at Hamilton Air Force Base.

There are nine novice and general licensed operators in the club. Officers are Tom Simpson, WB6FDP, president; Bob Watkinson, WB6AVS, vice president; Mike Baublitz, secretary, and Ken Allen, WB6ECV, activities manager.

Brubeck Marin Debut Tomorrow

Marin debut of jazz pianist Dave Brubeck's famed quartet will take place at an outdoor concert at 8 p.m. tomorrow in the stadium of College of Marin, Kentfield.

Brubeck's appearance will benefit Guide Dogs for the Blind of San Rafael. It will be sandwiched between Japanese and British tours of the group, featuring Paul Desmond on alto saxophone, drummer Joe Morello and bassist Eugene Wright. Master of ceremonies will be San Francisco disc jockey Al Collins.

Tickets for the concert, part of the "May in Marin" celebration, are being sold at music stores and other firms throughout the Bay Area, and will be sold at the stadium.

Pug Puppy Wins

Picnic Valley Sugar Baby, a three-month-old Pug Puppy belonging to Mrs. Ruth E. Wyatt of 1024 Sixth Street, Novato, won first place in best-of-breed and toy-group categories in a puppy match Sunday at the Marist Fathers grounds, San Rafael.

Tam High Election Offers Full Slate For Student Office

Three students will run for next fall's student body president in the Tamalpais High School election to be held Monday.

They are Ken Clarke, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Clarke; David Einstein, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Einstein, and Kees Tuinzing, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Tuinzing, all of Mill Valley.

Candidates for vice president are Paul Abbott of Mill Valley, Larry Gray of San Francisco, and Lee Heidhues of Sausalito. Unopposed candidate for secretary is Edith Nancarrow of Mill Valley.

There were no candidates for student body treasurer at the deadline for filing election petitions. Unopposed candidate for rally commissioner is Linda Hauser of Mill Valley.

Song and yell leaders will be elected June 1.

29 Catholic Students At San Rafael Mass

Twenty-nine Roman Catholic students graduating from San Rafael High School attended Baccalaureate Mass at St. Raphael's Mission Chapel Sunday celebrated by Father John F. McCarthy, moderator for St. Raphael's High School of Religion.

Receiving diplomas for completion of the four-year course of study prescribed by the High School of Religion were Evalee Cantrell, Suzanne Cosette, Ann Figone, Nancy Horre, Carol Gallivan, Alana Gomez, Patricia Moreno, Diane Politano, Paulette Regnani, Patricia Repp, Pam Schmidt, Joan Scotto, Susan Stommel, Sharon Foster, Janice Listman, Paulette Brabo, Nancy Findley, Judi Riella, Diane Riella, Sharon Nedbal, Charlene Brusatori, Mary Dahl, Mike Menne, Thomas Schwerin, Frank Donnelly, Jim Gilroy, John Williams, Michael Augusto and Kevin Waltz.

GOP Group Seeks Rumford Repeal, Condemns Johnson

Resolutions opposing the civil rights bill, endorsing the initiative to repeal the Rumford Fair Housing Act and condemning President Lyndon B. Johnson's "anti-poverty propaganda" were among those passed by directors of the California Republican Assembly over the weekend in Los Angeles.

Robert D. Weinmann of Lucas Valley, the assembly's district director for the First Congressional District, introduced the civil rights and anti-Rumford resolutions, as well as others condemning "questionable criticism" of local police agencies and commending J. Edgar Hoover, director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

The CRA directors also took stands urging state legislation requiring a "mandatory life sentence without parole for a conviction on narcotic peddling," calling for a congressional investigation of the Department of State, and supporting Arizona Sen. Barry Goldwater's proposed "cry for liberty" legislation calling for freedom of "captive nations suffering now in Soviet slavery."

Another resolution, titled "Party Unity," was an indirect reply to Republicans who have charged the CRA was in decline after it endorsed Goldwater's presidential campaign in March.

While not mentioning any candidate by name, the action commended "those Republican candidates who, by refraining from criticizing their Republican opponents, have fostered the unity essential to victory in November."

Weinmann reported that, since endorsing Goldwater, "membership has increased more than 2,000."

Mill Valley Fete Raises $1,200

A sum of $1,200 was raised Sunday at a benefit barbecue at Boyle Park, to be used on the Mill Valley community and youth center.

Joan Murray, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd J. Creemer of 351 Jean Street, was crowned "Queen of Mill Valley" at the festivity by City Mgr. Bert A. Balmer. She was chosen from nine candidates.

Miss Murray was presented with a large stuffed poodle and will also receive a sweater and a dress.

'Burglar-Proof' Vault Yields $400 In Cash, Checks

San Rafael police today sought to learn how someone was able to remove some $400 worth of cash and checks from a seemingly burglar-proof vault inside the Country Club Bowl at 88 Vivian Way Sunday night.

The money and checks, in a bag, were missing when the safe was opened yesterday morning. An employee of the bowling alley found the bag, empty, near Pier 15 in Sausalito a few hours later.

Police said the vault, which was in one office but had a deposit slot leading to another room, might have been emptied by someone lowering a fish hook into the slot.

Leon C. Smith, part owner of the alley, said the exact amount of the theft was not known, but it was believed to be at least $400.

Salvation Army Hopes Drop Box Use Will Rise

There has been a drop in the use of Salvation Army drop boxes in some areas of Marin County and army officials today reminded residents of the need for contributions.

The boxes cited are at the fire station at Caledonia and Bridgeway in Sausalito, at Marinwood Shopping Center, at Jolly Market in Fairfax, at Purity Market in Mill Valley, at Kent Woodlands Shopping Center in Kentfield, at Corte Madera Shopping Center, on Magnolia Avenue between King Street and Madrona Avenue in Larkspur and at Brice Brothers Market in Novato.

FOOT LOOSE

isn't it about time you moved up to a really luxurious 2-bdrm. apt. that's "typically Marin"? . . . enjoy the pleasant combination of warm sunny Marin weather and the cool waterfront breezes practically at your patio . . . enjoy private spaciousness, weather insulation and sound conditioning thruout your apt. . . . join in the pleasures of your own putting green, swimming pool, sauna bath and beautifully landscaped (maintained) gardens . . . now you can content yourself with the convenience of elevators, separate laundry rooms on each floor, fully equipped kitchens, wall-to-wall carpeting and full draperies.

FANCY FREE!

if you choose, we'll move you FREE by Republic Van & Storage . . . or perhaps — absolutely free — the best set of Wilson golf clubs that money can buy to give that putting green a workout), or a FREE portable GE TV set! We want you to be happy getting here . . . and staying here . . . whether you lease or buy, there's more square feet of quality and luxury for the same dollar spent here, than anywhere else in Marin . . .

121—Used Cars for Sale

OUR PRICES ARE LOWER

OUR VALUES ARE GREATER

WHY?

SIMPLY THIS:

Most other dealers sell a lot fewer cars than we do — so they have to make a bigger profit per car.

We like our way better . . .

SO DO YOU!

THAT'S WHY WE KEEP SELLING SO MANY MORE CARS THAN ANY OTHER MARIN County DEALER!

REGULAR MEETING OF THE BOARD OF SUPERVISORS HELD TUESDAY, MAY 12, 1964, AT 9:00 A.M.

PRESENT: SUPERVISORS William D. Fusselman, Peter H. Behr, George H. Ludy, Byron W. Leydecker, William A. Gnoss, Chairman. George H. Gnoss, Clerk.

The Board took the following action:

Authorized the Chairman to execute an agreement with the City of Mill Valley on behalf of the County of Marin providing for the enforcement and administration of the Animal Control Ordinance.

Adopted a resolution adopting job specifications for the position of Assistant Director of Public Works (Administrative).

Adopted a resolution providing for the official adoption by the County of the corrected list of County maintained roads for the fiscal year 1964-65, and directing that same be forwarded to the State Department of Public Works, Division of Highways.

Granted a Sign Permit to Edward Bennett to permit a temporary sign to be placed at the intersection of Highway 101 and Donohue Street, at the entrance to Marin City, for promotion of the Maringate Shopping Center.

The Planning Staff reported on the Commission's approval of precise development plans for the Red Hill Unit 1, Lot No. 6 R-P Development and the matter was continued to May 19th.

Established as policy that bids shall be called for any and all future bonds to be sold in connection with any assessment district, and County Counsel and the Director of Public Works were requested to prepare necessary documents to that effect.

Adopted a resolution accepting and approving for recording the final map of Oak Valley Unit One.

Granted an Adjustment to Goheen Enterprises to permit grading in the area shown on "Grading Plan, Tennessee Valley Unit Two" dated April, 1964, in an R-P-1:10 District, prior to filing of required development plans, subject to conditions as set out by the Planning Commission, on property located at Bell Lane in Tennessee Valley.

Approved the request of Kenneth Frost Associates, and granted an extension of one year's time in which to file the final map of Tennessee Valley Unit One.

Granted an Adjustment to Elbert Ward to permit the enlargement of a non-conforming use upon undivided property, subject to conditions that the parcel shall not be divided as requested, and that the lower house shall be either removed or converted to a conforming accessory use by the end of ten years, on property located at Resaca Way and Parral Way, Forest Knolls.

Adjournment was taken at 5:50 p.m. SINE DIE

Legal Notice

NOTICE TO PAY ASSESSMENTS
SAN QUENTIN VILLAGE
SANITARY SEWERAGE PROJECT

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that all owners of real property liable to be assessed to pay the costs and expenses of the acquisitions and improvements described in Resolution of Intention No. 7211-B, adopted by the Board of Supervisors of the County of Marin on June 12, 1962, are hereby notified that on May 13, 1964, the assessment and diagram to pay the costs and expenses of said acquisitions and improvements was recorded in my office.

Said assessments are due and payable immediately at Treasurer-Tax Collector's Office, Civic Center, San Rafael, California, and must be paid within the period expiring June 15, 1964.

In the event of the failure to pay before the expiration of said period, serial bonds to represent the unpaid assessments and bearing interest at the rate of not to exceed six per cent (6%) per annum will be issued pursuant to the Improvement Act of 1911, and the last installment of such bonds shall mature not to exceed fourteen (14) years from the second day of January next succeeding the next September 1st following their date. Said bonds shall be made payable to bearer and provide a premium of 5% of the unpaid principal thereof on call.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

There Is No Secret About Change Of Life Or How To Treat Person

VAN DELLEN

There is no mystery about the change of life. Symptoms are due to a gradual slowing of ovarian function, combined with the usual factors associated with aging. The diminished output of sex hormones leads to hot flashes and sweats.

Many women pass through the menopause without discomfort. When symptoms are present, hot flashes are the most troublesome. They are uncomfortable and may prove embarrassing. The sweating that follows the flash is almost as annoying; beads of perspiration that form on the forehead and chin are a dead giveaway.

HOT FLASHES are controllable with female sex hormones (estrogens) or derivatives (progesterones). They are advisable when the flashes are bothersome, especially in women who deal with the public, such as receptionists, saleswomen, and executives.

The bioflavinoids, with or without ascorbic acid, can be substituted when there are objections to the use of hormones. Some women dislike the bioflavinoids because they may lend a slightly offensive odor to the perspiration.

SHOULD EVERY woman take hormones during the menopause? This is a moot question. Most physicians let well enough alone and suggest treatment only when needed. A few at one extreme prefer not to interfere with nature.

An equal number at the other extreme believe most women benefit from the use of sex hormones at this time of life. They argue that lack of ovarian function is comparable to castration and hastens the aging process. To these physicians, the menopause is obsolete because potent sex hormones are available.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.)

DIABETES AND STRESS

J. R. writes: Can an accident bring on diabetes?

REPLY

No. A stress period, such as occurs following an accident, operation, or serious infection, may bring on the disease in a prediabetic (a person destined to develop the condition). Now and then sugar is detected after an accident because the urine had not been tested in months or even years.

HYPERTENSION HAZARDS

M. A. E. writes: What are the risks in having high blood pressure continuously for years?

REPLY

It hastens hardening of the arteries, which in turn interferes with the blood flow through the kidneys, heart muscle, retina, and brain. Sixty per cent of all hypertensives die of heart attacks, 25 succumb to strokes, and 10 per cent to uremia.

CAN'T STOP EATING

Mrs. J. F. writes: I'm like an alcoholic who takes one drink and he's off on a toot. I'm trying to lose weight but when I sit down to a meal I can't stop eating. Is there some help for my problem?

REPLY

Will power and more will power.

COFFEE CRAMP

M. K. writes: When I drink coffee on my break, I get a spasm and have to head for the washroom. What can I do about this problem?

REPLY

Give up the coffee on your break. It is not that important.

LYMPH PASSAGEWAYS

J. H. writes: Where are the lymph glands located?

REPLY

In the neck, armpits, groins, and along the larger vessels of the arms, chest, abdomen, and legs.

Gas Engine Exhausts May Be Cancer Cause

By DELOS SMITH

NEW YORK (UPI)—To complicate further the already complicated question of what causes lung cancer, a chemical compound of the nitro-olefin class has been positively identified in the exhaust stream of a gasoline engine.

The existence of nitro-olefins in the exhaust of all gasoline engines has long been suspected. This is the first proof. Its suggestive significance comes from a demonstration that a nitro-olefin in gaseous form will cause lung cancer in mice when it is breathed as part of the atmosphere.

This relates to the part polluted city atmospheres have in causing lung cancer—if they have a part. The scientific case against cigarette smoking minimizes any contribution from that source. But a small minority of scientists persist in believing it may be more important than cigarettes.

An olefin is any hydrocarbon with an open-chain molecule and one or more double bonds. Gasoline and other fossil fuels abound in simpler hydrocarbons. When subjected to the intense combustive heat of a gasoline engine they are transformed into more complex hydrocarbons, including olefins.

But do some of these olefins take on nitrogen atoms and become nitro-olefins? No chemist knows because the exhaust "products" of motor vehicles are so numerous and so complex they have thus far defied complete analysis.

Doctors Kenneth F. Lampe and William B. Diechmann of the University of Miami, Coral Gables, Fla., simplified both the fuel and the engine in looking for an exhaust nitro-olefin.

Rather than gasoline with its assortment of hydrocarbons, they used a single and pure hydrocarbon, isobutylene. By refrigeration they converted it to liquid form and combusted it in a simple one-cylinder, four-cycle engine of the kind that propel lawnmowers.

The exhaust "products" were cooled into liquids as they emerged, and were thus fixed for minutely subtle chemical analysis by several techniques. Each analysis revealed the presence of nitro-olefins and in more than one chemical form.

Diechmann and his associates demonstrated only last year that a "typical" nitro-olefin when made a constituent of atmospheric gases produced mice lung cancers. He and Lampe published the newest findings in the technical journal, "Industrial Medicine and Surgery."

Automobile exhausts produce various nitro compounds and it has been suggested that when they combine with hydrocarbons in polluted air the result is the eye-watering irritant for which city smog is notorious.

But Lampe and Deichmann doubted if they combined into oleo-olefins in the atmosphere, where sunlight plays a conspicuous role in chemical transformations. Indeed, these chemists reported, irradiation by the sun "results in the destruction of nitro-olefins."

To them "it is doubtful that nitro-olefins are formed except during the combustion process (in gasoline engines) itself. While eye irritation constitutes a rather annoying aspect of air pollution, we are now confronted with a far more serious consideration. Automotive exhausts may well be a contributing factor in human pulmonary carcinoma (cancer)."

Disney's 'Dumbo' Is Preview Film

The San Rafael Recreation Department has scheduled a preview Saturday for its summer movie program.

Walt Disney's "Dumbo" will be shown at 10 a.m. at the San Rafael Recreation Center. Through the summer there will be other movies, shown as part of the department's summer playground program.

Thursdays and Saturdays will be movie days. There will be a small charge to cover the cost of film rental.

Melodrama Set By Novato Club

"And the Villain Still Pursued Her" is the title of the melodrama which the Novato Community Club will present at the community house in Novato the night of the selection of the queen for Western Weekend.

Scott Wright was named Monday night to direct the play. Tryouts will be held at 8 p.m. tomorrow at the Barn, south of Lamont Avenue.

Members voted to enter a float in the Western Weekend parade.

Alex Consagra, president, called for scripts to be submitted at the June meeting for the fall fling, scheduled for the first two weekends in November.

Dominican College Art Work Goes On Display

Three seniors at San Rafael's Dominican College have their art works on display this month at the college's San Marco Gallery.

They are Elsie Harle of Wenechee, Wash., Francesca Guheen of San Francisco and Patricia Lopker of San Diego. Another current exhibit shows the works of Anna Foulds of Uganda, a graduate art student.

PERFECT FOUNDATION for shrimp and other seafood salads is new Pink Grapefruit Gelatin—a product that features a subtle pink color and a tangy, fresh grapefruit flavor. The illustrated salad calls for shredded cucumber, diced avocado and shrimp, and the final flavor accent of lemon juice and grated onion.

SEAFOOD

Pink Grapefruit Gelatin Stars

An excellent choice for molded seafood salads is a brand-new gelatin that features the tangy flavor of fresh pink grapefruit. The name of the distinctive new gelatin is Pink Grapefruit Gelatin.

Like the fresh fruit from which the product derives its flavor, the color of the new gelatin is a subtile shade of pink—an appealing color for a wide range of delectable dessert and salad combinations. The following recipe which combines shrimp, cucumber and avocado, illustrates the new product's special affinity for seafood and other salad mixtures.

AVOCADO-SHRIMP SALAD

- 1 package (3-ounce) Pink Grapefruit Gelatin
- 1 cup boiling water
- ¾ cup cold water
- 1 tablespoon lemon juice
- 1½ teaspoon grated onion
- 1 cup finely diced cooked shrimp
- ½ cup diced avocado
- ¼ cup undrained shredded cucumber

Dissolve Pink Grapefruit Gelatin in boiling water. Stir in cold water, lemon juice and grated onion; chill until slightly thickened. Fold in shrimp, avocado and shredded cucumber. Pour into individual molds or a 3-cup mold. Chill until firm. Unmold and garnish with salad greens.

Makes one 3-cup mold or 4-6 servings.

What's Needed In Ole Summertime? Cake That's An Apt Partner For Fruit

What's needed in summertime is an all-purpose cake, one that is readily put together and bland in flavor.

This is the sort of cake that makes an apt partner for the fruit cups, ice cream, sherbets, water ices and other frozen desserts that are served so often in warm weather.

Here's a recipe for just such a confection. This cake has a texture that resembles pound cake. Stored in the refrigerator, it may be sliced thin and served as needed. And it won't overpower a budget.

Bake this cake some cool morning and store it away. Then some torrid day, serve it with the fruit or frozen desserts we've mentioned, or just "as is" at porch-and-lemonade refreshment time.

ALL-PURPOSE CAKE

- 2¾ cups sifted flour
- 2½ teaspoons baking powder
- ½ teaspoon salt
- ¾ cup soft butter
- 2 cups unsifted confectioners sugar
- 4 eggs
- 1 teaspoon grated lemon rind or ½ teaspoon mace
- 2 teaspoons vanilla
- 1 cup undiluted evaporated milk
- 1 tablespoon lemon juice

Sift together the flour, baking powder and salt. Cream butter at medium speed of mixer; add sugar and continue creaming until light and fluffy. Add eggs, one at a time, beating well after each addition. Add grated lemon rind or mace and vanila. Add lemon juice to undiluted evaporated milk, stirring to mix well. Add dry ingredients alternately with the evaporated milk mixture to the egg mixture, beating only until almost smooth after each addition. Turn into a foil-lined loaf dish (9½ by 5¼ by 2¾ inches). Bake in a moderate (350 degrees) oven about 1 hour and 10 minutes, or until cake tester inserted in center comes out clean. (Cake will have crack.) Cool 5 minutes with pan set on wire rack; turn out on rack; peel off foil. Turn cake right side up and cool thoroughly on rack before slicing. To store, wrap cake in foil and refrigerate. (AP)

Sugarin' Off Beans Use Bacon And Pork

A friend's family recipe.

Cleo Cottrell's Sugarin' Off Beans
Cucumber and Lettuce Salad
Orange Gelatin Beverage

CLEO COTTRELL'S SUGARIN' OFF BEANS

- 1¼ pounds dried navy (pea) beans
- ½ pound unsliced bacon
- ¼ pound salt pork
- 1 small can pimiento
- 2 medium sized onions
- Dash cayenne pepper
- 1½ cups maple syrup
- 2 tablespoons dark brown sugar
- 1 tablespoon salt

Soak beans overnight in cold water to cover; drain and turn into large kettle. Grind bacon salt pork, pimiento and onions; add with pepper to beans; cover with water. Cook slowly until tender—a few hours. Just before removing from stove, add but do not stir in the maple syrup, brown sugar and salt. Place all ingredients in a large earthenware bean pot, adding water if necessary to cover completely. Bake covered in a slow (325°) oven for about 2 hours; uncover and bake about 3 hours or until consistency is as dry as desired. Do not stir at any time.

Food Editor's Note: We found we could bake the beans in less time than suggested; we skimmed off fat from top before serving.

Main Dish

Hot potato salad becomes main fare when you add shrimp. Use your favorite hot potato salad recipe, or use one of the packaged pre-cooked potato products. Five minutes before serving time, add fresh or frozen uncooked shrimp that has been shelled and deveined. Heat five minutes.

Apple Crisp Recipe Uses Granulated Brown Sugar

The trend toward convenience food has finally reached a fine old staple, brown sugar, and what it has done for it is easy to see. The Spreckles Sugar Company is now introducing Brownulated, a granulated brown sugar, in Northern California markets. It looks and feels different because it is free flowing and each granule is separate from all the others, and stays that way no matter what the weather. The taste, fortunately, is the same as ever.

In this improved form, brown sugar is easier to use in recipes than ever before. It flows out of the spout on the side of the package just as white sugar does, making it easy to measure directly into a cup or a spoon. There is no packing down (Brownulated just won't pack) so the measurement is the same every time, always accurate. It mixes and sifts with the other dry ingredients of a recipe without any special attention. Best of all, it now warrants a place on the breakfast table, in its own sugar bowl, where it will never lump or harden.

Brownulated is as compatible with apples as brown sugar has always been, but now it is easier to put the two together in a wide range of recipes. Apple Crisp is one example. Here the Brownulated, flour and butter are mixed to form crumbs, a simple test that will prove that lumpless, free-flowing flavorful brown sugar is a noteworthy achievement.

Because Brownulated is slightly bulkier than other brown sugar, it means sometimes a slight adjustment in measurements may be necessary when it is being substituted for the "solidly packed" kind.

APPLE CRISP

- 9 cups pared and sliced tart apples
- 1 tablespoon lemon juice
- 1½ cups Brownulated
- 1 cup sifted all-purpose flour
- 1 teaspoon cinnamon
- ½ teaspoon salt
- ½ cup butter or margarine

Toss apples with lemon juice. Turn into a buttered 9x13x2 inch oven-proof baking dish or individual bakers. Combine Brownulated, flour, cinnamon and salt. Blend butter into mixture with pastry blender until coarse crumbs are formed. Spoon crumbs over apples. Bake in a moderate 375° F. 35 to 40 minutes or until apples are tender. Serve warm. Yield: 6 to 8 servings.

Chicken Wings— Good Snacking

Any leftover chicken wings will make good snacking.

Tomato Cream Soup Crackers
Baked Chicken Wings Rice
Green Peas with Mushrooms
Lemon Tarts Beverage

BAKED CHICKEN WINGS

- 1 pound (about 10) chicken wings
- ¼ cup butter
- 1 teaspoon salt
- ¾ teaspoon dry mustard
- 1½ teaspoons paprika

Snip tips from wings with a kitchen scissors; wash and dry. Melt butter in a heatproof glass baking dish (10 by 6 by 1¾ inches) in a moderate (375 degrees) oven. Stir salt, mustard and paprika into the butter using the flat surface of a small spatula to make smooth. Dip wings in seasoned butter and fit into the same dish in one layer. Bake in the 375-degree oven, turning wings over halfway through baking period, until tender — about 45 minutes. Drain on paper toweling. Makes 3 servings.

Note: Wing tips may be used in making chicken stock.

San Anselmo Parking Plan Needs Redoubled Backing

San Anselmo's ambitious plan for more down-town offstreet parking should not be allowed to die.

As things stand now, the fate of the plan seems to be in balance. It can go either way.

But there is one way it just must not be permitted to go. It must not be allowed to wither and die. It must be made to go the other way. It must be pushed to fruition.

As conceived by the city's parking district committee, working with the engineering firm of Whitlow, Hoffmann and Albritton, the plan would provide more than 450 new off-street parking lots adjacent to the shopping district.

Approximately 350 of the spaces would be in nine lots scattered east of San Anselmo Avenue between San Rafael and Mariposa Avenues.

Another 100-plus spaces would lie west of San Anselmo Avenue in the vicinity of Sir Francis Drake and Center Boulevards.

Backers of the parking district proposal need signatures of owners of at least 51 per cent of the property embraced by the district. These signatures are needed on petitions to bring the matter formally before the city council for hearing and, hopefully, adoption.

To date, the volunteers have obtained about a third of the required signatures and they have found it a slow process since many are not quick to see the advantages. Some of the property in the proposed district is still residential, although immediately adjacent to the business district. Other property involved is absentee-owned, making communication difficult.

At present the fate of the plan—and thereby the future of the San Anselmo shopping district—is in the hands of the leaders of the city's parking district committee leaders: Sid Braverman, Dick Kientz, Al Nipper, Bob Praetzel and Art Kaufman.

We hope for the sake of San Anselmo's future that these men and their committeemen are able to find a way soon to push the signature drive to completion and "get the show on the road."

Dry Year Bad For Deer

We recently talked to a game warden about the return of the deer to our neighborhood and, also, about the reports of starving deer in other parts of Marin.

He pointed out to us that under normal circumstances deer are rather shy creatures who avoid the neighborhood of man, but that this year's shortage of rain has depleted their natural forage and they are hungry and are turning to gardens and/or starving.

This over-population of deer in California is a real headache for conservationists. Some of the more sentimental resist the idea that perhaps more deer should be killed in order to establish a more natural balance. It is an interesting fact that there are more deer around today than in the days when the sturdy Miwok Indians were Marin's sole human inhabitants.

Murphy's Held Likely Winner Of 3-Way GOP Senate Contest

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO (C N S) — With all the argument concerning the candidacies of Alan Cranston, state controller, and Pierre Salinger, erstwhile press runner for the White House, for the Democratic nomination for United States Senator, very little has been said about the Republican candidates for the same office.

At the present time, it looks like George Murphy, Hollywood actor and film executive, will be the Republican nominee for the office.

No one gives whoever is the Republican nominee much chance of winning the November election, but on the other hand, miracles have happened, and the final decision on an election is always known only on the day after the election.

Murphy has succeeded in obtaining support from virtually all of the warring factions within the Republican party. Members of his campaign committee include men and women currently active in the presidential campaigns or hopes of Senator Goldwater, Governor Rockefeller, and Richard Nixon.

Naturally, Murphy is somewhat proud of the fact that support comes from the various factions of the party, despite the fact he is not counting on a hundred per cent from any of them. The other two candidates for the office on the Republican side will still make a showing.

But be that as it may, most observers already have given victory in the primaries to the actor - executive from Hollywood.

Murphy, they state, is the best known of the three candidates, and the best known has the best chance of coming out on top.

In addition, he is neither ultra-right, nor ultra-left for a Republican, which will mitigate to his advantage.

Also, his back-ground in politics gives him additional advantages in campaigning. For the past 25 years, he has been an outstanding spokesman for the party in many circles. He has served as chairman of the Republican state central committee, and has been an official delegate to three national Republican conventions, and served as head of the programming committee in a fourth.

In addition, he has worked with officials in the nation's capitol for more than 20 years. and enjoys personal friendship with many of these officials, who include senators and congressmen. Thus, he is no stranger to the wonderful world of politics at top levels.

He has starred in some 40 motion pictures in Hollywood, and has been an executive in various production operations both in motion pictures and in television, thereby adding business sense to his original activity of acting.

In seeking the U. S. Senatorship, Murphy entered the race with a couple of strikes on him even before the ball game started. The first is the fact that there are more Democrats in California than Republicans. The second is that California tradition always has been that one senator comes from the south, and the other from northern California. Murphy is from Los Angeles. Thus, the odds to start with favor Alan Cranston, as he is the only recognized man from the north. It's anybody's guess as to where Salinger is from, but Virginia is his home address.

THE CYNIC'S CORNER By Interlandi

"It's some silly obsession about reaching middle age and soon becoming a senior citizen!"

10 YEARS AGO

At a meeting of Tamalpais Union High School District board jammed by 100 citizens, Clay Graham, president of the Marin Taxpayers Assn., proposed formation of a Citizens Committee on Public Schools. At issue was a proposed third Tam District high school in Larkspur.

John C. Oglesby of Greenbrae, San Rafael civil engineer and Marin County surveyor, was elected president of the San Rafael Rotary Club.

School Building Costs Can Be Reasonable

Editor, Independent-Journal:

In your perceptive editorial of November 6, 1963, the Independent-Journal urged the necessity of exploring new ways of building functional, yet economical public school buildings.

You should be commended for your admonition in this regard. As a Marin County school administrator I well appreciate the considerable investment all of us are making to provide for our ever increasing school-age population. As your newspaper well noted, we all must be persistent in supporting the need for sufficient classroom space and in providing these classrooms for as little cost to the taxpayer as possible.

I believe the school superintendents in Marin County are doing their part. To support this contention I submit the following comparative costs of the two most recent school projects in the Reed Union School District. (These are presented because they are the ones in which I am the most knowledgeable and which, because of their recent construction, are the most newsworthy.)

The Del Mar Community Intermediate School (just completed):

Total number of square feet for all building units, 43,377.

Total contractual cost for all building units, $586,200.00.

Cost per square foot, $13.52.

State square footage ceiling for school building projects of this type, $15.50.

State square foot average for like school buildings last year, $14.25.

Notwithstanding its below average cost, this building provides the Reed School community with the first really complete intermediate (Grade 7-8) school in Marin County, which it should be since it is the most recently completed. In addition to 14 regular classrooms, the following special rooms and facilities are provided:

Three science laboratories, foreign language laboratory, art room, multi-purpose auditorium and gymnasium with showers and lockers, manual arts room, home economics room, reading laboratory, library, administrative offices, curriculum laboratory and a music center convertible to a lecture-music hall and little theatre.

Beyond this, the school is flexibly designed to permit both large and small group instruction with folding partitions provided between rooms to permit the adjustment in the size of the teaching areas. Team Planning Centers for the Humanities, Exact Science and other teaching teams working in the building, are also provided. Finally, the building includes many features to encourage its use by the community for a great variety of educational, recreational, and other purposes around the clock.

The Granada Elementary School (construction just beginning):

Number of square feet in first increment, 16,990.

Total contractual cost for first increment, $235,500.00

Cost per square foot, $14.00.

State square footage ceiling for this project, $14.80.

State square average for buildings of this type, $14.75.

Not withstanding the fact that this project will also be built at below average cost, this school has already been cited by many educational authorities as being "a school of the future." Two grants from the Educational Facilities Laboratories, Ford Foundation, have been received to help plan this building in such a way that it will truly be an imaginative, flexible, functional yet inexpensive facility.

The building has been specially designed to facilitate any type of teaching method and organizational pattern but is specially well suited for the team teaching and non-graded patterns which are likely to be used by the staff, which is currently going through a six months' training program to organize a school program.

One other note of interest. The last elementary school facility completed in the Reed Union School District was the Bel Aire School, completed in 1960 at an average square foot cost of $14.02, or two cents higher than the Granada Elementary School to be completed some four years later. In the meantime, it is estimated by some that construction costs have risen as much as 40 per cent. This would indicate that school buildings in Marin County are not only being built at below average cost but also, are being built less expensively by comparison because of inflationary factors.

Thanks to the hard work, imagination, and careful supervision of the district architects, educational staffs and Boards of Trustees, Marin County can be justifiably proud of its school building program, not only because of the important aesthetically pleasing features and educational functionality, but equally important, because of their low cost.

Science Lecture Coverage Praised

Editor, Independent-Journal:

I would like to express my appreciation for what I consider an excellent reportage on a recent science lecture. On the evening of May 13, Dr. Robert Stebbins of the University of California lectured on the recent expedition to the Galapagos Islands at the Marin County Civic Center. The lecture was sponsored by the Louise Boyd Natural Science Museum.

The article describing the lecture which appeared in the May 14 issue of the Independent-Journal was an excellent example of authentic, meaningful, and clear reportage of a scientific talk, a phenomenon which is regrettably rare. Dr. Stebbins is a very lucid speaker, capable of developing broad, meaningful concepts, and presenting them successfully to the audience in his talks. Your reporter was careful to preserve these overall meanings, while still creating considerable human interest. Most of the facts in his article were accurately transcribed.

Both the I-J and the abovementioned reporter are to be commended for presenting this type of worthwhile transcription of the public.

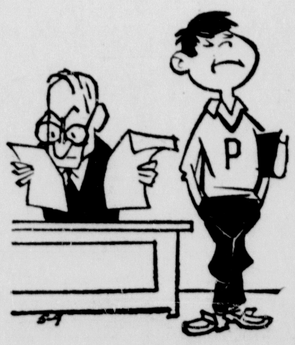
TRY AND STOP ME

BENNETT CERF

AN INSTRUCTOR at the University of Pennsylvania stopped a rather shifty-eyed Freshman after a literature class one day to ask, "Did you write this poem that you submitted Wednesday yourself?" "Yes, I did," answered the student modestly. "Every line of it." The instructor patted him lightly on the back and commented, "I'm very glad to meet you, Edgar Allan Poe. I thought you had died long ago."

TWO DARLING old ladies were having lunch in the dining room of a residential hotel. "I've forgotten the name of it," one of them told the waitress, "but we both want one of those appetizers my nephew bought me here last week. In a little glass you get a green olive, covered by a perfectly delightful clear white sauce."



OVERHEARD:

In a butcher shop: Customer: Give me a dollar's worth of steak. Butcher: You said a mouthful.

At Rockingham Race Track: One race horse to another: I don't remember your name but your pace is familiar.

One wedded lady to another: Fortunately, my husband and I like the same thing—only he likes to save it and I like to spend it.

ROSCOE DRUMMOND

Large Percentage Of Undecided California Voters Helps Rocky

WASHINGTON — A wholly new set of political factors now puts a quite different complexion on the California primary contest for the Republican nomination.

The new factors, which Gov. Rockefeller's decisive victory and Sen. Goldwater's poor showing in Oregon make clearly visible, are these:

1—The undecided vote, which upset the pro-Lodge forecast of the pollsters, was substantalily pro-Rockefeller. The evidence is that at least 20 per cent of the California Republicans are undecided today.

2—The fact that Rockefeller came from behind in Oregon and in the end ran way ahead of the whole field —with Mr. Goldwater narrowly beating out Richard Nixon for third place—indicates that the New York Governor is very much in the race in California.

3—Mr. Rockefeller's greatest political handicap — his divorce and remarriage—appears to be fading in the minds of voters as a bar to his nomination. It certainly faded in Oregon where he not only overran the popular Henry Cabot Lodge, but received nearly twice as many votes as Goldwater. There would be no reason to expect that the divorce-and-remarriage issue would be any greater barrier in California than in Oregon, perhaps less.

4—The Lodge defeat in Oregon will almost certainly help Rockefeller in California. Many figure that Ambassador Lodge is now out of the running and that his supporters in California will in considerable number come in behind Rockefeller on June 2.

Sen. Goldwater attributes his defeat in Oregon to the fact that he did not have time to campaign there very much. But Ambassador Lodge, tied down in Saigon, did not campaign at all and he came in a strong second with 26 per cent of the vote to Rockefellers' 33 per cent. Nixon never showed in Oregon, did not campaign, and he got nearly as many votes as Goldwater.

PERHAPS THE MOST significant aspect of the Rockefeller triumph in Oregon is that he ran outstandingly well in those areas where the Republican nominee would have to make a good showing if he is to have any chance of defeating President Johnson in the election—that is, in the larger cities and suburbs. It was in the larger cities and suburbs where President Kennedy built the majorities which defeated Nixon. Of the 40 cities over 300,000, Kennedy carried 26, Nixon only 14.

In Oregon the Rockefeller vote cut across all economic and social levels and ethnic groups. His strength was evident among professional men and business executives.

From the standpoint of the pollsters, the Oregon voters were unruly and independent. Several weeks ago the polls showed Lodge commandingly in the lead and while the final Harris poll showed Lodge slipping, it still put him well ahead.

BUT SINCE THE polling did not continue into the final days of the campaign, it did not catch up with the shifting sentiment of the independent and undecided voters.

The evidence is that there is a higher percentage of undecided voters in California than in Oregon and this is one of the principal reasons why, despite Mr. Goldwater's present lead, the Oregon results may be a forecast of what is ahead in California.

THE ALLEN-SCOTT REPORT

Is Bobby Lining Up With 'Youth Revolt?'

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON—Atty. Gen. Robert Kennedy has made his first far-reaching political commitment since the assassination of his brother.

He has decided to go after the leadership of what is known in U.S. intelligence quarters as "the revolution of youth" that is flaring excitedly throughout the world.

Already young Kennedy has begun to align himself and his political future with the "revolutionary" aims of the youthful leaders of Africa, Asia and Latin America, who represent a wide range of ideologies.

According to Justice Department aides, the young attorney general's position will follow that outlined in a little-publicized speech delivered in Toronto, Canada, in which he urged support for these youthful revolutionary leaders, as follows:

"WE MUST RECOGNIZE that the young in many areas of the world today are in the midst of a revolution against the status quo. Their anger is turned on the system which has allowed poverty, illiteracy and oppression to flourish for centuries.

"And we must recognize one central fact: They will prevail. . . . If they have to pull governments tumbling down over their heads, they will do it. But they are going to win a share of the new world.

"This affects us: Canada and the U.S., and you and me.

"We, in turn, are part of their revolution. . . . If this means that the future is perilous, I must admit that I think it is."

As proposed by Kennedy in this Canadian trial balloon, he will call for U.S. government support for such controversial revolutionary leaders as:

Kenneth Kaunda, 39, head of the Northern Rhodesian Nationalist Movement, and a known pro-Soviet Marxist; Oskar Kambona, 32, left-leaning foreign minister of Tanganyika; Jonas Savimbi, 30, Angolan exile leader, who has secret Russian ties; Sekou Toure, 38, president of Guinea and an avowed Marxist; Tom Mboya, 34, minister of justice in Kenya, and Rufino Heckonova, 33, left-leaning Philippines minister of finance.

Kennedy will disclose plans to contact these young "revolutionary" leaders by inviting a number of them to visit him in Washington before the November elections.

THIS SIGNIFICANT Kennedy decision comes at a time when Premier Nikita Khrushchev is launching a world-wide campaign to incite Western youth against their systems of government and social orders, including that of the U. S.

In private testimony before the House appropriations subcommittee in charge of his budget, FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover warned that Russia is in the process of setting up a Communist - oriented youth movement within the U. S. and other Western nations.

HE REVEALED THAT the Reds are planning to call a national youth conference in Chicago next month to enlist college students, unemployed youths and Negroes in the new organization.

The objective of this new Communist organization, Hoover asserted, is riots in major cities during civil rights demonstrations and to "pull governments tumbling down over their heads."

'Blind' Parking Meters May Soon Be Costing Sausalito Car Owners

THE DAY OF BEATING the parking meter, if not here, is close at hand.

Technology is going to thwart the thrifty driver who saves his pennies by scooting into parking spaces where unused time is available on the meter.

This new weapon in the war of man versus parking meter is known as a "blind" meter, and City Mgr. Charles A. Brown of Sausalito thinks it would be just dandy to have some installed in Parking Lot No. 1, known as the Village Fair parking lot.

WHEN TIME IS LEFT on such a meter, it will simply register "Valid," without indicating whether five minutes or an hour remain on the meter.

In city manager language, Brown said: "It will prevent the utilization of time paid for by a previous occupant of the space."

In less polite terms, persons who cash in on another man's nickel have been called "meter cheaters."

THERE IS NO DOUBT that the "blind" meters would raise the city's revenues, but they also would raise the blood pressure of drivers who have been parking on free time.

Such meters, of course, will change the folklore of parking meters. Shoppers who now run out of stores saying: "I've only got five minutes left on my meter," will be saying: "I'm down to the 'D' on my valid."

Let all freeloaders be warned, it will be Russian roulette time at the parking lot.

FOR THOSE WHO FEEL that cities can get open, competitive bids on all its jobs without any problems, the City of Fairfax has a poser. Councilmen preparing to hire a firm to audit the city's books thought it might be a good idea to have several auditing firms bid on the job.

City Clerk Alice Leonesio then explained that this would not necessarily result in a lower bid.

The firms bidding want to know what work is entailed and in studying the job they get a peek at the city's books, she explained.

While peeking, they learn what the city paid for an auditor before, and for some strange reason they don't bid less.

Redwood Coast Meeting Friday

A capacity crowd is expected for Friday's meeting of the Redwood Empire Assn.'s Shoreline Highway Unit at Point Arena.

The session was called by REA President Robert A. Trombetta to cope with anticipated problems of growth on the awakening Redwood Coast.

An estimated 150 persons will attend an all-day conference. State engineers, area developers and local interests will unveil forecasts and express their views.

Schoolchildren Want to Pray At Time For Tests, Report Card

WASHINGTON — The Congressional hearings concerning the "prayer in school" issue have been going on now for several weeks and will probably continue right into the summer.

Hundreds of witnesses have demanded to testify in front of Congressmen Celler's committee and there has been a great deal of passion at the hearings.

It seems to us that a compromise should be found between the forces who "want to put God back in school" and those who are defending the First Amendment of the Constitution which guarantees the separation of church and state.

WE'VE STUDIED the question not only from a Constitutional point of view but from a practical one and these are our findings.

We found that school children do not want to pray all the time. They pray only when the spirit moves them.

In discussing prayer with children, one student told us, "I only pray in school so I won't get hell at home."

Another student said, "I always ask God to help me when I haven't done my homework."

"Does it work?" we asked him.

"It worked once. He made my regular teacher sick and the substitute didn't ask for our papers."

A teacher told us that she discovered over the years that the children who prayed the most in school were those who did the least studying at home.

"I find those students who watch television the most are the same ones who are always calling for help from the Deity the next morning."

A young girl said, "I think kids should be allowed to pray before a test."

ANOTHER YOUNG LADY said, "There are no atheists when report cards come out."

Many students do not think much about God until their school is playing the big game of the year against an arch-rival. Then, while the ball is on the two-yard line and the other team has four downs to score in, all eyes go up to the heavens imploring the Almighty to "hold that line."

In a community recently, a test was given to see if prayer had any effect on the students. Half the class used prayer and the other half used another brand. It was discovered that the half that used prayer had far less cavities and were happier than those who didn't pray.

BUT THE MAIN point we're trying to make is that the pro-prayer people want prayers every morning while the anti-prayer people want no prayers at all in school. No one has come up with "Selective Praying." Why not let children pray only before tests, when report cards are due, and when promotion time comes around? This is when they need it the most.

They're going to do it anyway, and it's better to have them pray openly in class than sneak into the locker room or into the washroom for a quick prayer where no one will see them.

California Course Registration Set

Registration for a five-day course entitled "California — Present and Prospect" to be given at Dominican College in San Rafael June 15-19 will be taken until the class is filled.

Problems and issues facing the state including agricultural labor, its role in foreign trade, the impact of automation on its economy, consumer problems, politics, natural resources, social problems and the arts will be discussed during the course.

Today is Wednesday, May 20, the 141st day of 1964 with 225 to follow.

The moon is approaching its full phase. The morning star is Saturn. The evening star is Venus.

On this day in history:

In 1506, Christopher Columbus died in Spain.

In 1862, President Abraham Lincoln signed into law the Homestead Act, providing 250 million acres of free land to settlers in the West.

In 1902, Cuba became a republic as American occupation came to an end.

In 1963, the Supreme Court approved sit-in demonstrations. Birmingham, Ala., schools suspended or expelled 1,000 Negroes who participated in sit-ins.

A thought for the day — Author Anne Morrow Lindbergh said: "Rivers perhaps are the only physical features of the world that are at their best from the air."

TIME AND TIDE

Department of Commerce, United States Coast Geodetic Survey. Western District headquarters. Times and heights of tides at San Francisco (Golden Gate):

The column of heights gives the elevation in feet of each tide above or below the plane of Coast Survey chart soundings. The depths are always additive to the chart depths unless preceded by a minus sign (-), when the numbers are subtracted from the depth given in the chart. Lightface type indicates a.m. times; bold-face type indicates p.m. times.

HOW TO PLAY

WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Reliable Opponent Better Than Partner When Playing Bridge

When you say your prayers before going to sleep, don't ask for a reliable bridge partner; ask for reliable opponents.

If you use them wisely you can get more help from two opponents than from one partner.

Opening lead — ♠ 2

There's no problem about making four hearts, so don't look for one. The question is whether you can make an overtrick.

DON'T WORRY

Don't complain that you play rubber bridge and don't worry about overtricks.

When both sides are vulnerable and the score is tied, you will get an extra hundred points for making five hearts instead of just four. An extra hundred points is worth playing for.

When this hand was played East won the first trick with the ten of spades and fired back the eight of diamonds. Now, it happened that East was a very reliable gent; if he led the eight of a suit, he had nothing at the top of the suit.

RELIES ON LEAD

South decided to rely on the lead. This would mean nothing if South were an unskillful player; he would still lose a spade, a trump, and a diamond.

But South was Walter Jacobs, for many years president of the leading automobile renting company and also one of the earliest Life Masters of the American Contract Bridge League.

Jacobs took the ace of diamonds, cashed the top clubs and ruffed a club in dummy.

TOOK ACE

Then he took the ace of spades and the king of diamonds. With the stage thus set, he led a trump and let East take his trick.

Poor East was sorry he hadn't taken his ace of trumps at the second trick. Now he had to lead a spade or a club, and either lead would allow dummy to ruff while South got rid of his losing diamond.

It doesn't pay to be too reliable. Also, it doesn't pay to leave a singleton ace in your hand.

QUESTION

Partner opens with one spade, and the next player jumps to three diamonds (weak jump overcall).

You hold:

♠ Q J 10 8 3
♥ A
♦ 8 2
♣ Q J 9 8 3

What do you say?

Answer: Bid four spades.

You would have to bid three spades with a much weaker hand; for example with a singleton low heart instead of the ace. The jump shows that you have full values.

Yugoslavian Envoy Will Talk In Marin

Milovoj Catipovic, Yugoslav consul general in San Francisco, will talk about Yugoslavia's internal development and foreign relations at Harlan Hall, College of Marin, at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow.

Catipovic's talk will be the first of the series, "Conversations With the Consuls: the New Europe," open to the public at the college without admittance charge.

During World War II, Catipovic fought with Yugoslav guerrillas against the German Army. He was director of the Historical Institute in Belgrade before joining the Yugoslav foreign service.

Auditorium Spending Approved

The Marin County Board of Supervisors yesterday agreed on a five-year spending program to build a civic auditorium on the fairgrounds near the Civic Center.

The board also told architect Aaron Green to start work on plans for the building, to be opened Sept. 30, 1967.

Total cost of the project, Auditor - Controller Michael Mitchell told the board, would be $1,660,000, including $925,000 raised within Marin County and $735,000 in state parimutuel funds. The county must still gain formal approval from the State Division of Fairs and Expositions.

W. P. Duhamel, speaking for the veterans' committee which has worked for the project, said that by borrowing money, possibly from funds for the second phase of the Civic Center, the project could be finished a year earlier.

The building, as suggested by Public Works Director Donald R. Frost, would be a flat-floored structure containing 40,000 square feet and suitable for performing arts or conventions. Exact location of the structure has not yet been decided.

TO APPEAR WITH CHOIR—Duo-pianists Anne de Cook (left) and Anne Kluksdahl will appear with the men's choir of San Francisco Theological Seminary and the Marin Pro Musica in a concert at 8 p.m. Friday at the First Presbyterian Church in San Anselmo.

Seminary's Choir Appearance Slated

The men's choir of the San Francisco Theological Seminary, which has been touring the West Coast, will make its only Marin County appearance this season in a free public concert at 8 p.m. Friday at the First Presbyterian Church in San Anselmo.

Marin Pro Musica will join the 20-voice choir, as well as a string ensemble and duo pianists Anne De Cook and Anne Kluksdahl, in a program of sacred and secular music ranging from the 16th to the 20th century.

Highlight of the program will be the West Coast premiere of Robert Schumann's "Spanishe Liebeslieder," Opus 138. Written for voices and four hands at one piano, the work was lost in 1885 and was rediscovered only last year, when it was performed in New York. It is light music and has nothing of the flavor of Spain despite its title.

The program will also memorialize the late Paul Hindemith by the performance of his "Six Chansons" on the poems of Rainer Maria Rilke.

The men's choir and Marin Pro Musica are directed by Wilbur F. Russell, head of the department of sacred music at the seminary.

Marin Student Exchange With Germany Is Planned

A summer exchange program next month will place a Marin County high school student with a family in Wolfburg, Germany, for seven weeks, while in his or her place will be a German student who will stay at the American youth's home.

The program is part of an extensive vacation time exchange arranged by Volkswagen of America, and is sponsored in Marin by San Rafael Volkswagen dealer Leon C. Felton and Reynold C. Johnson Co., the area distributor.

Candidates from all Marin high schools are eligible. They must be age fifteen or sixteen, have a B average, one year of high school left, and parents who would be willing to accept a German youth in their home for the summer. A limited knowledge of German is desirable but not essential.

A committee under direction of Virgil S. Hollis, county superintendent of schools, will screen the applicants. Candidates for the trip may check with their high school counselors for application forms. The final selection will be made June 1.

The successful applicant will travel to and from Europe with students from other areas under the guidance of Volkswagen personnel. No traveling expenses are involved and parents in each home will assume whatever costs normally arise with their own youngsters during the visit.

American youths are scheduled to depart for Germany on June 15 and return Aug. 18, with an opportunity to visit the New York World's Fair en route. German youths will leave 15 days later, so there will be an overlapping "get acquainted" period in each home for exchanged couples.

Duties Of Coroner Expanded By Board

The county board of supervisors yesterday expanded the title of Coroner-Public Administrator Frank J. Keaton to coroner-public administrator-public guardian.

Keaton took the added job, but with some reluctance, after he was told he could not hire outside counsel for persons receiving guardianship.

Keaton said such a provision to use outside attorneys would not cost the county money because in most cases the attorneys would receive no fee. However, he added, an expected change in state law might make fees to the attorneys possible.

Asst. County Administrator John F. Barrows noted that the county counsel has provided legal advice in the past and agrees to continue.

The public guardian has been Public Defender Peter Allen Smith, who asked to be relieved of the post, saying the duties were closer to those of the public administrator.

Smith has been receiving $50 a month for the post. The job is expected to be incorporated into Keaton's office with an annual cost of $400.

Negro Is Named To Medic Board

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—A Negro physician was appointed to the State Board of Medical Examiners by Gov. Edmund G. Brown today.

The governor named Dr. Leroy R. Weekes of Los Angeles to replace Dr. Herman Weiss of Los Angeles, whose term expired.

The 51-year-old Weekes is a veteran of World War II. He is married and the father of six children.

"Dr. Weekes is a distinguished physician and gynecologist whose achievements in medicine and in his life as a citizen have been recognized with such honors as the Urban League Achievement Award," Brown said in a statement.

The governor also reappointed Dr. Francis E. West of San Diego to the board.

SUSAN C. DONATI
Receives scholarship

Dominican Girl Wins

Susan C. Donati, 19, a sophomore at Dominican College in San Rafael, is one of three Northern California winners of $750 scholarships awarded by Schenley Wholesalers Foundations Inc.

Susan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Donati of 101 La Cuesta Drive, Greenbrae, is majoring in political science. She is planning to attend Stanford University in Palo Alto this fall.

She received the award, sponsored in this area by the Julliard Alpha Co., Schenley distributor in San Francisco, on the basis of her entire scholastic record which includes four years as an honor student at Marin Catholic High School.

Booster Group Financial Cut Recommended

County Administrator Alan Bruce yesterday suggested the board of supervisors should take some of the financial props away from chambers of commerce and other booster groups in Marin.

This year, the county gave $34,000 to chambers of commerce to support their business promotion activities. Under the plan recommended by Bruce in his 1964-65 budget message, the county would give $7,000 to the chambers, and it would be distributed by the Marin County Development Assn.

Bruce also recommended that the Marin County Visitors' Bureau be given $2,200 next year to support such events as Novato's Western Weekend and the West Marin Junior Livestock Show.

The development association itself would receive $20,000 as requested. This is $5,000 below this year's allocation.

Also in the budget presented to supervisors today is $4,000 to the Boyd Natural Science Museum. This year it received $5,000 from the county. The Marin Visitors' Bureau itself would get $12,000 compared with the $15,000 it asked, and the Shakespeare Festival would get nothing. This year it received $1,000, but there was no request for next fiscal year.

The Symphony Guild of Marin asked $3,500 but would get $1,000, the same as this year, if Bruce has his way. Also the San Francisco Bay Area Council would get $500, the same as this year, rather than the $1,000 requested.

The U.S. Office of Education estimates that nearly a million youths drop out of elementary and secondary schools each year.

ADMIRING PAINTING

Admiring a painting in the Corte Madera Center arcade are Virginia Patricks, manager of Luana's, and weekend artist, Louis Malvino, a partner in Louis George, Fine Men's Apparel.

Outdoor Art Show Slated For Center

Avante Garde Works Will Be On Exhibition

An outdoor art show of avante garde paintings and sculptures by Marin County artists will be held in the mall of the Corte Madera Shopping center tomorrow, Friday and Saturday.

The format of the third annual art show at the shopping center has been changed this year. Formerly, members of the Marin Society of Artists have been invited to show their works at the show.

This year the show has been opened up to take in works of some of the county's more avante garde painters.

Frank Milner of Tiburon, who was invited by the center's merchants council to arrange the show, said, "It is the first time on this side of the bay that businessmen have given us carte blanche in having our paintings shown. It takes guts."

"There is a body of painters in Marin who feel that their works should be shown in the county and not only in San Francisco museums. It is the avant garde versus the Sunday afternoon painters," Milner said.

Popular vote will determine the winner of a $100 prize. The exhibiting artists will determine the winner of two $200 prizes offered by the merchants.

Milner said the unusual method of having exhibiting artists determine the prize winners from among themselves was done to "free the show from any possibility of rigging."

About 80 paintings and pieces of sculpture will be on display. The artists include Jean Varda, Serge Trubach, Harry Crotty, Ray and Miriam Rice, Gay Davenport, Art Grant, Myra Cabella and Milner, who teaches painting in adult education classes at the College of Marin.

FINISHING TOUCH

George Campanella, partner in Louis George, Fine Men's Apparel, puts finishing trowel work to waterfall at new location at 30 Corte Madera Center.

New Insurance Provides Blood

DALLAS (UPI)—The Wadley Blood Bank is offering a new type of "insurance" to provide all the blood a person's family might need for medical purposes, such as transfusions during surgery.

It costs $1 a year for a family to belong, with the added requirement that no more than once a year a member may be called upon to donate one pint of blood, or get someone to donate it for him.

The donation requirement can be waived if the insured person wants to pay $30 instead.

Chattering Prisoner Confounds Matron

LINCOLN, Neb. (AP) — A female prisoner in the Lincoln city jail started talking to herself to pass the time. Then she began to answer her own questions.

The chattering was so realistic the police matron unthinkingly brought her two dinners.

Sun Governs Gifts

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP) — The Key West Citizen has announced plans to donate $10 to the local public library on every day when the sun fails to shine here. The Citizen is the southernmost newspaper in the continental United States.

Hospital Costs Reported Soaring

NEW YORK (UPI) — Payroll boosts and the cost of new medical techniques and equipment are pushing up the expense of hospitalization, says the Health Insurance Institute.

The Institute said the average expense per patient day in non-federal, short-term general and other special hospitals in the United States in 1952 was $18.35.

By the end of 1962, this had risen to $36.83. According to American Hospital Assn. figures, the Institute said, this average expense went up to $39.33 last year and appears to be rising this year.

Invasion Of Antarctica Is Over As Man Conquers Last Continent

McMURDO STATION, Antarctica (UPI) — The invasion of Antarctica is over. Man has occupied the last continent on earth, wresting it from the grasp of a furious mother nature whose awesome powers kept this vast land mass devoid of human life for at least 135 million years.

The final assault of this white continent began on July 1, 1957, start of the International Geophysical Year, when 12 nations pooled their scientific knowledge to establish permanent stations on this 5.5 million square miles of land mostly buried beneath at least a mile of steel hardened ice.

Little more than 50 years ago, a few men gambled their lives against raging snow blizzards, 100-knot winds and temperatures known to plunge 100 degrees below zero just to see the Antarctic.

As recently as 1957, the trip from the United States to Antarctica took 54 days aboard bouncing ice breakers which had to grind their way through rigid frozen seas.

Today Americans come to the ice-bound continent on planes which can make the trip from New York in 44 hours and from New Zealand in as little as seven hours.

This summer, according to Rear Adm. James R. Reedy, commander of U.S. Naval Support Forces, Antarctica, some 3,000 men from a dozen nations live at more than 40 outposts, field bases and permanent stations across the length and breadth of this land.

Most men come here for the Antarctic summer, a period of daylight lasting from October to March. At least 20 per cent volunteer to winter over during the dark days when transportation between Antarctica and the rest of the world ends for six months because of the forbidding climate.

Even communications break down during the winter period because of magnetic storms and other natural phenomena.

McMurdo Station is the American beachhead of Antarctica. The Navy's logistic base is the largest outpost of civilization on the continent.

More than 1,000 servicemen and scientists live here in the summer months; some 250 men remain here all year.

The station, located on the Cape Armitage tip of Ross Island, is built on volcanic ash not unlike the earth found in Hawaii. It lies in the shadow of smoldering Mt. Erubus, Antarctica's only active volcano, and it overlooks the frozen bay ice of McMurdo Sound.

In the distance is the stunning Royal Society Range. The cold blue, ice-covered mountains topped by white frostings of frozen snow leave even the most cynical sailors struck by their majestic beauty.

"It is more beautiful than anything at home," admitted scientist Bernard Spoerli, Baden, Switzerland, who is on a reasearch project in Antarctica with the University of Minnesota.

Air transportation to all U.S. stations in Antarctica begins from new Williams Field, a runway carved out of the 70-feet-thick ice on McMurdo Sound.

The reason for the "new" Williams Field is that the old one is drifting off to sea. Each summer the bay ice breaks and moves slowly seaward. When Williams Field drifted four miles south, it was abandoned and a new runway scraped in the ice.

McMurdo Station is connected to the nearest point of civilization, Christchurch, New Zealand, 2,130 miles away, by one of the most hazardous air routes in the world.

There are no alternate landing fields for U.S. planes making the daily runs, meteorological reports are scanty, the planes can't carry enough fuel for a round trip non-stop flight and the unpredictable Antarctic weather can keep a plane from landing after it arrives at its destination.

Memento Turns Up In Mysterious Way

SWEETWATER, Tex. (UPI)—Of all the honors and orders in the world, nobody wants the "Order of the White Fang."

It is presented annually to anyone who gets bitten during the annual rattlesnake roundup. Four persons have qualified in the last six years.

Automation Met With A Solution

CROCKETT (UPI)—Union and management officials at the California and Hawaiian Co. plant, one of the largest sugar refineries in the United States, think they are approaching a solution to a major industrial problem: automation.

Under an agreement signed recently by both sides, the company will offer a 62-year-old worker the chance to retire with a monthly pension $100 higher than that available at 65, if an automating device necessitates the elimination of a job in the plant.

The retiring worker must have 30 years of service to his credit.

Historic Figure Assists Computer

ASHEVILLE, N.C. (UPI)—Weather reports prepared 190 years ago by Thomas Jefferson are being fed into a giant computer at the U.S. Weather Records Center here, to predict everything from the "freeze date" of grapefruit groves to the best time to turn on your air conditioner.

It doesn't matter, however, to the Honeywell computer if the information was gathered by Jefferson or the latest "eye-in-the-sky" weather satellite; the millions of reports it has on hand make it possible to accurately determine average weather conditions and probabilities at nearly any spot on the globe.

Racy Movie Watchers Don't Get Hungry?

HOUSTON (UPI)—Augie Schmitz, head of the Houston Popcorn and Supply Co., says popcorn and sex do not mix. Schmitz said although adults-only movies still sell a good amount of popcorn, the youngsters remain the best popcorn consumers.

Church Center Serves As Window Into U.N.

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UPI) — Across the street from United Nations headquarters is a massive stained glass window depicting man's struggle for peace and brotherhood.

The window, created from thousands of faceted chunks of glass, is the hallmark of an unusual new religious institution called the Church Center for the United Nations.

This $3 million, 12-story building was conceived and designed as a focal point of Christian education in international relations. It will serve as a "Classroom Window" on the U.N. for churches and church members throughout the United States and the world.

The center, opened in September, was initiated by the Methodist Church in 1961 with the idea that its facilities would be available to all church bodies wishing to share the work. Its ecumenical programming is carried out by the National Council of Churches through its Department of International Affairs.

The center will be a "constant Christian witness at the crossroads of the world," says Rev. Dr. Kenneth L. Maxwell, the department's executive director.

The National Council comprises 33 constituent communions in the United States.

The center's basic program is designed to give both laymen and clergymen first-hand experience at the U.N. The seminar program includes tours of U.N. buildings, attendance at U.N. sessions, and briefings by U.N. personnel and American and foreign diplomats.

Another purpose is to orient overseas-bound missionaries on conditions they face in various countries, and to provide a "home away from home" for foreign churchmen visiting the U.N. and New York.

Occupying most of the ground floor is a $100,000 chapel open to all persons in conjunction with the center's pastoral ministry.

"Our aim is to foster increasing knowledge and support of the U.N. throughout the church public of the country," says Ernest L. Inwood, director of the center's program.

He explains that "the churches are embarking on this co-operative venture because U.N. objectives are basically Christian objectives."

U.N. Secretary General Thant, at the dedication of the center, said that many provisions in the U.N. charter conform to the tenets of all great religions.

"Your building," said Thant, a Buddhist, to center officials, ". . . will serve as a timely and constant reminder of the need to strive for the realization of spiritual as well as of material values."

The center's facilities include several floors of offices for rental by church and affiliated organizations, 12 conference rooms with direct audio lines to U.N. conference rooms, the Dag Hammarskjold lounge named as a memorial to the late U.N. Secretary General, and a library with materials on church and U.N. activities.

New Jersey Leaves $3,000 Worth Of Gold Unguarded

TRENTON, N.J. (UPI) — The state of New Jersey has 1,200 square feet of 24-carat gold leaf worth $3,000 reposing out in the open air here — and there's not a guard in sight.

The state's not worried about thievery, since the glittering pile caps the statehouse building as one of New Jersey's most famous landmarks, the Golden Dome.

The dome was built in 1889 as part of the replacement for the statehouse front destroyed by fire on March 21, 1885.

The new front and the old undamaged part of the statehouse were connected with the rotunda, 39 feet in diameter, which is topped by the dome.

It is uncertain who ordered the dome to be gold-leafed and who did the original work. Work on the dome itself appears to have been finished in April, 1891. It was not disturbed until 1953.

That year, as part of a general renovation of the statehouse, it was decided to replate the dome, which had lost most of its lustre.

Bids were asked for the work, but all by far exceeded the $15,000 appropriation. So state workmen, under direction of statehouse custodian Harry S. Walsh, undertook the job.

Entering the dome by way of a small attic door outside the rotunda, the men found a copy of the Daily True American, dated April 13, 1891, apparently left by workers.

The newspaper is evidence the original gold-leafing lasted almost half a century until 1953.

The dome renovation was begun in 1953 by a state crew, one steeplejack, one professional artist and an outside firm, Hastings Gold Leaf Co., to give expert advice and prepare the leaf.

The entire surface of the dome was scraped with machines resembling small vacuum cleaners the workers invented to enable the state to salvage almost $400 worth of the original gold.

The outside renovation, including the copper base, cost $8,000 and an additional $7,000 was spent redecorating the inside rotunda. Murals were painted by the late New Jersey artist Edward R. Burke for $1,200.

The dome is expected to last 25 to 30 years before needing another alteration. This longevity, according to the custodial staff, is due to the gold leaf being just as practical as ornamental. Experts say on outside, weather-exposed areas, it is superior to most other metals for resisting the elements.
